

FORGERY CHARGE IGNORED

IN POLICE COURT

Offenders Fined for Assault, Larceny and Other Offences

Joseph Ciesla was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault with a knife on John Zeyno, found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $10. As a general rule a heavy fine is imposed when a defendant is found guilty of using a knife on another person, but in this particular case the court was of the opinion that the complaint was the aggressor.

According to what was brought out in the testimony offered by the government's witnesses Ciesla and Zeyno had been drinking on the evening of January 14th, and about eight o'clock entered a saloon in Central street where both ordered drinks. One of the bartenders served Zeyno with a drink but refused to give any to Ciesla, claiming that the latter was under the influence of liquor.

Ciesla then became abusive and upon refusing to leave the place was put out through a back door. Zeyno went out through the front door and soon met Ciesla. Some words were passed and Zeyno started to throw a bottle at Ciesla, whereupon the latter turned on him and struck him two or three times in the neck with a pocket knife.

Zeyno said he had done nothing to cause the defendant to assault him, but his testimony was not consistent with that of others who claimed that he was assaulting Ciesla and had thrown him to the ground before Ciesla drew the knife.

Michael O'Hare and Melvin Orelli, who saw the battle, said that Zeyno seemed to be the aggressor.

Patrolman Francis H. Moore testified to finding Ciesla at his home in George street. The man was very much under the influence of liquor at the time and a search of his clothing resulted in the finding of a blood stained knife in his pocket.

Lamarcho and Lane Guilty

The cases of Frederick Lamarcho and John Lane, charged with the larceny of three furs from an unknown person, which have been continued from time to time during the past two weeks, were called this morning, and the court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $15.

Sent to Reformatory

Frank M. Silva was charged with the larceny of a pair of gloves and an overcoat, the property of Thomas Bohannan, admitted he stole the coat, but denied he took the gloves. He was found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Monday Silva entered the hallway of a boarding house in Webster street and taking a coat of a mail went to a wood-yard in Jackson street where he sold the garment for a dollar. The matter was reported to the police and yesterday Silva was placed under arrest. Silva belongs in Fall River and has been in Lowell but a short time. He was before the court a couple of months ago and was convicted of larceny and being unable to pay the fine imposed was sent to jail. He was released last Friday.

Wife is Afraid of Husband
Thomas P. Sheehan was charged with being drunk and admitted that he had been drinking rather freely yesterday. His wife testified that he had been abusive. The court found him guilty, imposed a fine of $2 and ordered him to furnish $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Other Offenders
Frank P. Donahue was found guilty of being drunk and sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Patrick C. Mitchell was fined $6, and one first offender was fined $2.

Larceny of a Watch
A man named McDermott was arrested this morning by Corporation Officer E. J. Noyes on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a watch last August. It is alleged that McDermott was employed at the Lowell Blacksmith and stole the watch from the pocket of a fellow employee. Evidently the man left Lowell after the alleged larceny for the police were unable to learn of his whereabouts until this morning. He was arraigned in police court this morning, but the case was continued until tomorrow.

THE ESTIMATES

Of Expenses of the City Departments

The estimates for the different departments for the year 1911, have been submitted to the mayor and some of them were published in The Sun yesterday. Most of the estimates show an increase over the expenses of last year, but departments always allow for a cut down and they generally get it.

JUDGE HITCHCOCK

Threw Out the Notes in the Kelly Case

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Without deciding on the validity of the notes, Judge Hitchcock, in the superior court today decided in favor of Mrs. Mary C. Leach, of Exeter, N. H., executrix of the will of George Green Kelly, of Lowell, ruling that notes against the estate made out to John T. Green and amounting to $15,750, had no value because there had been no delivery by Kelly. In the original petition Mrs. Leach alleged that the signatures of the notes were forgeries. Judge Hitchcock, after hearing the evidence for two days, ignored the forgery charge, but threw out the notes because they were found in an envelope among Kelly's possessions. He ordered the notes returned to Mrs. Leach.

DOUBLE FUNERAL

Victims of Drowning Accident Laid at Rest

The funeral of Nicholas McNulty, one of the little boys who lost their lives in the Concord river Sunday, took place this morning from the home of his parents, 118 Lawrence street, at 8:30 o'clock, and ended its way to St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was rendered by Miss May E. Whiteley and as the body was borne from the church "In Profundis" was sung by Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Josephine McKennedy presided at the organ, and the choir was under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly.

There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings, showing the sympathy for the bereaved family. Among the many floral offerings the following were the most prominent: large standing cross on base of roses, pinks, lilies and ferns, with the inscription "Our Nicholas," from the aunts of the deceased, the Misses Bridget and Rose McNulty; spray of pinks, roses and ferns from Room 5, Colburn school, Miss Frances L. Donovan, teacher; spray of roses, pinks and ferns from the classmates of Room 5, Colburn school, Miss Conway, teacher; spray of white pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon from the playmates; spray of pinks, roses and ferns tied with ribbon from Master William B.

land; spray of pinks, roses, lilies and ferns tied with ribbon from Miss Conway, his teacher in the Colburn school; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, Miss Francis Corrigan; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns, Miss Nellie McLoughlin; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, tied with ribbon, Miss Alice McBride; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, tied with white ribbon, from his classmates; spray of pinks, roses and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah McGlinchey and family; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon, Miss Elizabeth Nevin; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon from the playmates, Wilfred and Mabel Fiedling. There were several other sprays from friends.

The bearers were Edward Pronovost, Raymond Kilroy, John Kilroy, Harry Nevin, William Boland and John Magee.

The interment took place in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery. The funeral was very largely attended and was under the direction of Higgins Bros. undertakers.

The McHugh Funeral

As the line of carriages which commenced the McNulty funeral procession left St. Peter's church, another line drew near, headed by the hearse containing the remains of little Patrick McHugh, the chum of the McNulty boy and the second victim of Sunday's drowning accident. Many who attended the service in connection with the first funeral remained for the second and both were impressively sad. The funeral of the McHugh boy took place from the home of his parents, Eliza and Sarah McHugh, 40 North street and proceeded at once to St. Peter's church where at 2:45 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John J. Burns. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant and the solos were sung by Miss May Whiteley and Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were all playmates of the deceased, Masters William and John McGlinchey, John Sullivan, William Clark, William French and Joseph Hudson. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the grave including the following: Pillow from the family; spray from playmates; spray, Mrs. MacCormac; spray, Jeremiah McGlinchey and family and many others. The interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. O'Brien. The interment was in charge of C. H. Molloy and Sons.

FUNERALS

GAGNON—The funeral of Sinal Jeremiah Gagnon took place from his late home in West Graniteville on Monday morning, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in Healy's hall, St. Catherine's church being closed for repairs. Rev. Michael E. Doherty was the celebrant. Miss Mary F. Hanley presided at the organ, and members of St. Catherine's church choir sang the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Miss Mary F. Hanley sang "Pie Jesu." The funeral mass was largely attended, and besides those who attended from the immediate vicinity, there were many present from Lowell, Lawrence, Pepperell and surrounding towns. The floral tributes were varied and beautiful. The bearers were Charles Gagnon, Pierre Penault, D. Jacques, J. B. Savard, Alfred Bibeault and Alex. Poirer. Burial was in St. Catherine's cemetery, Undertaker J. H. Healey in charge.

CORSON—The funeral of Mrs. Anna Corson took place yesterday afternoon from her home, 55 Sixth street. Services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Stephan, pastor of the Worthington Street M. E. church, assisted by Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., pastor of the Central M. E. church. There was singing of appropriate selections by Mrs. Horace Hanson and Mrs. Percy J. Wilson. Among the floral offerings were the

PITTSBURG MAN

Crazed in London Threatened Bank Officials

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Robert Buchier, who attempted to secure funds at the bank of England Monday by threatening the lives of the officials, today was committed to an asylum as hopelessly insane, on the order of a magistrate. Buchier arrived here from the United States on January 16 and, as near as the police can determine, belonged in Pittsburg.

Burial was in the Edson cemetery. C. M. Young was the funeral director.

HUBBARD—The funeral of Mrs. Julia L. Hubbard took place yesterday afternoon from Dr. Flint's sanatorium, Dracut Centre. Rev. Mr. Bartlett of Dracut officiated. The body was sent to Westboro, Mass., for burial. J. A. Weinbeck was the undertaker in charge.

HINCKLEY—The funeral of Albert L. Hinckley took place yesterday morning from his home, 684 Broadway, Rev. Selden W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and there was singing of "Gathering Home," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Face to Face," and "The Christian's Good Night," by Mrs. W. H. Pepl and Warren T. Reid. The bearers were: Abel A. Laughton, Allan Fraser, Herbert L. Chapman and Wm. H. Lands, members of Pentucket lodge, A. F. and Kusk and Mr. and Mrs. J. Coggeshall.

the following: wreath, inscribed "Husband," from wife of deceased; square and compass, Pentucket lodge, A. F. and A. M.; sprays, Puritan chapter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John A. AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, instead of impairing the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmistakable benefits conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community, have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

While it is a fraud on the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure, still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only as a general thing, but almost invariably cure the maladies for which it is employed.

As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log-cabin of the American Peasant, to the palace of the European King. Throughout this entire country, in every State, City, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy extant for diseases of the Throat and Lungs, and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensively used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Alms Houses, Public Institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their attending Physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of the lungs. Also in milder cases, and for children it is safe, pleasant and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials we receive have been from parents who have found it effectual in cases particularly liable to relapse, and every cure of it under his own eye, with invincible accuracy and cure. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration.

We have endeavored here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should commend itself to their confidence—a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which this has by repeated and countless trials proved itself to be; and trust by great care in preparing it with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength to afford Physicians a new agent on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do.

IN LIVELY SESSION

The Lawrence Board of Aldermen Shows Activity

LAWRENCE, Jan. 25.—Replete with many important matters, the regular session of the aldermen last night was the most interesting for some time.

The identity of the new central bridge commission was disclosed, the mayor announcing that he had appointed Attorney John J. Donovan, ex-congressman Joseph J. Flynn, former Asst. Supt. of Streets John O. Battershill, John A. Brackett and Otto L. Parlin.

An order was adopted authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee of six to consider the advisability of building a new city hall. Alderman M. A. Scanlon opposed the passage of the measure, maintaining that in view of the probability that a new city charter will be adopted that it would be inadvisable to plan to construct a new building until it is known whether there will be a single or double board government.

By a vote of four to two, with Aldermen Jordan and Scanlon remonstrating on the ground that the city, on account of its financial status, could not afford to raise the salaries of its officials at this time, the ordinance providing for an increase in the remuneration of the city solicitor from $800 to $1200 a year was given final passage in concurrence.

A resolution, introduced by Alderman Hennessey, was passed establishing the salary of the superintendent of moth extermination at $1000 a year.

An order presented by Alderman Callahan and calling for the appointment of a committee of five to confer and co-operate with the county commissioners respecting the construction of the proposed new bridge across the Merrimack river at the foot of the Wood mills, was adopted.

The order pertaining to the advisability of covering the old filter at an estimated cost of $55,000 was referred to the water board to determine whether that commission advocates the covering of the old filter or the construction of a new one. The report is expected next Monday night, and the aldermen voted to convene in special session to receive the report and act upon it. Incidentally, since there will be a regular session of the common council, it is predicted that an attempt will be made to go into joint convention to proceed with the election of a city treasurer.

ANNIVERSARY

Of L'Union Samuel de Champlain

An interesting meeting of L'Union Samuel de Champlain, No. 1, F. F. A., was held last night in C. M. A. C. hall. President Francis Deschamps occupied the chair. Several important questions were discussed and new members were initiated. The committee in charge of the soiree on the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the society, reported that all arrangements had been made and that the affair will undoubtedly be a success.

L'Union Samuel de Champlain, which is a branch of the French-American Foresters, was organized in 1906, its members being recruited from Court Samuel de Champlain, F. of A.

At that time the latter court held 550 members and its chief ranger was J. S. Lippe. The members had a little difficulty with the high court, and 425 of them seceded from the Foresters of America and formed what is now known as L'Union Samuel de Champlain, later joining the order of French Foresters. There was about $2500 in the treasury, and the seceding members brought the funds with them. A civil suit for the recovery of this money was brought on by the members of Court Samuel de Champlain, who finally obtained a favorable verdict. L'Union, in giving up every cent there was in the treasury and besides, pay about $900 for costs.

Notwithstanding these facts, this organization is in very good standing and has paid large amounts in sick and death benefits. Fourteen hundred dollars have been paid during the past year in sick benefits and $550 in death benefits, the latter including $250 paid to members at the death of the late Rev. J. S. Lippe.

The chief rangers of the union up to the present time have been: J. S. Lippe, J. Ernest Lippe, Frederick Giroux, Fred Rochefort, Napoleon C. Grandchamps.

The present officers are: chief ranger, Francois Deschamps; sub chief ranger, Narcisse Foucher; past chief ranger, Arthur Lavoie; financial secretary, J.

As recommended by the special committee, it was voted to establish the office of purchasing agent and the city solicitor was instructed to draw up an ordinance relating to and providing for its creation.

After complaining about the impending danger of having the roof of the old high school building collapse at any time, it was voted on motion of Alderman Scanlon, to raze the old structure and remove the debris, the expense to be charged to the incidental department.

The authority of Expert Auditor Fred Chierington in employing two assistants at a salary of $25 a day was questioned by Alderman Scanlon, who wanted to have some light thrown on the accounting that is being carried on by the Boston Library bureau. Alderman Scanlon appealed to the mayor to discharge the two men who are assisting the expert accountant and receiving $25 a day from the city for their services.

That it would be more practicable and economical to buy crushed stone and use that material in building new sidewalks, was the contention of Alderman Scanlon. He claimed that it was costing the city an average of $1.70 a day to haul clinders given gratis by the mill corporations, whereas, he said, that it would entail an expense of $1.10 to purchase a load of crushed stone, which he considers cleaner, firmer and more desirable material for use on sidewalks.

Some discussion occurred regarding making provisions to furnish work for the vast army of unemployed citizens in the city. The rushing of the ward five trunk sewer work was advocated as a possible means of placing more men to work, while it was also suggested that by extending the Shanty board sewer in South Lawrence, that there would be positions available for many laborers. No action was taken in regard to the problem, the board deeming it proper to await the action of the committee on sewers, which is scheduled for today.

The recommendation of the special publicity committee, that all bills paid last year be printed in a supplementary auditor's report, was adopted. The committee was empowered to call for bids to ascertain the cost of the publicity.

An attempt to elect a city messenger resulted in a deadlock, 3 to 2.

S. Lippe, recording secretary, Alfred Leblond, treasurer, Paul Vigor, assistants, J. R. Taras and Willie Hobbitt, Jean Louis Tessier, trustees: Frederick Giroux, Fred Rochefort, and Aristide Bourgeois, sentinels: Telephone, Rainville and Pierre A. Beaumier.

The members of the organization, which now number 652, have always taken an active part in every movement organized by the French speaking people of this city, notably the celebration of St. John's day, June 24, 1906. They also hold an annual picnic which is always well patronized.

Even though this society has gone through large expenses since its inception, it still has $1700 in the bank.

Tomorrow evening the fifth anniversary of the union will be observed with a banquet, which will be held in C. M. A. C. hall. An entertaining program will also be rendered, and able speakers will be heard.

The union meets every second and fourth Tuesday of the month at C. M. A. C. hall.

THE ANCIENTS

ARE THINKING OF INVADING CITY OF LONDON

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company is thinking of chartering a steamer and going to London next year to join in the 375th anniversary of the Honorable Artillery company of London.

But, set as they are on the proposed invasion of the "right little city," these times of peace, and even the Ancients can't go to London without an invitation. And there's the rub.

When the Honorable Artillery company of London was so lavishly entertained by the Ancients in their visit to this city in 1896 the members of the London company were so impressed with the elaborate entertaining that they were given they hesitated to return the compliment, fearful they could not approach the local standard.

But as one of the members of the Ancients said last night: "The entertainment isn't what's bothering us. Just let us get the invitation. We'll take care of the entertainment."

CAPTAIN PEARY

MAY BE HONORED BY FRENCH GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

PARIS, Jan. 25.—In connection with Explorer Charcot's appeal, that France honor Capt. Robert E. Peary, Baron Hadot, secretary of the Geographical society, states that the society has paid no official homage to the American because of a rigid rule which compels the presentation of proof before official recognition of a scientific achievement can be made.

The secretary added that a majority of the members of the society personally were convinced that Peary reached the North pole and if Peary wishes to bring proof the society will receive it with open arms.

WELL KNOWN TEACHER DEAD
LUFU, Mich., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Edward H. Canfield, widely known as a teacher of music and one of the founders of the New York Philharmonic society, is dead at her home here. The body will be taken to Syracuse, N. Y., for burial.

COTTON REPORT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The census bureau's cotton report issued today shows the supply for the four months' period ending Dec. 31, 1910, to have been 11,532,320 bales, made up of 1,040,010 bales of stock at the beginning of the period; 10,731,501 bales ginned; and 80,211 bales imported. The distribution was: Exports 1,075,940 bales; consumption 1,574,412 bales; stock at close of December, 5,582,138 bales.

Segregation of stock at close of December was: Held by manufacturers, 1,356,436; in independent warehouses, 3,025,210; held elsewhere, 1,199,482 bales.

OIL STEAMER ASHORE
SALFEM, Jan. 25.—The oil steamer Ligonier from Port Arthur, Texas, for this port, went ashore here at the Solon Wilkows side of Beverly harbor while attempting to dock today. For several hours three tugs attempted to release the oil steamer without success, and it is believed that it will not be floated until high tide tonight. The grounding of the steamer caused no damage. The Ligonier is owned by the Gulf Refining Co. of Beverly and Port Arthur, Texas.

CABINET'S PLAN
MADRID, Jan. 25.—The cabinet has decided to present to parliament soon a bill relating to religious and other associations.

MISSING GIRL

Said to Have Been Seen In Ware

WARE, Jan. 25.—Three persons seen yesterday are positive that Miss Florence E. Whittier, the missing Ipswich girl, who dropped out of sight in Boston on Friday, January 13, came to Ware on the following Sunday, but up to last night it had been found impossible to locate her here or to trace her beyond this place.

Two of the people who say they are sure that Florence came here on an electric car arriving at 12.30 a week ago Sunday afternoon are Fred A. Barnes of Spencer and William Keith, her conductor of the electric car which carried Barnes, his wife and two children from West Brookfield to Ware.

The identification of the girl by Barnes and Keith is confirmed by Edward Green, conductor of the electric car on which the girl rode from Brookfield to West Brookfield on that Sunday. Unless all the several people, who are positive the girl they saw a week ago Sunday are mistaken, she was Miss Whittier.

The descriptions of the different people are all similar as to her clothing, which was just what the missing girl wore, and all of them remarked the green book bag which she carried. Several of those who saw her say she had a strained, worried sort of look on her face.

The girl's movements on Jan. 15 are traced plainly enough right here to Ware. Harry F. Power, conductor of the car out of Worcester at 9.30 that morning recalls her distinctly and remembers her dazed manner when he asked her fare on the third collection. Frank E. Walker, proprietor of a livery room in Spencer, recalls the girl as having left the car from Worcester and entering his place, where she asked the fare to Brookfield. He saw her board the 11 o'clock car for Brookfield.

Eugene Browning, a Spencer news dealer, saw the girl get off the car from Worcester that morning. He sold her a paper and saw her board the 11 o'clock car for Brookfield. The conductor who ran that car to the power station at Brookfield, Charles Rice, said today that he has no recollection of the girl on that trip but he had a number of passengers and she might have been absorbed for all he knows.

Rice was relieved at Brookfield by conductor Edward Green, who went as far as West Brookfield. He distinctly remembers the girl and gives a minute description of her appearance even to the green book bag she carried under her arm.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

FOR REUNION OF ST. PETER'S PARISH

A large number of the members of St. Peter's parish met last night and made plans for the reunion of members of the parish to be held Feb. 14th.

Officers were elected for the affair as follows: Chairman of the general committee, Frank J. Campbell; secretary, Wm. F. Sadler; general manager, Fred H. Bourke; floor director, J. Henry Gilbride; chairman of the reception committee, John J. Goughin.

Several committees were also named. All of the clergymen connected with the parish were present and spoke, and Rev. Dr. Kellier referred particularly to the enthusiasm evinced in the affairs of the parish by its members. Rev. Jas. J. McGuinness was designated as chairman of the entertainment committee. A sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Campbell, Bourke and Gilbride will attend to the music.

Mrs. Henry L. Rourke will be matron of the candy table, while the lemonade table will be attended to by members of the choir, with Mrs. J. W. McKenney as matron. The dining room will be in charge of Mrs. McQuade and Mrs. Burns.

A meeting of the ladies will be held next Tuesday evening. Last night's meeting was very large and the enthusiasm manifested augurs well for the success of the reunion.

MAN WAS DROWNED

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Henry D. Quast's rowboat, caught in a choppy sea near Pier 40, sank Sunday morning, filled with water and turned over yesterday, throwing Edward Erickson and Mr. Quast into the deep channel.

Erickson was drowned and Quast, who is paralyzed on one side, managed to hang to the keel. Gilbert Layton saved Quast after he had held to the boat an hour.

Unsuccessful attempts were made to get the body of Erickson.

NORMAN E. MACK

Says Democrats Should Support Sheehan

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, last night issued a statement in which he takes the stand that William F. Sheehan, being the nominee of a regularly conducted democratic caucus, is entitled to the support of every democrat in the state. The statement says in part:

"The democratic legislators at Albany met in caucus and they, by the most emphatic majority, nominated the Hon. William F. Sheehan as the party's candidate for senator. Until the time I could not, as chairman of the democratic national committee, have a choice, but as soon as the caucus had made the selection the candidate agreed upon became the candidate of the democratic party and entitled to the support of every democrat in the state."

Referring to the influence of Tammany hall in the nomination of Mr. Sheehan, Chairman Mack says:

"There is no possible way in any fair party procedure to deny New York the influence in party affairs to which its members are entitled. It is so that the support of every democrat in the state is at Albany is not a just argument."

COFFEE SALOONS

THE LATEST THINGS PROPOSED IN LYNN

LYNN, Jan. 25.—The advisability of establishing coffee saloons for the purpose of attracting men who have no place for recreation in the evening was discussed last night at a meeting of representatives of the various men's clubs and Bible classes of the churches of Lynn, and unless unexpected opposition is encountered it is very probable that the plan will be given a trial.

If it should be decided to give the plan a test, Lynn will be the first Massachusetts city where liquor is not legally sold to have coffee saloons. In other cities, where the scheme has been tried in an effort to offset the influence of saloons it has invariably been a failure.

The question was discussed by Philip Emerson, Francis Haseltine, Ralph Brown, Thomas Brooks, William E. Hannum and Rev. Ernest J. Demer of St. Stephen's church, where the meeting was held.

It was unanimously decided to refer the matter to the committee on civic affairs of the Interchurch union for investigation.

The plan in general provides for the

SEN. LODGE

MAKES ATTACK ON THE FOREIGN TRUST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Advocating the passage of the ocean mail subsidy bill, Senator Lodge in a speech yesterday charged that the transportation of American goods to foreign ports is under the control of a trust among foreign steamship owners.

He declared that this combination controls business both on the Pacific and in the South American trade and it had power to fix freight rates.

"Having such power it can fix the prices at which our goods are sold," he said. "It discriminates against American importers and exporters. It violates every principle of our interstate commerce law in regard to the transportation of freight on our railroads. It grants rebates and discriminates in favor of certain shippers."

Mr. Lodge expressed the belief that if enacted into law, the Gallinger bill would put the combination out of business in so far as it affects South America.

"As a result of permitting it to continue," said the senator, "we are paying millions of dollars a year more for carrying our goods than are other nations. This is the cost of our indifference in allowing ourselves to be discriminated against by this foreign combination."

PATIENTS SCARED

Fire Threatened to Destroy the Cushing Hospital

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Fifteen patients at the Cushing hospital on Parker hill, Roxbury, were given a scare late yesterday afternoon when a brush fire started by boys in a vacant lot adjoining the hospital burned the laundry and drying room attached to the hospital.

A number of patients who were in rooms on the lower floor of the hospital were taken upstairs. At no time were they in danger and the nurses and attendants had everything well in hand throughout the fire.

The blaze did not reach the hospital building, but the drying room and the laundry were badly burned and much of the contents of the latter building was destroyed. The damage is estimated at $1500.

Horses attached to three pieces of apparatus were unable to climb the hill after reaching the corner of Fisher avenue and Parker street, and what horse that was used had to be carried up by the members of the companies.

It is thought boys set fire to some old shanty, which burned like tinder on the side of the hill. The smoke attracted the attention of William Boyer, janitor at the hospital, who ran to box 255 and sounded an alarm. Somebody else saw the smoke and gave an alarm from box 223, which acted as a second.

Within a short time engines, hose wagons, chemicals and ladder trucks began to gather at the corner of Parker hill avenue and Fisher avenue, but after the hard running the horses were able to make only a weak effort toward climbing the steep grade.

The drying room is a one-story wooden structure, and the laundry a two-story frame building, about 25 feet from the hospital building.

Boyer ran back to the laundry, where he helped to get out a few trunks and boxes, the property of women employed there. He was assisted by Oliver Anderson, janitor at the Charity club hospital, which is about 20 yards from the Cushing hospital.

Word was sent into the hospital to Dr. Grace Rexford, who at once summoned all the available nurses. Yesterday morning three of the patients had been operated upon. So quietly did the nurses go about their work that these patients were carried to the upper floor, in a section farthest removed from the fire, in a position so that they could be taken out at an instant's notice, if necessary.

All the other patients were taken to the upper floors where the nurses remained with them. The only annoyance suffered by the inmates was the smoke, which drifted up from the grade at the rear of the hospital.

A number of firemen were detailed to pay special attention to the hospital buildings, while many more fought the fire by running lines of hose between the hospital building and the laundry.

In the latter building when the fire broke out four women were at work, Nellie Bowen, Celia Clark, Rose Seanta and Nellie McDonough. As soon as they saw the fire coming their way they dropped their work and began to remove their trunks and boxes on the second floor of the laundry building in rooms that they occupy. With the help of Boyer and Anderson they saved nearly all of their personal effects.

District Chief Ryder gave all his attention to the buildings attached to the hospital, and the men managed to keep the flames from touching the hospital itself. They made short work of the fire that spread over the dried brush.

The contents of the drying room and laundry will probably be a total loss.

FREE BOOK ON PILES

TELLS HOW TO CURE THEM WITH INTERNAL MEDICINE

Do you know the cause of piles? Is it internal or external? Will salves, suppositories or cutting remove the trouble? How can one be cured permanently? Do you know how Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause and cure? All these questions answered fully in a booklet mailed free by Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., or at Carter & Sherburne's, Lowell, Mass., and druggists everywhere, who sell the successful remedy, Hem-Roid, under guarantee, at $1.00 per large bottle.

Newton. Both candidates will be presented at the regent's meeting to be held in Massachusetts D. A. R. state headquarters tomorrow at 1.30.

At this conference the candidates for president general will also be presented and discussed. It is impossible to predict the vote of Massachusetts, but it is generally understood that the state is generally supporting the candidacy of Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York.

Many of the chapter regents, however, feel that Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who has served but one year as president general, is by courtesy entitled to a second term.

The election of these officers does not take place until the continental congress at Washington in April. There has not been time since Mrs. Storey's candidacy was announced for the various state organizations to confer and declare for or against the present administration candidate.

It is expected that Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York will be in Boston some time in February as the guest of the Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Herbert E. Davidson, at present state vice regent, is chairman of a committee that has been appointed to arrange a reception and luncheon in honor of Mrs. Storey, which is to be given at the Vendome.

FOR SURVEYOR LUFKIN IS A CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—W. W. Lufkin of Essex county, who is Representative Gardner's private secretary, yesterday announced his candidacy for surveyor of the port of Boston, to succeed Jeremiah J. McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy has been surveyor of the port 12 years. His term will expire in a few weeks. The position pays $5000 a year.

Back of Mr. Lufkin are not only Senator Lodge and Representative Gardner, but a large number of prominent Massachusetts republicans unidentified with the national government.

"I think I have a strong chance to get the appointment," Mr. Lufkin said last night. "I have the backing of strong friends in Boston as well as in Washington, who have given me their unqualified endorsement."

The president has not taken up the matter of the Boston surveyorship yet, and by the time he takes it under consideration Mr. Lufkin's friends hope to have at the White House a list of endorsements that will overwhelm those of all other candidates.

Mr. Lufkin has been in Washington several years with Mr. Gardner. He was one of the most successful workers for Senator Lodge during the senatorial campaign.

DRILL STRENGTH

Of Militia is Being Investigated

At Gen. Pearson is now endeavoring to ascertain exactly where the militia stands as to attendance at the regular ordered drills; as it was announced he would soon after he took the position as the head of Gov. Foss's military family.

Before he was inducted into office he visited the companies of different companies and later received from organization headquarters the drill reports of the different companies.

To verify these returns he sprung a surprise on the force on Monday night when officers from the Governor's staff and from the Inspector-general's department visited the armories of most of the companies, the state force with instructions to make written report to the adjutant-general upon the actual numbers of officers and enlisted men present for drill.

The adjutant-general explained yesterday that this determination to find the actual strength of companies was not for the purpose of "rigging" company commanders, but that the adjutant-general wished to know himself exactly the strength the companies show on the average drill night.

CHARGE OF THEFT

IS MADE AGAINST A BRIGHTON WOMAN

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Charged with the larceny of $308 from William Keirstead, a New Hampshire man, Annie McBride, 27 years of age, who claims to live at 18 Winslow street, Brighton, was arrested by Patrolman Morgan at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Bowdoin square.

Keirstead, who was a farmer, sold his place and came to Boston to live. Part of the money he placed in a bank, while the remainder he kept in his possession. Yesterday afternoon he became acquainted with the McBride woman and the pair went to several picture shows and during the afternoon Keirstead lost $308. He accused the woman and she gave him $250 and told him to go back to the country. Instead he followed her about until he found Patrolman Morgan in Bowdoin square. The woman was arrested and at the station $50 was found in her possession.

The Sirolin Sentinel

Sirolin (Pronounced Si-ro-lin): The celebrated Swiss remedy for coughs and colds.

LOWELL, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1911.

Sirolin Is More Than A Remedy For Coughs and Colds

Sirolin Is a Physician's Remedy

Ask Your Doctor About It.

Sirolin is not only the world's standard remedy for colds, coughs, influenza, bronchitis, grippe, and other pulmonary affections, but it is tonic and reconstructive in its action, as well.

It stimulates the appetite, improves the digestion, aids the assimilation of food, nourishes the tissues, and is potential in retarding that waste of tissues and that poverty of blood which are among the most prominent features of consumption.

Acts as a Tonic

It never fails of excellent effect upon the lining and adjacent tissues of the air passages, and also upon the entire work-out system.

Keep a bottle of Sirolin in the house. Take it regularly in rainy, cold weather, and whenever you have been exposed. It will effectually prevent colds.

Sirolin is well and favorably known to physicians the world over.

Sirolin is very agreeable to the palate. It is a preparation possessing all the virtues of guaiacol and creosote, without the disagreeable taste of these most valuable drugs. Sirolin is compounded with a palatable non-irritating derivative of guaiacol, the active principle of creosote. Sirolin is not only palatable but it also improves the appetite, assists digestion and aids nutrition.

All leading druggists have Sirolin

Sirolin contains no morphine, codeine, habit-forming or constipating drug.

THE SECRET BALLOT IN NEW CHARTER

For Speaker of the House Was Rejected

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—An effort was made in the house yesterday to amend rule 8, so as to compel the use of the secret ballot in the election of a speaker. The order was offered by Representative Murphy of Boston when he thought the members were napping, but they were wide awake, and the order was defeated on a voice vote.

Rule 8 was invoked by Representative Lomasney in his fight for the secret ballot in the recent speakership election, and some parliamentarians claimed that under it the speaker must be elected by ballot, although the presiding officer at that time ruled otherwise. Rule 8 reads:

"In case of a vacancy in the office of speaker, or in case the speaker or the member named by him in accordance with the preceding rule is absent at the hour to which the house stands adjourned the senior member present shall call the house to order, and shall preside until a speaker pro tempore or a speaker is elected by ballot, which shall be the first business in order."

There is considerable feeling among certain of the many candidates for the speakership of 1912 against open voting, but others believe it will prove one of the strongest cards in their favor.

The order offered yesterday by Representative McInerney of Boston requesting the railroads of the state to prohibit the presence of children under 15 years of age in smoking cars was defeated. Representative Washburn of Worcester opposed the order, first on the ground that the house should not too greatly concern itself with the details of railroad operation, and second that the board of railroad commissioners has ample authority to put such a regulation into effect if it considers it in the public interest.

Representative McInerney said he had come to the conclusion that a bill providing for the same thing would better accomplish its purpose, and he, therefore, had no objection to the defeat of the order.

The mercantile affairs committee reported a bill to authorize the proprietors of the Hingham cemetery to hold real estate to the amount of 50 acres and personal property to the amount of $100,000.

The insurance committee reported leave to withdraw on bills to permit and to require the separation of investment and life insurance.

The committee on cities reported bills to provide for the appointment of a police commissioner in Malden; to permit the use of school halls in Malden for other than school purposes.

The committee on public health recommended reference to the next general court the bill to require an improvement in the sanitary condition of the Nemasket river in the town of Plymouth.

On motion of Representative Bogus of Lynn the bill providing for the appointment of a third special justice of the police court of Lynn was recommended to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Bogus said that insufficient hearing was given the bill and that members of the Lynn bar were given no opportunity to attend the hearing.

The joint committee on rules, with four senate members dissenting, reported a majority of the order for an investigation of the houses of correction of Worcester county at Worcester and Fitchburg. The dissenting members are President Treadway and Senatore Greenwood, Blanchard and Mulligan. The order reported is as follows: "That the committee on prisons investigate the administration of the houses of correction in Worcester and Fitchburg; the discipline, cleanliness, hygiene and sanitary conditions; whether there is discrimination among the prisoners in the matter of food or privileges; and, if evils are found to have existed and to have been reported to the officials, whether they have been remedied with reasonable diligence."

Said committee shall have authority to send for persons and papers; to travel within the commonwealth; and shall report to the general court on or before the first day of April, 1911, its findings and recommendations."

GONE AFTER MOORE

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Inspectors Patterson and Gleavey left Boston last night for Savannah, Ga., to bring back William L. Moore.

Moore's home is said to be in New York city. The warrants which the police have obtained for Moore's arrest allege that on May 11, 1910, he forged a check for $25 and uttered the same on Michael J. Dowd, a Howard street liquor dealer; also another check for $20 on David J. Fox a few days later, and July 23 a check for $20 on Dr. John A. McCormack.

Three years earlier, according to the police, he was charged with forging and uttering a check for $30 on Browning, King & Co. in payment for an overcoat. In this case he purchased the overcoat and had it sent to his room at the Parker House. When the coat was delivered he tendered in payment a check for $30, which, it is charged, was worthless.

Moore's method was to call in people in this city with whom he had become acquainted at Palm Beach during the winter seasons.

The police say that Sept. 2, 1903, Moore married Geneva C. Felt at Burlington, Ia., and on April 2, 1906, while in Boston, he was married to Miss Caroline F. Hoggman, without having been divorced from his first wife.

Moore has been known under the names of M. G. Clarke and C. C. Kennedy.

Amendments Suggested at Com. Meeting

The full committee on charter revision met last evening in the board of trade rooms with a large attendance. William H. Wilson presided.

The draft of the proposed charter was discussed and several amendments were proposed.

The positions of superintendent of streets and superintendent of water works were added to the administrative offices, and it was voted to have the janitors of schools come under civil service protection. In fact, it was voted to have the charter protect all employees now protected by civil service rules.

It was voted to ask the mayor to request that the committee on cities give the charter hearing in Lowell, and it was also voted to invite the committee, the Lowell delegation at the state house and the mayor to be the guests of the committee on the occasion of the hearing.

It was voted to prepare a digest of the charter for publication so that its contents might be understood at a glance.

The publicity committee announced several meetings in the campaign of education and assigned the speakers.

Tonight, in the hall of the Middlesex Social club, Middlesex street, Fred C. Weld, William N. Osgood, Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, and John R. Murphy will explain the charter to the club members. On Friday night at the Centralville Social club rooms, John H. Beauclieu, Clovis Ouellette, Thomas Goyette, and Dr. Lamoureux will discuss the charter. At 8.30 o'clock, Friday night, William H. Wilson will speak before an audience at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Murphy will speak at the First Trinitarian Congregational church.

500 Stitches a Minute

This means more to the shoe buyer than mere speed. It means only the best material and long wear in every Goodyear Welt shoe.

For the rapid Goodyear welt machines insert more than 500 stitches a minute—quick, close and strong. Cheap material or imitation material cannot stand up under this volley of rapid stitches. Only the best material can be worked on these machines. Only the best material can get into a Goodyear Welt shoe. Long wear is assured to the buyer.

Comfort too is assured by this shoemaking method. For these same machines produce shoes that are smooth inside.

GOODYEAR WELT

A narrow strip of leather called a welt is sewed to the shoe upper and to the channeled insole in a single seam.

But not a thread penetrates to break the inner smoothness of the shoe.

Another machine lock-stitches the heavy outer sole to this welt around the edge of the shoe. This seam too is entirely outside.

The shoe is left smooth inside. Your comfort is assured.

Economy too points to "Goodyear Welt." The most dressy shoes are now made on these inspired machines just as durable and comfortable as if hand sewed, but costing only one-third as much.

These machines are employed in the factories of all leading manufacturers who create and issue the authoritative shoe fashions for dress and business wear.

THE WAMESITS

Hold First Place in the League

There were two good games in the Manchester Unity league series last night. In the game between the Merrimack Valley and Wamesit lodges, the latter team took two points while in the contest between Excelsior and Integrity lodges, the former team won two points. In neither game did any of the bowlers knock the pins down hard enough to make a tally of 300.

Lowell and Highland councils of the Arcanum league met on the alleys last night, Lowell winning all three matches by a safe margin.

The C. M. A. C. quarter gave the Y. M. C. U. a severe trouncing last night, winning all three points with comparative ease. The first string was a heart breaker for the Y. M. C. U. for the C. M. A. C. shot over the 500 mark, Gendron with a single of 122 being high man. In the second string the winning aggregation missed the two-century mark by the narrow margin of eight pins.

The P. S. team won three points from the El Toros in the Minor league last night. Labour of the winning team being high man.

In the Manufacturers' league the Bigelow team gave the Tremont & Suffolk bowlers a severe trouncing. In the second string the members of the Bigelow team put up a total of 512, bettering men with one exception rolling better than 100.

In the game between the Bland and Massachusetts teams of the Manufacturers league the former team won two of the three points.

THE VETO BILL

To be Disposed of Before Coronation

LONDON, Jan. 25.—All the party leaders have issued letters calling their supporters to close attendance when parliament meets on February 6th. It is the government's intention to get the veto bill disposed of before the coronation and this practically will compel the ministers to appropriate the whole time of the house until Easter to government business, a condition which will likely cause considerable grumbling among members anxious to push other legislative matters.

PLACE WHERE STRAUS DINNER WILL BE HELD JAN. 31 AND NOTABLE GUESTS INVITED

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—It is expected that when President Taft delivers his address at the dinner to Nathan Straus, financier and philanthropist, at the Cafe Boulevard, New York city, on the evening of Jan. 31 he will announce his views on new phases of the policies of his administration. Scores of other prominent men will be present, including ex-President Roosevelt, August Belmont, Andrew Carnegie, Jacob H. Schiff, Congressman Sulzer and William S. Bannet, Edward M. Shepard, etc. The banquet will be one of the most notable ever given in New York.

GOVERNOR FOSS TWO ASSAULTED

Has Many Candidates In South End Store in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Shortly after midnight two men under the influence of liquor entered the drug store of Fred A. Ewell, Washington and Pellam streets, and assaulted both Mr. Ewell and Frank Burns of 9 Mallin street, who was in the store. Both were severely lacerated and some of the furnishings of the store were wrecked.

Less than an hour later Charles McChesney, aged 22, and George Lyons, two men known to the police, were rounded up on Tremont street, near Hanson street, by Patrolmen King and Dale after a sharp chase of 200 yards. After the men had been locked up Mr. Ewell and Mr. Burns identified them.

John (Scotty) Doyle, whom he saw four men carrying in an intoxicated condition on Washington street a short time after the assault, was found in a doorway near Albany street and was locked up also.

In court Boyle pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was remanded until Thursday. He was also charged with having held up and robbed Mrs. Margaret Foley of 100 East Canton street, Jan. 18 and was held in $2000 for the grand jury on this charge.

Lyons pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and was also remanded until tomorrow. Officer King told the court that Lyons was wanted by the superior court on a larceny charge. The warrant charges that he stole an overcoat from a clergyman in the Warren avenue Baptist church a few weeks ago.

McChesney was held for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of drunkenness. He was also charged with having stolen $20 from Mrs. Helen G. Morse of 290 Shawmut avenue, April 8, 1908, when it is alleged, he worked in the house part of a day as a furniture mover. He was held for a hearing on this charge.

The trio was sent to Charles street jail.

PAROLE MEN

WILL BE SHIELDED IN THE FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Men who have won their paroles from federal prisons will hereafter step back into the world to begin life anew, unadvised and without the blimp of publicity.

Att'y General Wilkesham and Robert V. La Follette, chairman of the parole board, have decided that publicity in such cases helps to defeat the object of the parole law.

The decision was brought about largely by the protest of a convict in one of the federal penitentiaries. His application for parole was under consideration when he saw published the names of ten men who had been paroled from Leavenworth penitentiary.

He withdrew his application with the explanation that he preferred prison to being released with much publicity.

In the future when the board makes its recommendations for releases and the attorney general approves them the paroled men will receive their liberty very quietly.

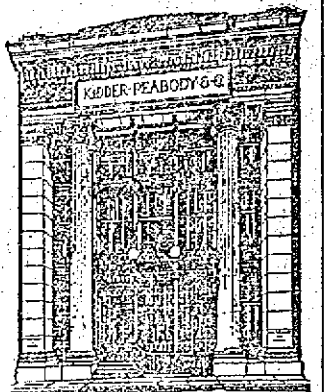

No man will be paroled at all who has not a promise of definite employment or assistance.

COL. ROOSEVELT

TO MAKE A TRIP TO ARIZONA ON MARCH 18TH

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Ethel, will visit Arizona on March 18, according to information here today. He will participate in the dedication of the irrigation dam that bears his name. He will spend the night at the dam and the following day go to Mesa and visit his son Archie, who is attending private school there. The colonel and family will leave on March 19 for Los Angeles.

At present prices conservative bonds net the investor from 4 to 5 1/4%. We will send a list of such investments on request.

plenty of backing. Langford will carry about 125 pounds, but as he is well known on the other side he will doubtless receive plenty of support. In short the English papers say that the Langford-Lang fight will be a heavy betting affair with the quotation being even money and take your pick. American sporting men will not be surprised if Langford scores a quick knockout, that is if he does his level best.

Harlem Tommy Murphy, according to word received from Fishkill Landing, N. Y., yesterday, has called off his dog with Knockout Brown at the Elmer A. C. of Harlem. The men were matched to box a lightweight tonight, but Murphy declares that he has been suffering from the grip and cannot get himself in proper condition to meet so dangerous an opponent as Brown. Murphy was beaten several months ago by Brown and demanded a return match. Brown therefore will have to take matters easily until he tackles Ad Wolgast in Philadelphia on February 8.

Over in Jersey Frankie Burns was putting on the finishing touches yesterday for his bout with Digger Stanley at the National Sporting club Friday night. Burns is the personification of confidence. He weighed 110 pounds yesterday and said he never felt stronger. He realizes that the English bantam champion is a past master in the art of self defense, but declares that he will fight hard enough to offset this sterling quality. Stanley sends word from Philadelphia that he is down to weight and will be in prime condition. He has never seen Burns, but does not lessen his belief that he will win on points.

"I understand that Abe Attell has been doing some talking," said Paeky McFarland yesterday. "If he thinks he has a chance with me in a ten round bout I'll take him on whenever he is ready. I'll make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock for him, and if I can't knock him out he'll be a good win. Conlon is a smart mathematician, always looking for his percentage. Neither of them was any more interested than Martin Flaherty's paternal ancestor, however. The Flaherty's lived in Lowell, Mass., and the old gentleman had a flag pole erected in the yard. Whenever Martin boxed, he always wired home the result. Interested neighbors watched the flag pole. If Martin won, up went the Stars and Stripes, a signal for them to crowd about with congratulations. If Martin lost, there was no flag. And it wasn't healthy to approach the Flaherty's house unless the flag was flying."

DIAMOND NOTES

Every major league club is making preparations for the usual spring training trip and within the next six weeks sixteen big ball teams will be lining up at various resorts in the south. It has been announced already that the Giants will train at Marlin, Tex., and that on February 11 the first batch of McGraw's men will leave here for the training camp, while the others will start south from St. Louis on February 26. The Highlanders, who will get into fighting trim at Athens, Ga., will report to Manager Chase there about March 1 and the Brooklyn's will flounder up at Hot Springs, Ark., where Manager Delmon will be the first to take the baths, early next week, together with several of his pitchers.

The Chicago Cubs will arrive in New Orleans on March 1 for several weeks of hard work and the Chicago White Sox instead of making the usual journey to California will prepare for the American league race at Mineral Wells, Tex. The Pittsburghs after a sojourn at West Baden will line up on their own grounds at Hot Springs, Ark., on March 17, preparatory to the usual exhibition tour through western cities.

The Boston Nationals, under Fred Tenney, will fit themselves at Augusta, Ga., and the Boston Americans, led by President John T. Taylor and Manager Donovan, will visit the Pacific coast.

where they will begin work at a place near Los Angeles and then play numerous exhibition games. The Boston Americans will travel in a special train from the Hub to California and back, covering nearly 2,000 miles before the championship season begins.

In addition to the Brooklyn's and Pittsburghs the Cincinnati Reds, managed by Clark Griffith, will hold out their limbs at Hot Springs. Manager Dooin will put the Philadelphia Nationals through a course of sprouts at Birmingham, Ala., and the world's champion Athletics will round into old form at Savannah, Ga. Both Quaker teams will make an early start for these places so that they can play many games after they start north.

After the Detroit pitchers have worked out a bit at Hot Springs they will join the other Tigers at Monroe, La. The Cleveland's will go to Alexandria, La. Manager McGuire having sent out a notice to report there the first week in March.

The St. Louis Browns will be the fourth team to visit Hot Springs and will work on the same field with the Cincinnati players. The St. Louis Cardinals, in the other hand, will report at West Baden on March 15, but after remaining there ten days they will go to their own ball yard in the Mount city. The Washington pitchers will join Manager McElear at Hot Springs for a short stay before going to Atlanta, Ga. to meet the other members of the team.

It is estimated that the spring training of all the major league teams will cost $200,000. The clubs hope, to gather in enough money from exhibition games to pay a part of these expenses. The players will draw no salary until April 15, as stipulated in their contracts, and those who fail to visit the training quarters can be fined to the extent of $100 each. Advance money, however, can be drawn by those who respond to the call of each manager, for it is usually the case that ball players have empty pockets after the long winter layoff.

It is figured that nearly 500 players will begin practice at the major league camps this year. Of this number at least 100 will have to be dropped when the proper time limit arrives. The remainder will draw about $1,000,000 in salaries, averaging $3500 to a man. A club that manages to get through the season with less than $100,000 expenses will be regarded as a curiosity. This includes salaries, railway fares, hotel bills, rent, taxes and assessments, also an outlay for the new talent.

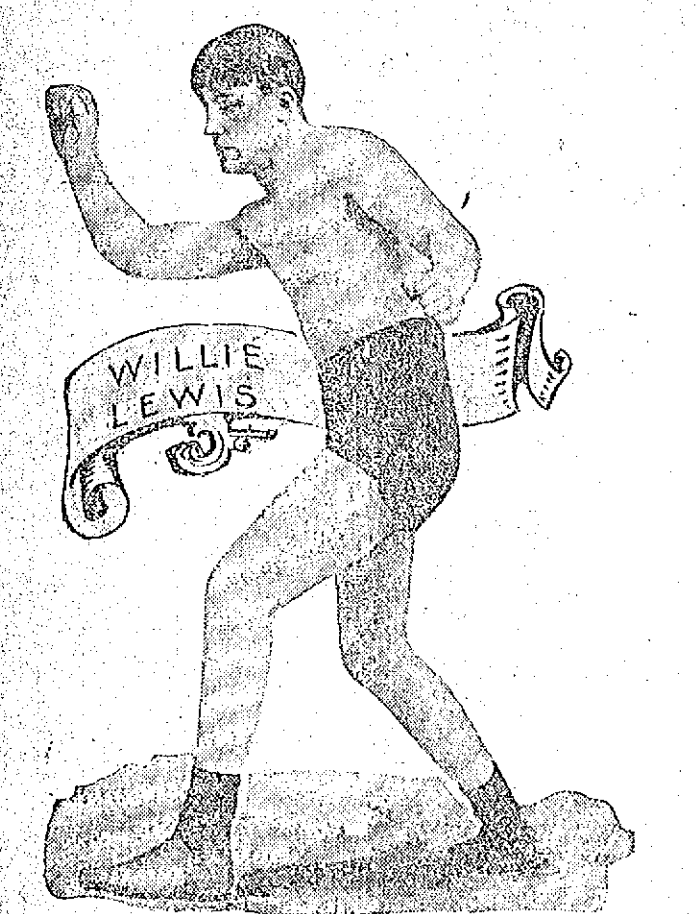

Manager Chase, evidently has the right idea about handling the Highlanders' pitchers. In a letter to President Farrell, Chase says he intends to work the pitchers in regular rotation, and declares that the team will be well fixed with six slabs, Ford, Quinn, Vaughn, Fisher, Caldwell and Warhop. Chase believes that by using four of these men in turn he will get the best results and that whenever one of them shows signs of staleness he will have an able substitute with whom to round out the combination. It is freely admitted that Ford's success last year was wholly due to the fact that he did not pitch out of his regular turn. He positively refused to go into the box unless he was absolutely fit and ready, with the result that he was always at his best. Under this method of procedure Ford knew exactly when he was expected to pitch and consequently nerved himself for the task. Chase maintains that if the other pitchers are worked in a similar manner they will prove vastly more effective and in this belief he is supported by many close students of the game. It is a matter of record that managers of all successful teams have handled their pitchers with clocklike regularity and have employed a system of work that has developed unexpected skill. It is argued that a pitcher can easily work twice a week, but that he cannot be expected to do himself justice if he is suddenly called upon to enter the box at a time when he is hardly ready for a grueling test.

HOUCK KNOCKED OUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Willie Houck, the Philadelphia featherweight, was knocked out in the seventh round of a 10-round bout by Young Foss of Boston, at the Brown gymnasium here last night.

It was a fast fight. Continual pounding about the stomach and kidneys weakened Houck and a left hook to the stomach put him down for the full count.

HARD HITTING WELTERWEIGHT TO MEET HARRY LEWIS

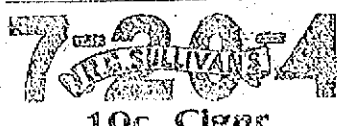

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Willie Lewis, the hard hitting welterweight of this city, will soon join the American color of fighters in gay Paris. Willie has been matched to meet Harry Lewis, March 4, in a ten round fight. He has been guaranteed $3000, with the privilege of accepting 50 per cent. of the gross receipts. Willie made a great reputation while in Paris a year ago. He met and defeated several welterweight, middleweight and two heavyweights.

WELLESLEY GIRL

Is Bride of Blind U. S. Attorney

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 25.—Faithful to a promise she made several years ago when he left his home for Harvard college, Miss Juliette Wheeler Duxbury, one of the prettiest girls of this town, has become the wife of Raymond Gould Brown, the blind assistant to the United States district attorney of New York.

The ceremony was performed here at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Mary Duxbury, at 16 Summer street, by the Rev. W. W. Ellis, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Dover.

Less than an hour after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for New York where they will make their home.

Mrs. Brown is a daughter of a former official of the telephone company. She is a graduate of the Dover high school and Wellesley college and has been prominently identified with St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

She and Mr. Brown were playmates when they were children and just before he went to Harvard in 1903 to begin a four years' course they were recognized among their friends here as sweethearts. After Mr. Brown's graduation from the college and he had entered the Harvard Law school in 1907, it is said they became engaged.

Mr. Brown was graduated from the Harvard Law school in 1910 and soon after went to New York to remain six months as assistant to the United States district attorney. His work has been so satisfactory that he has been asked to remain for a longer period. He is a son of Elvira R. Brown, president of the Stratford National and of the Stratford Savings banks and a brother of Harold Brown, treasurer of the Stratford Savings banks, and of Philip Brown, superintendent of the I. B. Williams Belt Factory.

HE TRIED SUICIDE

Man Wanted On Charge Of Forgery

SAVANNAH, Jan. 25.—William L. Moore, alias C. C. Kennedy of Boston and West Palm Beach, Fla., arrested here last Saturday accused of forgery and bigamy and held for the Massachusetts authorities, tried to commit suicide in his cell last night by swallowing match heads.

The woman accompanying Moore, who is believed to be V. de Compagnon, the name she signed to a receipt for his possessions at the barracks, went to West Palm Beach to ask Moore's mother for aid. An hour after she returned the jailer found Moore ill, and applied an emetic.

BLAMES HUSBAND

WOMAN SAYS THAT HE TOOK HER JEWELRY

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Helen G. Leggett, who seeks a divorce from her husband, charged him on the witness stand yesterday with having taken jewelry belonging to her, a part of which was her engagement ring which she claimed she has not recovered.

William E. Leggett, her husband, was mentioned in automobile circles of Boston for some time and also conducted a store for one of the large auto concerns, at Toronto, Canada, where Mrs. Leggett claims he took her jewelry.

In addition, Mrs. Leggett charged her husband with non-support. She told Judge White that he did not support her and neither would he give her money to purchase necessities and clothes. Finally, she said, "I had to go to work myself to get clothing."

The couple were married in Somerville, Oct. 24, 1905, and lived there for about two years. They afterward moved to Toronto. While living there their marital troubles started.

"Things became so bad there," said Mrs. Leggett, "that I came alone to Boston and went to his father's home at Reading. Within two or three weeks he came back also, but since that time he has not contributed toward my support."

Mr. Leggett is now in Philadelphia. It is said. The case will be reopened this morning when more evidence regarding the alleged non-support of Mrs. Leggett is expected.

JUDGE WHITE

SCORED HASTY ACTION IN DIVORCE CASE

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—That it is not good practice on the part of an attorney to bring a suit for divorce on the ground of desertion the day after the period required by law, three years, Judge Lloyd L. White in the Suffolk county divorce court yesterday afternoon.

"It shuts off all possibility and suggestions of reconciliation," said the justice.

The remarks were made during the divorce proceedings brought by Dr. Arthur S. Hudson of Huntington avenue, against his wife, Minnie L. Hudson, who, he claimed, had deserted him on Nov. 8, 1907.

Dr. Hudson stated that he had always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations but that his wife was not. He was surprised upon reaching his home one day to find her moving out with all of her effects.

Dr. Hudson produced three witnesses who substantiated his statements concerning his wife's desertion.

Judge White has reserved his decision.

BROTHER CLARKE

OLDEST MEMBER OF THE PASSIONISTS IS DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 25.—Brother Richard Clarke, said to be the oldest member of the Order of Passionists in the United States, died in point of age and length of service, both of paralysis yesterday at the Sacred Heart retreat here. Brother Clarke was 81 years of age and a native of Martinsburg, W. Va. Fifty-one years ago he entered the Order of Passionists at Pittsburgh, Pa., completing his probation a year later. For years Brother Clarke was engaged in the work of collecting funds for the upbuilding of the Catholic churches. He traveled extensively and had a wide acquaintance throughout the country, especially in the eastern states.

FOR MILLIONS

Widow Appears to Make Fight

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Lawyers are making an effort to secure an amicable settlement of the claims for the $15,000,000 estate left by the late Robert T. Pottetone of Wyoming, near here, who died last Tuesday, apparently without a will.

The estate is now claimed by a young woman of Wyoming, who says she is Pottetone's widow, for herself and her three-year-old child, and by Pottetone's sister, Mrs. Allan H. Dickson, and other relatives.

At the time of his death it was not generally known that Mr. Pottetone had been married since his first wife died, six years ago, and the filing of legal action by the young woman signing herself Mrs. Minnie Harris Pottetone, caused comment. She claims she was married to Pottetone in 1907 and that they had two children, one of whom died.

INJURIES FATAL

Young Man Passed Away in Hospital

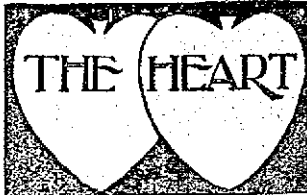

Frederick N. Webster, the young man who was injured in the railroad accident on the Boston & Maine tracks off Dutton street Monday night, died yesterday afternoon at the Lowell hospital, death having been due to the shock he received as a result of being crushed between a dummy engine and a freight car.

The deceased was 35 years of age, and had lived in Lowell for 20 years. He was born in Morell, Prince Edward Island. His home was at 21 Wilson street. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Harry and Albert Webster; three daughters, Eva, Dora, and Alice Webster; a brother, Robert, of Lowell, and a sister, Lillian, of Boston, and a brother, Russell, and parents, in Morell, P. E. I.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Wamsit lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U.

WILLIAM O. SEYMOUR DEAD

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., Jan. 25.—William O. Seymour, a member of the state railroad commission and a member of the general assembly, died at his home here last night. He was a member of the general assembly in 1888 and was elected again at the recent election. He was 78 years old and leaves one daughter.

DEFECTIVE CHIMNEY

CAUSE OF A FIRE IN HOUSE IN BERKLEY AVENUE

The prompt response to an alarm from box 241 about 9:30 o'clock last night and the efficient work of the firemen after arriving on the scene prevented the destruction of the residence of Abbott Lawrence of 53 Berkley avenue, last night. The fire started in the L of the house and was caused by a defective chimney.

Mrs. Lawrence was alone in the house when she heard the crackling of flames. She ran to the home of a neighbor, who sent a telephone call to a store located near the box, and one of the employees of the store pulled in an alarm from box 241.

When the department arrived there was a lively blaze in progress, but the firemen extinguished it before much damage was done.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CLEANER STREETS

While it is true that we have made great progress in improving our streets, yet it is equally true that we are very far behind many cities neither so large nor so important as our own in the matter of keeping our streets clean. For some time past the dust on our streets has been almost suffocating, yet nothing has been done to bring relief. On many of the days on which the dust was most unbearable, it was quite feasible to water the streets; but it seems to be against the established custom to do any street watering except within the regular seasons. Yesterday, for example, the temperature was so mild that it would have been easy to water the streets and a little sprinkling would have laid the dust and brought relief to the suffering public. The street watering time table will have to be modified so as to allow proper attention to the smooth paved streets at least until the upper surface shall have worn off. Once this is gone there will not be nearly so much dust from these streets.

There is another matter to which the street department will soon have to give its attention and that is the disinfection of gutters along the principal streets or at least on the principal squares of the city. Take for example, Merrimack square, around which there is always a large number of people. From early morning to late at night, there is a strip of sputum covered surface along the gutters that must certainly be a menace to health if allowed to remain from day to day as at present. To protect the health of the public against this danger, it would be necessary to use a disinfectant from a sprinkler. Something of the kind should be done in the interest of the public health and as a preventive against tuberculosis. In large European cities this precautionary measure is adopted with the most satisfactory results. Where large assemblies gather along sidewalks there is sure to be a good deal of expectoration along the edges or gutters of the streets. The people generally have an idea that the anti-spitting law is sufficiently observed if they do not spit on the sidewalks. Hence the majority of them spit in the gutter and anybody who visits the squares at 8.30 o'clock on fine mornings can see the evidence of the early morning crowds that do their share of the spitting as well as those who come to the square in the evening. It is up to the street department or the board of health to adopt some method of disinfecting the gutters where this practice is carried on.

FOR THE REFORMATION OF CRIMINALS

There is a bill before the legislature, the object of which is to establish schools of instruction and manual training for the inmates of large county prisons. It is now recognized as a fact that the policy of these institutions in the past has been misdirected. The houses of correction and prisons generally have been used merely for the punishment of criminals, while there has been very little attempt made to give them any training by which they might be reformed. There is a general belief that with a change of policy many of the prisoners may be made useful citizens. Of the 27,714 commitments to reformatories and houses of correction, 16,444 were of persons who had been in the same institutions before while many of them, it has been ascertained, had also been imprisoned elsewhere. It would, therefore, appear that they are regular habitués of such institutions.

The author of the pending bill in the legislature is in favor of establishing some system of training by which those who cannot read and write will be educated at least to overcome their illiteracy, while those who are not illiterate will be offered an opportunity to learn some useful trade. It has been cited as an argument in favor of this policy that more than 200 years ago Pope Clement XI established a penal institution in Rome based upon the very principle which this bill would apply to our present institutions. Over the door of that prison was this inscription, "For the reformation and education of the criminal—that those who when idle had been injurious to the state might when better instructed and trained become useful to it."

Oliver Goldsmith enunciated a principle somewhat similar when he showed that the efficacy of the law to prevent crime depended upon the certainty with which it fell upon guilt and its power to reform the criminals convicted and lodged in prison. These are old principles, no doubt, but they seem to have been slow of adoption in this country, and it is encouraging to find that a move is to be made now in the right direction for it has too often happened that a man after committing his first offense has been sent to prison, it may be for trivial cause, and returns ready for the commission of almost any crime. Our prisons should make men better, not worse, and they should, moreover, send them out into the world better equipped to earn an honest living so as to be self-reliant rather than depending upon larceny and the arts of deception in order to support themselves.

THE INVESTIGATION OF LODGE

There is a good deal of very windy talk about the election of Senator Lodge. He secured a majority, and while some men who left their own party to vote for him, may be suspected of having yielded to undue influence, yet we do not believe that the senator can be connected in any manner with their acts. Senator Lodge for eighteen years has been an active agent in helping the large corporations to secure the high tariff duties which they desired. They are all grateful to him and have all been very anxious to see him reelected. If money were needed to carry Lodge's election, they would readily furnish it; but whether they did so or not is a private matter of their own not likely to be revealed.

There is not much doubt that Senator Lodge will take his seat without any question as to the validity of his election, despite the resolution of the Montana legislature asking for an investigation and despite the windy and unsubstantial vaporings of sensational newspapers that claim to know things they dare not print. Had the opposition to Lodge united on a different candidate a man more devoted to the people's interests than to those of the republican party might have been chosen.

SEEN AND HEARD

Smoking comes high. First there is the cigarette smoking period. The man who rolls himself a cigarette when he wants one buys two or three sacks of alfalfa every week and a couple of packs of "rice" paper, at a cost of 25 or 30 cents a week, $13 to $15 a year. After the cigarette period comes the pipe period. The smoker purchases four or five pipes costing a total of $5 to $10, and his tobacco costs him 50 cents a week, or $25 a year. Pipes and tobacco run him $20 at least. Then comes the stogie period. The smoker gets away with six or eight or ten a day, at a cost of $1.40 a week, or $72.80 a year. After that comes the five-cent cigar season. The man smokes six or eight a day at a cost of about $130 a year. Then comes the time when nothing "keeps" but a ten-center, and then the bills are $3.50 a week or $180 to $190 a year, or more. Then after awhile comes the corn-cob pipe period, and more alfalfa, and the price drops from $190 a year to $10.40. "This is more or less crude but it's all right."

Tell me, little maiden with the dimpled chin, Which of all those fellows is a-going to win? Which one do you dream of when you are asleep? Enshrined in that warm heart of yours which do you keep? Which one do you think of through the long, glad days? Which one do you pine for when he's far away? Surely there is one of them who's captured you, Though you entertain them by the score or two? Tell me, little maiden with the light brown hair, For which of all those fellows do you really care?

A WOMAN'S LAST WORD

Let's contend no more, Love,
Strive nor weep;
All be as before, Love,
Only sleep.

What so wild as words are!
I and thou
In debate as birds are,
Hawk on lough.

See the creature stalking
While we speak;
Hush and hide the talking
Cheek on cheek.

What so false as truth is,
False to thee;
Where the serpent's tooth is
Shun the tree.

Where the apple reddens,
Never try—
Let us lose our Eden,
Eve and I.

Be a god and hold me
With a charm;
Be a man and hold me
With thine arm.

Teach me, only teach, Love,
As I ought,
I will speak thy speech, Love,
Think thy thought.

Meet, if thou require it,
Roch demands,
Laying fresh and spirit
In thy hands.

That shall be tomorrow,
Not tonight;
I must bury sorrow
Out of sight.

Must a little weep, Love,
(Foolish me),
And so fall asleep, Love,
Loved by thee.

—Robert Browning.

She's somewhere in the twilight strong,
Her tears are in the falling rain.
She calls me in the wind's soft song,
And with the flowers she comes again.

You bird is but her messenger,
The moon is but her silver ear;
Yea! sun and moon are sent by her,
And every wistful waiting star.

—Richard Le Gallienne.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and an enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have a backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it." Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache do not neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

The testimonials which are constantly being published in these advertisements are guaranteed to be absolutely genuine.

At the midwinter meeting of the trustees of Colby college, Charles P. Chipman of Boston was elected librarian of the college to succeed E. W. Hall, deceased. Mr. Chipman is connected with the business department of the Baptist Missionary. Publication Missions and was graduated from Colby in 1906. He was formerly secretary to the college. The matter of the erection of a new dormitory to accommodate the increasing number of students was left to the finance committee. A building to house forty students is required.

Mark Twain's characters—some of the most appealing of them—are to be dressed in French garb and given to the public on the stage of Sarah Bernhardt's theatre in Paris. Five acts and nine tableaux have been constructed by Vladimir Bienstock and Michael Care out of Mark Twain's romance "The Prince and the Pauper." They will be presented at the Theatre Sarah-Bernhardt in about six weeks. M. Bienstock has already been successful as an adapter, and he has chosen "The Prince and the Pauper" out of Mark Twain's books because its sympathetic appeal would be as great to a Frenchman as to an American. M. Bienstock has previously adapted plays of Pinero and Tolstoi.

A Serbian teacher, M. Medakovich, has instituted a successful method of teaching. In his school each pupil is provided with a chocolate alphabet, and as soon as he can put his name together correctly he is allowed to eat it. Wordmaking is taught on the same plan. M. Medakovich's pupils on an average can read fluently in three days.

Miss Belle Heian, a rich woman in Ireland, has given $50,000 to establish free scholarships at Cork university.

Here is a story which Professor Bailey of Cornell enjoys telling on himself. One day he dropped into an old book emporium in a certain west-end New York city and there found an edition which he wanted. Asking its price of the bookseller, he was told that it was $5. Thinking this rather steep, Professor Bailey said: "Don't you think that is a pretty high price for an old book?" "Well," said the bookseller, "it may seem so to you, but it really doesn't make any difference to me whether you buy the book or not, for there's an old fool down at Ithaca by the name of Bailey who'll take it at $5 just as soon as I offer it to him."

Judge Lindsay says in a newspaper article that for every woman voter who takes a bribe there are 50 men who do so, and he believes a larger percentage of women voters to possess high ideals and a keen sense of justice than of the opposite sex. "A man," says Judge Lindsay, "has a sense of justice, but he's apt to let his sense of comfort push it out of sight."

Miss Helen Taft, at nineteen, is a wholesome, attractive girl, with never a trace of pose or affectation in manner or conversation, says Harper's Bazar. She possesses a sufficient sense of humor, inherited from her father, to prevent her head being turned by the attention she has received. Most of the intimate friends of the Taft family are wont to declare that in features as well as in temperament Miss Helen favors her father. Though Miss Taft has always been an inveterate reader, and has won a scholarship at Bryn Mawr and all sorts of prizes at school, and although each summer she pursues a definite course of reading, she indulges in a wide range of outdoor athletics.

EXCELLENT MUSICALS

The ladies of the First Universalist church held a musical and social at the home of Mrs. W. P. Lane, Georgia avenue, Tyler park, last evening. Following an excellent program, refreshments were served. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lane poured, and Miss Gertrude Lane, Miss Glendys Emerson, Miss Bernice Flint, Miss Reta Pruett and Miss Harriet Mansur served.

The program was as follows:
Solo, "For All Enemies," Macheroni
Miss Grace Horns, Currier
Solo, "Love Abiding," Jordan
Willard R. Henderson
Solo, "Privately Fair," Powell
Miss Florence Lowney

Selections.
The accompanists were Mona Adams, David Hird and John J. Kelly.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

For years medical men have been seeking a cure for eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for one studious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in many forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist experimented with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to hundreds of sufferers. Cadum cures today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped at once. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for eczema in all its forms, also for pimples, blotches, itchy, tender, scaly skin, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, rashes, scurvy, scabs, itching piles.

VETERAN CARRIER

Charles A. Holden Also a Civil War Veteran

Letter Carrier Charles A. Holden, of the local postoffice, while not the oldest carrier when point of service is considered, has an interesting record, both as a letter carrier and a soldier. That gentleman figured in the Civil war and the present time bears a bullet wound in his right arm, but despite that fact he performs his duty faithfully every day and traverses one of the downtown routes which are considered the hardest routes in the city.

He is the fourth oldest carrier in point of service at the local postoffice well known by every business man in Lowell by every business man in Central street, know fully well that he performs his work in an efficient and painstaking manner. No matter how heavy the mail may be, rain or shine, he is on time and the people on his route can assure you that he does not vary five minutes on any trip in reaching the different offices or stores.

He was appointed a carrier on Aug. 1, 1874, and worked at the old postoffice in Merrimack street and afterwards went to the present office when the change in location was made.

With the exception of a short space of time, when he was changed from one route to another, he has spent almost all of his nearly 37 years as a letter carrier in the business district in Central street.

Mr. Holden has a military career which any soldier might be proud of. When the war broke out he joined Company M, Second Massachusetts cavalry, and was in Gen. Philip Sheridan's cavalry division during the greater portion of the Civil war, and went through the Shenandoah Valley campaign with Sheridan.

On Feb. 22, 1864, the company of which he was a member met Mosby's guerrillas at Drainesville and he received a bullet wound in his right arm. He and a number of his fellowmen were captured and taken to Richmond, Va., where they were placed in Libby prison until their pedigrees were taken. He was then transferred to a prison across the street, the prison being an abandoned tobacco warehouse.

He was held a prisoner in that place for 65 days, and upon becoming convalescent was one of the first men to be exchanged for prisoners held by the Union troops. He was then sent to the Jarvis hospital in Baltimore and later was assigned to the 72d company, invalid corps, and stationed at Baltimore.

His duty in Baltimore was to act as guard at the hospital and be ready for a call to the front in case that more troops were needed.

At the end of the war he received an honorable discharge. Several years after the war was over he worked at different things, and in 1874 was appointed a letter carrier in this city and since then has performed his duties as a letter carrier in a faithful manner.

TO POPULARIZE CONSOLS

LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated that the government is considering measures to popularize consols and make them easily available to small investors by issuing to bearer bonds in denominations of five and 10 pounds. These may be purchased at postoffices where the coupons also can be cashed, free of the income tax.

This reform has long been advocated as a means of arresting the continued decline in the price of consols, which heretofore, owing to difficulties of negotiations, have been held mainly by wealthy individuals and financial institutions.

FURLONG ELECTED

Will Succeed Major Crowley in Water Board

Republican Councilmen Turn the Trick After Lengthy Caucus—Council Sends Up Bergeron Again—No Choice for Principal Assessor

The common council last evening put an end to the water board contest by electing James F. Furlong to the board, the latter defeating Major Robert E. Crowley by a vote of 17 to 10. Mr. Furlong received the votes of 16 republicans and one democrat, while Major Crowley was favored by nine democrats and one republican.

The council again elected Albert Bergeron by a strict party vote, all the republicans voting for him, while all the democrats voted for Robert E. Crowley.

Two unsuccessful ballots were taken for principal assessor.

President Elliott announced as members of the appropriation committee Messrs. Chapman, Elliott, Fulton and Tracy.

The meeting was preceded by a lengthy caucus of the republicans that will go to the appropriations committee if the aldermen concur.

Water Board Vote

Councilman Achin then moved that the council proceed to ballot for a member of the water board and there was a stir of expectancy among the spectators, followed shortly by a big surprise.

The vote was as follows: For James F. Furlong—Achin, Allard, Berard, Bowers, Chadwick, Cheney, Davis, Delaronde, Elliott, Fulton, Genest, Mahoney, Hanlett, C. B. Rogers, J. J. Rogers, Taylor.

For Robert J. Crowley—Brady, Connors, Corbett, Coughlin, Crowley, Donohoe, Gargan, Mahoney, Tracey, J. J. McCarthy—Councilman Crowley, 1.

For Frank Cheney—Councilmen

Chapman and Genest, 2.

For A. L. Gray—Councilmen Davis, J. J. Rogers, 2.

For Arthur Bartlett—Delaronde, Fulton, Taylor, 3.

All further attempts to ballot were shut off by motions to lay on the table and adjournment was taken until Feb. 7th.

There Was No Choice.

First ballot: For Eugene Queenan—Councilmen Brady, Connors, Corbett, Coughlin, Donohoe, Gargan, Mahoney, Tracey, 9.

For Frank Cheney—Councilmen

Chapman and Genest, 2.

DANCING PARTY

Held By Bon Marche Employees

The annual dancing party under the auspices of the Bon Marche Employees' Mutual Benefit association was held last night at the Associated hall and the event proved to be one of the social successes of the season. The affair was as enjoyable an event as have been the outings conducted by the association in the past and it is a well known fact that the employees of this department store conduct outings in the summer which are second to none.

The success of the affair was due to the untiring and zealous work of each and every employee of the store and the popularity of the members of the association was evidenced by the large attendance.

The hall was artistically decorated, the banners of the association and potted plants producing an excellent stage effect.

A "cozy corner" was also well patronized during the night.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Miss Margaret Murray, Miss Eva Suprenant, Miss Mary Doherty, Miss Kathleen Jennings and Miss Gertrude Holden. There were a number of friends of the association present from out-of-town. During intermission fees were served.

Hilbard's orchestra furnished music for a dance order of 20 numbers with extras and the evening's program was not concluded until after the midnight hour.

The officers of the evening were: General manager, Frank E. McLean; assistant general manager, Eva Suprenant; floor director, Margaret H. Murray; assistant floor directors, Gertrude Holden, Kathleen Jennings, chief aid, Mary Doherty; aids, Mary E. Crowley, Jennie Toke, Loda Delisle, Anna G. Liden, Antoinette Montmarquette, Diana Lavoie, M. J. Cossette, Frank Sullivan, Bert Rhodes, Ralph Treacy, Sidney Whitman, Walter Robinson; matrons, Mrs. E. T. Gilmore, Mrs. Guy Pattison, Mrs. Philip Duval, Mrs. P. J. Ryan, Mrs. W. A. Squire.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very pleasant party was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McLean, of 102 Dunster street, in celebrating the third anniversary of the birth of their daughter, Grace. Refreshments were served and games were enjoyed by the little ones. Baby Grace received many beautiful gifts including a solid gold ring from her grand aunt, Catherine Holland.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

One of the popular dramatic attractions of the current season will be the appearance here of "At the Old Cross Roads," which will be presented at the Opera House on Feb. 2, 3, and 4, by Arthur C. Alston's excellent company of players. It is extremely doubtful if any portion of our own country lends itself more readily to the purposes of the dramatist than the romantic south. The story that it reveals is highly dramatic; the situations and climaxes thrilling in the extreme; but the whole is so happily blended with unctuous comedy scenes and incidents that it charms all. The play gives a splendid opportunity for elaborate toilette display by the feminine portion of the company, which is taken to the best advantage. Manager Alston is credited with furnishing a complete and elaborate production, and best of all has been fortunate in securing an excellent company of ladies and gentlemen of established reputation. In fact the company this year is considered to be the best ever sent out in the play, and will include twenty well-known people.

"BEVERLY"

Amy Leslie, the famous dramatic critic of the Chicago News, in reviewing George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly," writes as follows:

"George Barr McCutcheon's sparkling romance, 'Beverly,' has been exquisitely transformed by the scholarly

In "Beverly," Opera House, Wednesday, Feb. 1st.

Robert M. Baker into a delightful play which was introduced to an attentive and enthusiastic audience at the Studebaker last night. The beautiful stage pictures followed one after the other and the costumes are unique, exciting and full of romance. In the third act there is a fine "Anthony Hope" sort of battle scene with three against one which is quite as pulsing and genuinely thrilling as anything Southern or Hackett used to do. Every minute detail of the production is exact, elegant and gratifying, and for those who urge the preservation of clean sentiment and rugged adventure "Beverly" is bound to delight.

The original Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, cast and production intact will be presented at the Opera House on Wednesday night, Feb. 1.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Berzac's Animal Circus heads a strong bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The circus in itself furnishes a wealth of entertainment, with its wonderfully trained ponies, with its wild rides a revolving table, and its donkey which absolutely refuses to let eager would-be riders mount its back.

Friday night a young donkey for has contracted to ride the donkey for $20 a minute, will attempt the feat.

There is plenty also to interest on the bill. This Leighton has a dainty and unusual offering in which she gives a lot of bright songs.

The moving pictures this week are unusually good. On Friday only the unusual film, "Views of Niagara Falls" will be given.

Those desiring to obtain seats regularly from week to week will be given an opportunity to add their names to the subscription list and to inspect the chart of the theatre, next Friday between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon and 8 and 10 o'clock in the evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

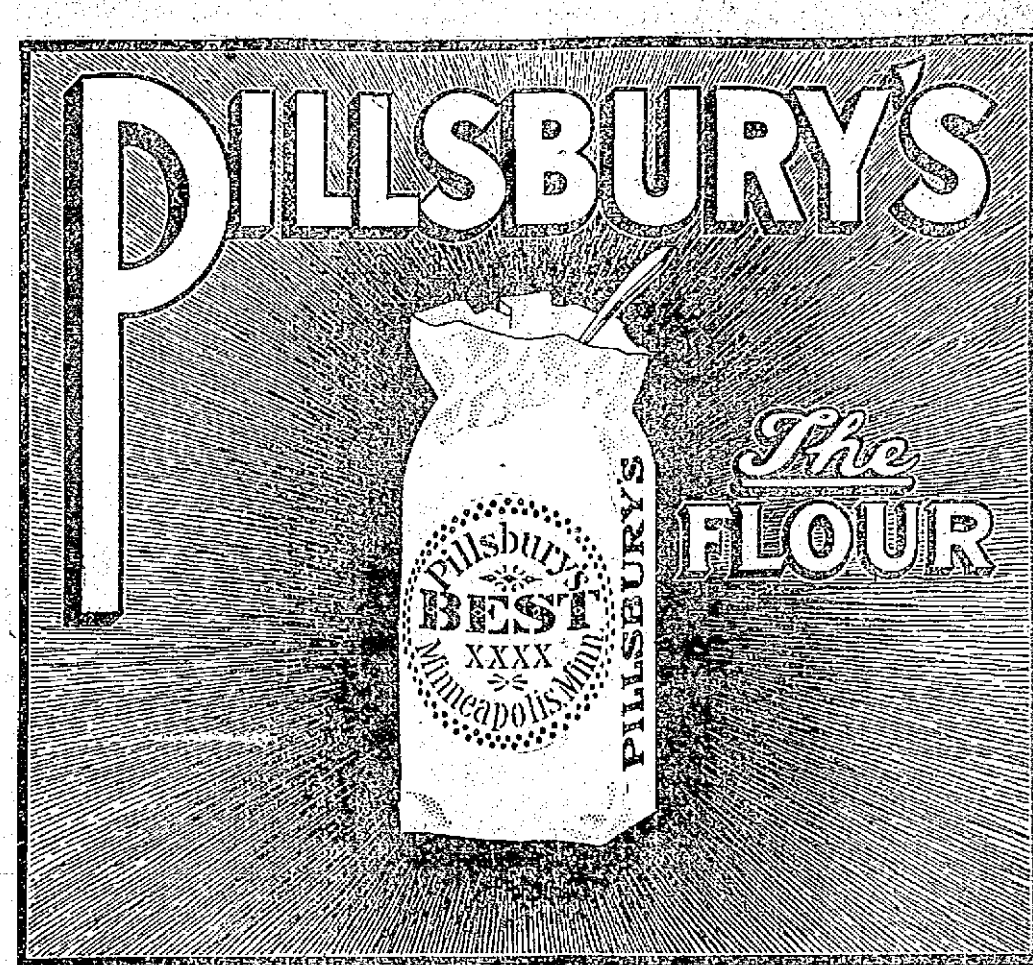

The show at the Academy of Music is considered one of the best of the season by all who have seen it. The Sexton's Dream is a great act and the scenic and electrical effects are truly remarkable and there is some good music rendered in the act and the closing scene where the sexton rings out the Christmas chimes, is very realistic. The Tuxedo Four is the best comedy quartet seen at this theatre for a long time. Lyndon & Dorman have a long act in full of laughs and their appearance in bathing costumes in one of their numbers is very funny. Tonight is amateur night.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Another large sized audience saw Merno, the king of hypnotists, perform his wonderful feats in hypnotism. This act, as well as the Penn City quartet, singers and comedians, George Fickett, acrobatic clown, and Ethel Golden, singing and dancing sextet, close their engagements tonight. Besides the regular show this evening, there will be an extra amount of fun created by Lowell amateurs, as every Wednesday is amateur night.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today's bill at the Theatre Voyons is a fine one, and not one feature is among its many numbers. All are exclusive in Lowell and can be seen in no other house. "The Interest to Dab" is a pleasing drama of commercial life, a comedy, "The Three Men and a Maid" is a real laughing success. Tomorrow the hit will be "Mike the Miser," a drama founded on the life of a messenger boy in a big city, and the little fellow proves to be as much a winner in his ways as many grown up heroes. "Mike" sent his sister to the hospital, where an operation may be performed that will enable her to walk like other girls, and his comrades label him "Mike the Miser," because he does save his money. In the end, however, they discover why he is saving his money and turn to and help him.

SEN. LA FOLLETTE

Is Said to Have His Eye on the Presidency

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—An impression prevails at Washington that Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin will stand forth as the chief anti-Taft champion in the next quadrennial campaign. Evidences multiply that he is coaxing the presidential lightning. Other insurgents of presidential size, as they are called in the western country, seem disposed to yield him full opportunity for the effort.

No other insurgent senator has been quite so wary of the reservation as he in recent weeks. Special inducements from the White House have been waived aside. He has persisted in a neutral position.

His insurgent brethren, including those who have even crossed the White House threshold of late, profess admiration for his attitude and gossip eagerly about the large possibilities of his candidacy. The senate long ago ceased to sneer at his political convictions, and already there is a decided senatorial interest in his White House prospects.

Not that his nomination in 1912 is the republican national convention is really expected. As has been widely said by this time, Taft's renomination is now quite assured, barring only those unforeseen political developments that can come in a period of 18 months.

But well informed politicians know that Senator La Follette can command a considerable western following. They speculate nowadays as to how large and formidable it will be. Some say that La Follette now has a much larger following in the west than Roosevelt and that consequently he can make the republicans a lot of trouble.

But for quick and decisive work during the 1908 preliminaries, Senator La Follette would have captured some of the states that declared for Taft. Few men doubt that he can have Wisconsin for him. The Kansas voters are said to have preferred him in the last presidential campaign. Oregon is expected to instruct delegates in his favor and to do it very early.

By like process of reasoning the insurgent statisticians figure up quite a total of La Follette delegates. The campaign in his behalf, although very quiet thus far, seems to be in full swing. Regulars pool-pool, its importance, although confessing a little uneasiness.

Insurgents say there will certainly be a progressive nominee for president. Thus far they talk it only in whispers, but nevertheless they say that if the democrats nominate a progressive he will receive the western insurgent vote; and if they do not, some insurgent republican will run on an independent republican ticket.

when the train would go thundering over the body.

But to their amazement they heard instead the grating of the brake shoes as they gripped the wheels of the train, the motorman standing with blanched face, but with firm hand on his brake and power controller, hoping against hope to stop his train before it reached the prostrate man. Mr. Soesman, lying flat on his face between the rails, and to the unspeakable surprise and joy of all the eye witnesses of the shocking spectacle the train came to a standstill within an inch of the motionless form. No part of the first car of the train even touched him lightly.

For an instant after the train stopped the crowd upon the platform stood motionless, unable to move or speak, and the motorman himself was like a statue of snow-white marble. When the onlookers realized that the man had not been crushed by the train women became hysterical and screamed and laughed with delight and the men hurried to the aid of the man in the pit. Railroad employees lifted him up to the platform and an ambulance was called. Several policemen from the Court square station were hurried to the scene and soon an ambulance arrived from the Hanover street station. Mr. Soesman was removed to the hospital in haste. He may be able to go to his home today.

Trains were delayed but a very few minutes by the accident and as soon as possible the passengers who had witnessed the terrifying spectacle boarded their trains for home. Many were scared and weakened by their experience.

James A. Fall, the heroic and cool-headed motorman, will not soon be forgotten by the persons who witnessed his action, and his associates and superiors showered him with congratulations last night.

WED IN SECRET

MAN SEEKS DIVORCE FROM HIS WIFE

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Secretly married in Taunton in October, 1905, Harry E. Davey, at present a student in the medical school of Boston university, was the libellant in a suit heard by Judge White in the divorce court yesterday.

Apparently the secret of the marriage went well kept and the acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Davey will hear of it for the first time today. It was agreed between the Daveys that they should not live as man and wife until after he had completed his college course. At the time of the marriage Mr. Davey was in a preparatory school and his wife was a stenographer for a firm in Brockton.

MAN SENDS STAMPS

TO MAKE HIS PEACE WITH GOD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A San Francisco man in a letter to the post office department states that he has made his peace with God by enclosing to the department ten fifty-cent stamps as the equivalent of the amount which he abstracted from a letter many years ago. The letter, he adds, was signed "Kid" and he did not know where it came from.

The writer also indicates that he was at one time engaged in the moonshine whiskey trade in Arkansas and as he now has come into "the great white light" he proposes to refund to the government the amount of revenue which he ducked while in that profession.

HAD A CLOSE CALL

Aged Man Pushed or Fell at Atlantic Ave. Station

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Crowds of passengers on the platform of the State street station of the elevated railway witnessed a harrowing scene and a miraculous escape from death at 6.24 last evening, when a man fell into the train track in front of a rapidly approaching train, which was not more than a car length away.

The motorman of the train, James A. Fall of 16 Elmwood street, Roxbury, was the hero of the incident, for by great presence of mind and quick action he brought his train to a stop as the man lay prostrate in the middle of the track.

Isaac Soesman, 62 years old, married and living at 9 Templeton way, Dorchester, was the victim of the accident. He was taken to the City hospital relief station suffering from a compound fracture of the nose and lacerations of the head, face, arms, legs and body.

The accident happened during the rush hour when workers were flocking to the elevated stations and thronging the trains. A great crowd of men and women were on the platform of the State street station of the Atlantic avenue line and among them was Mr. Soesman, aged and infirm, who had some packages under his arm.

Just as the train was approaching at the usual speed the crowd began surging, according to Mr. Soesman's version of the affair and the police report, and he was pushed off the platform into the pit, a distance of six feet, directly in front of the train.

The official report of the company says that Soesman fell off the platform into the pit.

FUNERAL OF PHILLIPS

Will be Held in "Little Church
Around the Corner"

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The funeral of David Graham Phillips, who died in Bellevue hospital shortly before midnight from the effects of an assassin's bullet, will be held in the Protestant Episcopal church of the Transfiguration, affectionately known to many as "The little church around the corner." The services will be in charge of Rev. Dr. George Chouton, pastor of the church, which since its establishment has been dedicated to the use of these who toil in the fields of art and letters. The arrangements for the burial are all in the hands of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who was one of the writer's most intimate friends.

Mr. Phillips' death came so late in the night that many of his colleagues in literature and business did not hear of it until this morning. As the news reached them their personal regret was increased by their feeling, expressed almost unanimously in the brief statements which they gave out, that he had been killed at the beginning of a career that meant much for American letters. Robert W. Chambers, who had been perhaps his closest associate in New York, said:

"He was one of the best of men. He was high minded and true; one of the finest of American writers. His best work seemed yet to come—he was just finding himself and had struck a vein that promised richly for the future."

Miss Hildagard Hawthorne, speaking of her personal acquaintance with Mr. Phillips, said:

"The desire to work out the ideas of his country and his age was always uppermost in his ambition and he was growing so rapidly toward his ideal in this direction that his friends had already allotted him a lofty place in letters. We believed him destined to lasting fame as the exponent of American life and the problems that beset it."

While Mr. Phillips was breathing his last in his hospital room a silent procession from a nearby undertaker's was carrying the body of his assassin, Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, to the railroad station in Jersey City. The casket was put aboard a train at midnight and shipped to Washington, where the young fanatic will be buried tomorrow.

That Mr. Phillips' assassin was a devoted admirer to have been demonstrated conclusively, not only by the testimony of his diary and notebooks, but also by his appeals to Mayor Gaynor's secretary and other officials for protection from persons who he believed were hounding him. The entries in the diary showed that he had translated to personal abuse the author's picturesque characterization of a class in his novel of Washington life, "The Adventures of Joshua Craig," and under this misconstruction had conceived a homicidal hatred of which the victim was unaware.

Mr. Phillips was born in Madison, Ind., in 1895, was a Princeton graduate and unmarried. He was one of the Indiana group of story tellers which includes Booth Tarkington, George Ade, Meredith Nicholson, Charles Major and others. He had written twenty novels—many "best sellers" among them—and numerous magazine articles.

His father was David Graham Phillips, a banker. His mother is now living in Los Angeles, Cal. Besides Mrs. Prevert, the sister with whom he made his home in New York, there is a second sister, Mrs. McCalland, living in Indiana, and a third, Mrs. Oliver Kinsey, living in Georgia.

SEN. BEVERIDGE

TO HAVE CHARGE OF FUNERAL OF AUTHOR PHILLIPS

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The body of David Graham Phillips, the slain novelist, probably will be laid to rest among the hills of Greenwood cemetery in Brooklyn. Beyond this no announcement was forthcoming during this forenoon from the little group of the dead writer's friends and relatives entrusted with the mission of arranging his funeral.

Mrs. Caroline Prevert, who stood at her brother's bedside as the author breathed his last shortly before midnight, and Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Phillips' close friend, visited the cemetery this morning with the intention of selecting the spot for the grave. The body was taken from Bellevue hospital to an undertaker's establishment on Fourth avenue and will be transferred later to the National Arts club, the writer's former home. George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia, and Samuel Bythe, associates of Phillips during his lifetime, are assisting Senator Beveridge in arranging for the funeral. The time and place of holding services were expected to be announced this afternoon. From what could be learned of the ideas of the dead writer's friends and relatives on the matter, it seemed probable that a private funeral would be decided upon and that the first idea of holding public church services might be abandoned.

The body of Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, the poet musician who slew Phillips, which was borne to the railroad station in Jersey City as the novelist was breathing his last, will be buried in Washington today. What is regarded as an explanation for his crime—or the explanation that might be given by a man obsessed—is found in extracts from his diary, made public by the district attorney, and a statement made today by Goldsborough's uncle, T. Powers Farr, of this city.

"Fitzhugh had all the eccentricities of genius," Mr. Farr said. "The entire family is musical, and the development of music seemed to have been strongest in the boy. He was far from being practical. He was most courtly in his ideas about women, and we are of the opinion that he became infatuated with Mr. Phillips because of his treatment of some of his women characters in his books. We think he brooded over this until he began to look upon Mr. Phillips as an enemy and decided to kill him. We can explain his mad action in no other way."

Phillips died game, sustained by his splendid willpower, to the last. He knew that the end was at hand, yet buoyed his courage with the oft-repeated declaration that he would not die. As the final moment approached, however, he realized that death was beckoning.

"I could fight two wounds, but not six. I fear that the odds are too great against me," were his last words, whispered to Dr. Eugene Fuller.

SENATE PASSES BILL

To Provide for Less Expensive Federal Suits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congress is making it less expensive to conduct a lawsuit in the federal courts. This is somewhat in line with President Taft's insistence upon reform in judicial procedure, although it does not go as far as the president would like. The agitation against excessive fees in the federal courts began many years ago. The senate has just enacted a bill to cut off many of those fees, the house judiciary committee has made a favorable report thereon, and the bill now awaits action by the popular legislative branch.

It is pretty well understood among lawyers that considerable injustice is done because of these charges, and that sometimes litigants are kept from going to law because of them. Only the federal courts are meant in this connection. Congress has no authority over the state tribunals. It is asserted in extracts from the bill that times made it a practice to fight litigants through such instrumentalities, knowing that the expense would be a bar.

Representative Clayton of Alabama, in reporting favorably the senate bill referred to, cited instances of what it costs at present for clerks' fees to fight a lawsuit through all the courts to the United States supreme court. He showed that when a person starts a lawsuit in a federal court, he generally gets it under way by having it referred to a commissioner, a referee in bankruptcy, or an examiner or master in chancery for the purpose of having the testimony taken. From that point the case travels to the trial court, and thence, step by step, and if it goes that far the litigants have to pay for the record five different times, even though the work is an exact duplicate. It works out like this:

1.—The stenographer's transcript of the testimony to be used in the hearing on the merits. This is at the rate of 15 cents a folio for the original and five cents a folio for copies, exclusive of per diem for attendance by the commissioner, at $1; by the master in chancery at $20.

2.—A certified copy of the record, including another transcript of testimony, to the circuit court of appeals. 3.—The printing of the record in the circuit court of appeals, in addition to cost of copying original papers on file for printer's use.

4.—A certified copy of the record from the circuit court of appeals to the supreme court.

5.—The printing of the record in the supreme court. Among the cases cited by Mr. Clayton was one from Seattle, in which the fees paid the various clerks of the courts, up to and into the supreme court, amounted to $5159.50. This, of course, was exclusive of the fees paid the lawyers on each side and exclusive of a number of other court fees, such as the marshal's fees, etc.

In this case the fees in getting from the examiner to the trial court were $322.60. Then the master in chancery took $395.80 more. The clerk of the circuit court, for preparing and certifying the record on appeal to the circuit court of appeals collected $402.90. In the circuit court of appeals the clerk charged $1469.60 for printing 30 copies of the record, and $888.60 more for certifying the record on appeal to the supreme court.

In the supreme court the clerk took first, as the clerk's fee $587.60; then he charged $1012.50 for printing the record, and for good measure he also levied an attorney's docket fee of $20, or a total of $1620.10 for his share.

There is no escape for the litigant. Both the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court have rules providing that if the clerk does not get his money in advance he shall not print the record, and if the record is not printed the case is dismissed.

The pending bill provides that the unnecessary reprinting and duplicating of the record be omitted, so that one printing will do all the way through a case. It also cuts off some of the other graft of the clerks by dispensing with a lot of transcribing for which the clerks have been paid fat fees regarded as totally unnecessary.

PROPOSED CANAL

Will Take in Part of the Merrimack River

Vice President O. L. Frisbee, of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, of New Hampshire, who has been energetically pushing a project for the extension of the Atlantic deeper waterway from Boston to Maine, and who secured the adoption by the Providence convention of a resolution approving his project, is still at work. In a letter to the Monitor and Statesman, of Concord, New Hampshire, he gives an explanation of the effect of such an extension as follows:

I was pleased to read the letter in your paper on October 25, 1910, on the revival of the American commercial marine. It is gospel truth. The people do not realize that we are building the Panama canal with no American ships to use it.

I am equally surprised at the indifference of the people of New Hampshire to the improvement of our waterways, while the rest of the country are doing their utmost to secure cheap transportation by waterways.

They do not realize that we pay three times more for transportation every year than we pay to run the government. They do not realize that New England paid last year $70,000,000 to get $39,000,000 worth of coal to use at their firesides and their mills, and New Hampshire paid her part of it. Transportation affects the price of everything, anything anybody buys, sells, eats, wears or uses in any way, water, air and sunshine excepted. Some people use their energy to secure parcels post and low express rates which might bring their send cheaper, but are indifferent to the transportation of their products. Water transportation is from one-sixth to one-tenth of rail transportation. The first problem of the world is still the great problem of the world, how to feed the people. It is our duty to provide transportation of food stuffs, as well as to produce it. The improvement of our waterways alone solve the problem.

We need these waterways not only for foodstuffs, but to secure our raw material for our mills and to send our finished products to market. We should find out the best possible means to transport the products of the people and then do all in our power to secure these means. That is what other sections of our country are doing. Today, Friday, Oct. 28, there is a meeting of the United States engineers at Boston relative to securing 25 feet draught for the proposed canal from Narragansett bay to Boston. This canal will give cheap transportation to Brockton and other towns and cities on the canal. This is to be a part of the interstate canal from Maine to Texas.

The waterway convention at Providence, Aug. 31, 1910, endorsed the extension of this canal to Maine. The canal would be from Boston to the Merrimack river, 27 miles; thence nine miles to the tidewater of the Piscataqua river at Exeter, down Exeter river, Great bay and Piscataqua river to Maine. This canal would give the Merrimack river in Massachusetts three choices of routes to get to the sea without breaking cargo. The valley of the Merrimack river in New Hampshire could secure the choice of two routes to get to the sea, by the river, or cut a sea barge canal to Exeter and save breaking cargo and thus save from 25 cents to 40 cents a ton on freight. It would give water transportation to Concord. Manchester would become a seaport like the city whose name it bears in England. She would be a distributing point for New Hampshire and Vermont, and it might be a "free port," like Hamburg and Bremen, which are from 60 to 100 miles from the sea. The rest of New England is securing cheap transportation. New Hampshire must secure the same or be greatly handicapped in maintaining her industrial position among the other states.

BUILDING PERMITS

WERE ISSUED BY INSPECTOR DOW TODAY

The figures given out by Inspector Dow of the lands and buildings department, relative to the number of permits issued from his office for new buildings, additions and alterations show a good increase over the previous year. The totals were given in The Sun, yesterday. Today there were issued at the office of the inspector a permit for a building at 30 Dover St. The petitioner was W. L. Cavene. Another was a permit for an addition to a store at 23 Cady street. This permit was given to John H. Hayden. The John Dennis Machine Co. was granted a permit to build a storage building of brick on the westerly side of Saunders street. Pascal Harnois was granted a permit for additions and alterations in the building numbered 474 Moody street.

PHILLIPS IS DEAD

DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS

BODY OF ASSAILANT

Author Shot by Goldsborough Passed Away Last Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—David Graham Phillips' lost his brave fight for life. He died in Bellevue hospital last night, a victim of a fatal wound.

Phillips fought valiantly to live, but six bullet holes were too much for his grit and sturdy constitution. He was conscious up to within a quarter of an hour of his death which occurred at exactly 11.05. At the bedside were his sister, Mrs. Carolyn Phillips, his brother, Harrison W. Phillips, of New York, and the physicians.

The immediate cause of death was hemorrhage of the right lung, which had been pierced by one of the steel-clad bullets from Goldsborough's automatic pistol.

Up to 9 o'clock the novelist was resting quietly and both physicians and relatives were hopeful of the outcome. He had been conscious all day and had received visitors, among them his sister, his brother, U. S. Senator Beveridge of Indiana, and several writers of note.

"His visits were extremely brief but all who came away appeared optimistic. About 9 o'clock last night the patient took a turn for the worse and although the surgeons did everything in their power, the end was inevitable. The physicians concerned met immediately after the death and decided to request the coroner to dispense with an autopsy. It is believed this request will be granted.

Harrison Phillips announced that Senator Beveridge will have charge of the funeral arrangements. The senator returned to Washington yesterday afternoon, but will probably come back to New York today.

HOPPE RETIRES

The Famous Billiardist Gives Up
$25,000 a Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Willie Hoppe, the most marvelous billiardist of generations, champion at the 18.1 and 18.2 ballgame, announced last night his retirement from professional billiards. He will become a partner of his father-in-law, Thomas W. Walsh, of 141 West Ninety-fifth street, a wealthy clothier.

Hoppe was married to Miss Alice Walsh in Baltimore on December 11. It was an elopement. He met Miss Walsh by appointment at the home of one of her friends and they ran off to Baltimore and were married at the Cathedral by the Rev. P. C. Gavan, Chancellor of the Archdiocese.

Mr. Walsh was angry for a time, but finally sent his congratulations to the young couple. It appears that his only objection to young Hoppe, who had been a constant visitor at the house, was that he was a professional billiardist. Mr. Walsh took the young couple into his home.

Last night Hoppe communicated his decision to retire to his manager, R. L. Mark. The latter promptly cancelled all engagements for professional appearances by Hoppe throughout the country.

Hoppe sacrificed a salary of $5000 a year he has been receiving from the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., the manufacturers of billiard tables, and an income from billiard matches of about $20,000 a year. He has been receiving $500 for every exhibition in addition to the gate receipts, a big percentage of which went to him. His custom was to bet $500 in every match and he has been a consistent winner. Willie Hoppe has been playing billiards since he was twelve years old. At that time his father, Frank Hoppe, took him and his younger brother, Frank Hoppe, Jr., around the country giving exhibitions. It was necessary for the boys to stand on soap boxes in order to see over the top of tables and make shots. Willie became known as the "boy wonder."

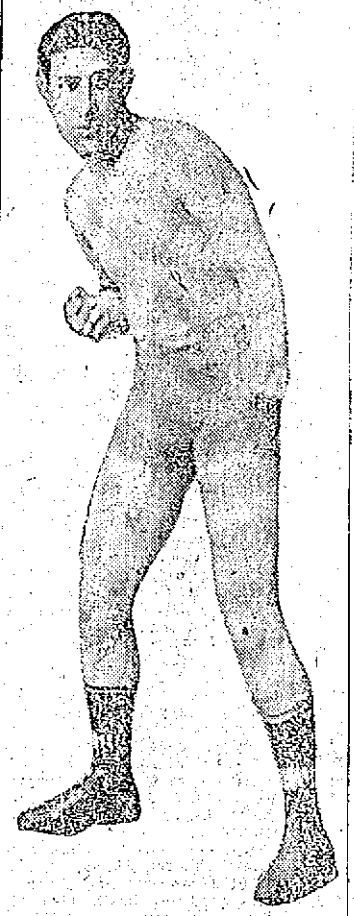

When still in his teens he went to Paris and defeated Maurice Vignaux, recognized at that time as the "old master" of billiards. By this feat he attracted international attention. On his return to New York he was challenged by George Slosson, known as "The Student." He defeated Slosson decisively in a match game in Madison Square Garden before the largest crowd that ever saw a billiard match in this country.

From that time Willie Hoppe has been known as the greatest billiard player in the world. He has defeated such experts as Harry Cline, of Philadelphia; George Sutton and Calvin Demarest, at Chicago; Albert G. Cutler of Boston, and Ora Morningstar, of this city.

Hoppe is the only billiardist who over held the 18.1 and the 18.2 billiard championships at the same time. On November 29 of last year, in a match game in Philadelphia, with Joseph Mayer, the amateur champion, Hoppe established a high-run record of 155 points at 18.1 p.m. The best previous record was made by Hoppe four weeks before, when he clicked off 151 points.

In December he again defeated George Slosson at Madison Square Garden, and in this match established a new world's average for a 500-point match. His average was 33 1-3.

On December 27 Hoppe appeared at the White House at the invitation of President Taft and gave an exhibition of billiards for the entertainment of the president and his official family.

SILVER MAY DIE

He Fell 25 Feet on Fellow Workman

WORCESTER, Jan. 25.—Asaph Silver, aged 48, of Brookside avenue, employed in cutting ice at Tatnuck yesterday, nearly killed himself and a fellow workman, William Jenkins, aged 55, of 1150 Main street, by losing his balance on a gallery and tumbling 25 feet on Jenkins, who was working on the ground.

Silver fractured both legs at the ankle; both arms at the wrist and all the ribs of his left side. He is in the city hospital with little hope for his recovery. Jenkins is also in the city hospital with a broken nose, several bad body bruises and internal injuries, although he is not considered in a serious condition.

Silver, who is a member of the "Futnick Ice Company," was on a gallery using a block and tackle in hoisting ice, when he lost his balance and tumbled over backward. Jenkins, who was standing directly below, broke the force of the fall, but both men received their injuries by coming in contact with the sharp edges of the ice blocks with which the ground was strewn.

ALLEGED BANDIT

Was Placed in an Insane Ward

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 25.—Ernest Wilhelm Lorenz, the alleged bandit, formerly of New Bedford and Wareham, Mass., was last night placed in the new state prison insane ward, and there he will be kept until the further order by the high courts.

Lorenz was captured by a jury on the charge of the murder of Gilbert Mann and also on five charges of highway robbery on the county roads about Providence. Attorney Greenough says he is determined to keep Lorenz secure from escape by having him constantly behind the bars. The new ward was authorized by the legislature since Lorenz's capture just a year ago this month.

Lorenz's counsel, Assemblyman West, stated last night that he will make a legal fight against his incarceration in that manner, and will soon institute habeas corpus proceedings. West further avers that there is in reality no such thing as an insane ward at the present time. He states that he visited the state institutions a few days ago and asked to be shown the prison insane ward and was told by prison officials that there was no such place. It is claimed that ground has not even been broken as yet for the erection of such a ward and for these reasons Lawyer West claims that incarceration in the "prison insane ward" would be practically incarceration in state prison and to this he objects.

AN ARMED CLASH

Sailors Engaged in Fight on Board Steamer

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—In an armed clash between two Malay clans 11 days ago while the German Steamer Trifels was in mid-ocean one seaman was slashed perhaps fatally with a knife and four others were cut about the face and clubbed.

The steamer arrived at East Boston last night from Calcutta, India. In the hold 14 Malays from the Malay peninsula, set upon five Malays from Borneo, with knives and clubs following a dispute over rations.

Only the intervention of about 20 Calcutta lascars, also members of the crew, saved the Borneo Malays.

Honorable Nathaniel of Borneo lies in an improved hospital room with a deep gash in his abdomen, inflicted, it is charged, by a youthful Malay peon-sular sailor called Chidura. The alleged assailant is now in irons.

A squabble at that personal, between the two men, precipitated a riot when their friends on the deck saw, as they alleged, Chidura draw a knife and bury it deep in his enemy's body. Cries in Malay of "Kill the Borneo men" set all the Malays fighting.

The officers at first stood powerless to stop the fight and fears were felt for the lives of the Borneo sailors, who were outnumbered by their rivals from across the straits.

Knives flashed and kicks and blows with fists and clubs knocked down some and drew blood on the heads and hands of others. Other sailors ran about the deck not seeming to know what to do and for a few minutes there was great confusion.

A crowd of 25 or 30 of the lascars rushed among the Malays on orders of the officers and finally stopped the battle. The Malays who were wielding knives were quickly disarmed by the lascars.

So great was the noise caused by the battle that Captain Carl Follars and First Officer Fritz Goerdes came rushing out of their quarters on the upper deck, some distance away from the scene of the conflict.

In previous voyages troubles among the Malay sailors have arisen largely owing to sectional quarrels. A few of the Borneo sailors have been taken on because they have been found working. Threats of reduced rations and extra duties in case they molested the men from Borneo kept the peninsula Malays from making any further demonstrations during the voyage.

Rev. Fr. Brindley, O. M. I., chaplain of U. Association Notre-Dame de Bonsecours, will give a lecture tonight at the installation of the latter's officers, which will take place at C. M. A. C. hall. In addition to his talk, a musical program will be given under the direction of Miss Albina Alexander.

Miss Nesta Patenaude entertained a number of her little friends at her home, 75 Quebec street, yesterday afternoon, from 4 to 7 o'clock. The occasion was her seventh birthday anniversary. Miss Patenaude received a number of pretty gifts. During the afternoon Miss Ella McNabb gave a number of play selections while the little hostess entertained with the phonograph. Refreshments were served, after which the little guests left, wishing Miss Nesta many more happy birthdays.

A copy of the smallest Bible on earth is in the possession of Mr. Thomas White, manager of the Academy of Music. Mr. White likes to lend encouragement to good acts and he will give a season ticket to any man, woman or child who will read a chapter in his tiny Bible without the aid of a magnifying glass. Despite the fact that it is not larger than a postage stamp and not quite one-quarter of an inch thick, it contains the New Testament complete and illustrated.

The January meeting of the Lydia Darrah chapter, I. A. R., was held at the Spaulding house Saturday afternoon. Mrs. George Putnam read a very interesting paper on John Paul Jones. The delegates elected to attend the Continental congress in Washington on April 19th were: the regent, Mrs. Sarah T. Young; alternate, Mrs. James H. McKinley; alternate, Mrs. Ralph Shaw; delegate, Mrs. E. J. Neale; alternate, Mrs. A. J. Alley; alternate, Mrs. Frank Wiegman. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kitchen, Mrs. Funtun and Mrs. Hill.

The members of the Wilson Bible class of the Chalmers Street Baptist church, gave one of their number a genuine and delightful surprise last night, when they called at the home of Charles Barton of 32 Newell street, and presented him a bouquet of 40 pinkies. The occasion was made possible by the fact that it was Mr. Barton's 40th birthday. Both the call and the gift were entirely unexpected on the part of Mr. Barton, and he was deeply moved at his friends' thoughtfulness. The evening proved a most happy one throughout. A delicious oyster supper was served by Mrs. Barton, to whom the secret of the visit had been imparted. L. C. Durrell, president of the class, made the presentation.

NEW MANICURE PARLOR

One of the latest additions to the many departments of the Lowell Sun is a very neat cosy corner that will be used as manicuring room. Today, is the opening day of this new department and judging from appearances it is destined to become quite popular. It is light, bright and airy; located on the second floor of this great department store and very easy of access. This department will be presided over by a lady expert in the manicuring profession. One very particular attraction to this new department will be the price for manicuring will be twenty-five cents, while the usual price in other establishments is fifty cents. A feature that will certainly make this the most popular manicure parlor in the city.

WHITE BURLEY CROP LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 25.—Whether there shall be a crop of white burley tobacco grown in 1911 will depend largely on the outcome of today's meeting here of the legislative board of the recently organized Burley Tobacco union. The board gathered to hear reports from mass meetings in Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Missouri and Kentucky, where the farmers voted on the question at issue.

A large majority of the counties in the Burley districts of the five states declared in favor of abandoning the 1911 crop; others voted that a crop be grown this year and none next while still others declared for a crop in 1911 and for allowing 1912 to take care of itself. It is believed that if a "cut-out" is ordered nightingale will be cut out.

WITH GLASS EYES

Clergyman is Enabled to See

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—With two glass eyes the Rev. Dr. William C. Winslow, noted archaeologist, editor, author, lecturer and explorer, of 525 Beacon street, has been enabled to see again by an infinitely delicate surgical operation.

As the result of incurable cataracts some four years ago, Dr. Winslow, while conducting a parish service, noticed a sudden blurring of light with darkness and found himself unable to read the text. His sight continued to weaken until finally everything became as a blank. He consulted Dr. Frederick M. Spalding, who advised an operation, in which the natural lenses of the eyes should be removed and glass lenses substituted.

Last November Dr. Winslow was taken to the Bessey hospital, and Dr. Spalding, with the help of two assistants, performed the delicate feat. The lower eyelashes were trimmed off, and cocaine injected as a local anesthetic. An eye machine for holding the eye lids apart was then attached, and with the aid of the most delicate instruments the lenses were cut and removed from the eyes. The operation was but a few minutes and when the lenses were removed Dr. Winslow was able to see the faces of those about him.

The eyes were then bandaged for 22 days, after which, wearing a heavy shade, Dr. Winslow was conducted to his residence. Here he was confined to a dark room for two months, which he describes as being the most pleasant period of convalescence a person could experience. With a knowledge that he was to regain his sight, daily visits from Bishop and Mrs. Lawrence, Dean Briggs and a number of the prominent clergymen of the city, the convalescence was happily spent.

After his eyes had regained their strength the glass lenses were substituted. These serve as well as the natural ones, and by their aid the picture the contours the eye is flashed to the brain. Without them there is nothing but a glare of light. The operation is regarded as one of the most remarkable ever performed and is the first of its kind. The smallest and most delicate knives imaginable were used in the operation. After much difficulty a suitable antiseptic was found in the white of an egg and nature of seller.

Dr. Winslow's first public appearance since the operation was at the recent consecration service for Bishop Atwood of Arizona. He has since attended the Boston Opera House and very much enjoyed the performance.

TOOK OATH OF OFFICE

George H. Fuller, surveyor of lumber and measurer of wood and bark, appointed by Mayor Macnamara and confirmed by the city council, took oath of office this forenoon in the city clerk's office. There was a time when minor officers did not have to give their signatures at city hall when sworn but simply took the oath of office. Now they must sign and have their oath recorded.

Colored Penman Testified That He Wrote the Kelly Notes

The third day in the Kelly note case so-called, saw the conclusion of the case before Judge Hittchock in the Equity court today.

The case on hearing was brought by Mrs. Mary C. Leach, step-daughter of "Stonewall" Kelly, to whom, by the terms of his will, Mr. Kelly left the larger part of his estate. After the will was probated, John T. Green, a cousin of Mr. Kelly, and with whom the old man lived, during the latter part of his life, brought forward six promissory notes, aggregating $15,750, payable to himself, his wife and four of his brothers, as a valid claim against the estate. Mrs. Leach, who is executrix of her step-father's will, through her counsel brought a bill in equity to have the notes given up for cancellation, claiming that they were not signed by George G. Kelly, that there was no valid consideration, and that the notes were never delivered.

At yesterday's session Dr. Bennett F. Davenport of Boston, a handwriting expert, testified that the signatures on the notes are not genuine. "It is utterly impossible," he said, "for a writer to make any such identical duplication of his signature, by free writing." Even the punctuation marks correspond, he said.

Under cross-examination by H. R. Lawrence, Dr. Davenport said that he had talked with a person whom he had reason to believe, wrote the body of the notes and the two other documents; but he said the subject of the notes was not mentioned between them.

FORGERY CHARGE IGNORED

NIGHT EDITION LOSS IS $60,000

Disastrous Fire in Lawrence This Afternoon

LAWRENCE, Jan. 25.—Fire which broke out from some unknown cause in the brick storehouse of the Plymouth Fibre mills on Marston street this afternoon caused heavy damage. The structure was gutted and finished goods to the value of $60,000, according to Manager Read, were consumed. The property was partially insured. The firemen had great difficulty in preventing the blaze from spreading to surrounding mill property.

TREASURES SLASHED

Vandals Invaded the Home of Giovanni Morosini

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—"Elmhurst," the wonder place at Riverdale-on-the-Hudson, and some times a house of mystery during the lifetime of Giovanni P. Morosini, was visited by vandals during the honeymoon trip of its chateaufort, who was Miss Galla Morosini, from which she returned yesterday.

Miss Morosini was married on January 12 to Arthur M. Werner, a former politician, who saved her life while he was serving as a mounted officer on the Speedway.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner left immediately after the ceremony for a fortnight's journey in the south. For years the house has been carefully policed by private watchmen, and the grounds guarded by dogs. In addition there was a deadly electric circuit which was employed at night to protect the store of treasures in the rooms on the main floor of the house.

Werner was employed as superintendent of the place as a reward for his gallantry in rescuing Miss Morosini from peril and also because of his police training. His wife obtained a divorce from him, and after the death of the wealthy banker Werner assumed full charge of the estate. When he married Miss Morosini and left on his honeymoon trip his last duty was to see that the house would be amply protected during his absence.

Yesterday afternoon when they entered the house, which had been closed and guarded during their absence, they received a first impression that it had been ransacked by burglars.

Drawing room, library and the celebrated armory, a 100 foot wing of the house which contains the greatest private collection of arms and armor in this country, if not in the world, were turned upside down, tossed about, as though a cyclone had swept through them. Figures were overturned, rugs trampled and torn, and the celebrated Gobelin tapestries ripped down and mutilated. Werner remained downstairs while his wife ran upstairs to find what damage had been done there.

In her apartments the scene of ruin was more complete than on the first floor. All of her most treasured possessions had been scattered about her closets, which contained her magnificent gowns and hats, upon which she had spent a large fortune, had been forced open.

Their finery had been ripped from hooks and torn from chests and boxes and slashed or torn into ribbons. Everything that could be counted a really personal and treasured possession of the former Miss Morosini was destroyed beyond hope with painstaking care.

Mrs. Werner hurried to report the damage upstairs and found her husband still puzzled by the wreckage downstairs. He had been going through the rooms which he had left but two weeks ago, rich in treasures from all parts of the world and especially in the art of Venice of the middle age and making a mental inventory. To his great surprise he had failed to note any of the chief objects missing, and when he heard his wife's report he decided that it was vandalism rather than burglary that they had to deal with.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 25.—Before midnight four troops of the third cavalry stationed at Fort Sam Houston will be on their way to the Mexican border to preserve the neutrality laws during the Mexican insurrection which, it is said here, has again assumed serious aspects.

JUDGE HITCHCOCK THE SCHENK CASE

Threw Out the Notes in the Kelly Case

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Without deciding on the validity of the notes, Judge Hitchcock, in the superior court today decided in favor of Mrs. Mary C. Deagh, of Exeter, N. H., executrix of the will of George Green Kelly, of Lowell, ruling that notes against the estate made out to John T. Green and amounting to $15,750, had no value because there had been no delivery by Kelly. In the original petition Mrs. Leach alleged that the signatures of the notes were forgeries. Judge Hitchcock, after hearing the evidence for two days, ignored the forgery charge, but threw out the notes because they were found in an envelope among Kelly's possessions. He ordered the notes returned to Mrs. Leach.

JIMMIE GARDNER

To Meet Klaus in Boston Next Week

At the Armory club, Boston, last evening, it was announced that the main bout next Tuesday will be between Jimmie Gardner of this city and Frank Klaus of Philadelphia, and the announcement was greeted with a storm of applause. This will be the third meeting of this great pair of mitt artists, and all of the Lowell sporting fraternity will be at the ring-side.

Of Expenses of the City Departments

The estimates for the different departments for the year 1911, have been submitted to the mayor and some of them were published in The Sun yesterday. Most of the estimates show an increase over the expenses of last year, but departments always allow for a cut down and they generally get it.

The expense account to the assessors department, salaries for 1910, was $12,238.31, and the department's estimate for the current year is $12,550. Other expenses for this department for the past year were $13,238.69 as against an estimate for this year of $13,821.40. The totals for this department are as follows: expense, 1910, $16,377.75, and the estimate for 1911 is $16,900. This is the tax list expense. The totals for the auditor's department is $12,588.95 as compared with $13,950, as an estimate for 1911; salaries, $3,890; other expenses, $11,048.95; receipts, $160; total expense, $5158.95.

Accompanying his report the auditor adds the following lines: "There has been a demand for more annual reports which cannot be met without a larger appropriation to pay for printing the same."

Buildings Department

A partial report of this department has already appeared in The Sun relative to expense and estimates. The work of this department for the year has been very creditable, and Mr. Dow has been congratulated by those concerned and interested in public buildings' additions and improvements. The total expenditures of this department for the year 1910 are $23,738.28. The revenue in the general treasury for the year 1910 is $102, and the estimated revenue for 1911 is $150.

CITY COMMITTEE

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET TO NIGHT TO ORGANIZE

The democratic city committee will meet at 8 o'clock tonight for the purpose of organization. The meeting will be held in Labor hall, 22 Middle street. It is said that there will be a contest for the chairmanship between Cornelius J. Cronin and Ex-Councilman Thomas J. Connors of ward two.

PLEADED GUILTY

NORTHAMPTON, Jan. 25.—Frank Malley pleaded guilty in the district court here today to a charge of larceny of $600 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Mabelle Churchill, wife of Prof. Churchill of Amherst college. Malley is alleged to have taken the jewelry several months ago while employed as a butler in Prof. Churchill's home in Amherst. He then disappeared, but after a long search the state police located him in Long Island city.

WHIST PARTY

PAWTUCKETVILLE SOCIAL CLUB SCORED A VICTORY

The members of the Chetons Americans club were badly defeated last night by the members of the Pawtucketville Social club, in a whist tournament. The score was 427 to 359 in favor of the latter club. Another similar meet will take place next Tuesday at the Pawtucketville Social club rooms. The whist tournament, organized among the members of the Pawtucketville Social club some time ago, came to a close last night. The prizes will be

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 25.—The last day of the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with poisoning her husband, John O. Schenk, opened at 9 o'clock and before night it is expected that the case will be in the hands of the jury. The jurors are practically worn out under the strain and for this reason it is expected a verdict will be reached quickly.

S. O. Boyce, senior counsel for the defense, who was in the midst of his argument when adjournment arrived last night, resumed this morning and it is expected that he will engage the time of the court until noon. Mr. Boyce had reached a point last night where he was to take up the testimony of Daniel Z. Phillips, the piano salesman who swore to various alleged clandestine meetings with Mrs. Schenk, and as the courtroom clock pointed to the hour Mr. Boyce addressed Judge L. S. Jordan and announced that he needed to summon all his physical strength to do justice to that part of the evidence and he therefore asked that he be permitted to continue today.

For the first time since Judge Jordan issued his decree barring women from the courtroom while the trial was in progress he released this morning and permitted a woman news writer to sit with the other reporters. From a point of vantage in the clock tower yesterday, it is stated, a number of society women took up positions where they could see all that was going on in the court, but Judge Jordan did not notice them. He was busy listening to the address of J. P. O'Brien and there were times when his handkerchief came from his pocket and he surreptitiously sought to wipe away the salt-tear tears as did many others in the audience, through Mr. O'Brien's eloquent pleading.

Attorney Boyce represented the defense at this morning's session.

He attacked Dan Phillips, who, he declared, had wormed his way into the confidence of Mrs. Schenk only to betray her.

A sensation developed today when it became known that the United States senate through the investigation of criminal law administration had taken a hand in the case of Mrs. Schenk. It has been maintained by the defense that "third degree" methods have been used by the authorities for the purpose of extorting alleged confessions or testimony against the defendant. One of these was in relation to the woman herself, when the prosecution last Saturday morning made the claim that it had her confession in part, which the defense characterized as an untruth. As the result of the publication of this statement of the prosecution and the report of J. P. O'Brien, the latter, early Sunday, received a telegram from Louis J. Cermody of the committee of the senate to investigate the administration of the criminal law in which he asks whether there is anything to show third degree methods used by the prosecution to force this alleged statement from your client. And watching this case carefully and will appreciate anything you may do to help me.

SENATOR DUPONT

WAS RE-ELECTED IN JOINT SESSION

DOVER, Del., Jan. 25.—Henry A. Dupont was re-elected United States senator without republican opposition on the first ballot taken in joint session by the Delaware legislature at noon today.

State Senator Drexler again voted for Robert C. Houston but seeing that all the other republican members voted for Senator Dupont he changed his vote from Houston to Dupont before the result was announced. The vote was: Henry A. Dupont, republican, 31; Willard Saulsbury, democrat, 21.

6 O'CLOCK BURNED TO DEATH

Woman Lost Her Life and Baby Was Overcome

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A woman was burned to death and her seven months' old baby was overcome by smoke in a fire today which burned out the apartments of Michael E. Landrigan on West 68th street. The body of Mrs. Landrigan was stumbled over by the firemen after they had extinguished the blaze.

Mr. Landrigan, who had fled to the street with his unconscious child in his arms, was uninjured except for a cut on his head. The police are investigating the cause of the fire, which is believed to have been due to an overturned lamp. At the hospital to which the baby was taken it was said that the little one was expected to recover.

DOUBLE FUNERAL

Victims of Drowning Accident Laid at Rest

The funeral of Nicholas McNulty, one of the little boys who lost their lives in the Concord river Sunday, took place this morning from the home of his parents, 118 Lawrence street, at 9 o'clock, and was followed by a service at St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was rendered by Miss May S. Whiteley and as the body was borne from the church "De Profundis" was sung by Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Josephine McNulty presided at the organ, and the choir was under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly.

There was a procession of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings, showing the sympathy for the bereaved family. Among the many floral offerings the following were the most prominent: large standing cross on base of roses, pinks, lilies and ferns, with the inscription "Our Nicholas," from the friends of the deceased; the Misses Bridget and Rose McNulty; spray of pinks, roses and ferns from Room 5, Colburn school; Miss Frances L. Donovan, teacher; spray of roses, pinks and ferns from the classmates of Room 9, Colburn school; Miss Conway, teacher; spray of white pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon from the playmates; spray of pinks, roses and ferns tied with ribbon from Master William DeLond; spray of pinks, roses and ferns tied with ribbon from Miss Conway, his teacher in the Colburn school; spray of roses, pinks and ferns; John Francis Corrigan; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns; Miss Nellie McLaughlin; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with ribbon; Miss Alice McBlair; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon; from his classmates; spray of pinks, roses and ferns; Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah McElhinney and family; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon; Miss Elizabeth Neville; spray of roses, pinks and ferns tied with white ribbon from the playmates; Wilfred and Mabel Fielding. There were several other sprays from friends.

The bearers were Edward Propoyost, Raymond Kilroy, John Kilroy, Harry Nevine, William Boland and John McGee.

The internment took place in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery. The funeral was very largely attended and was under the direction of Higgins Bros., undertakers.

The McHugh Funeral

As the line of carriages which composed the McNulty funeral procession left St. Peter's church, another line drew near, headed by the horse-drawn hearse containing the remains of little Patrick McHugh, the child of the McNulty boy and the second victim of Sunday's drowning accident. Many who attended the service in connection with the first funeral remained for the second and both were impressively sad. The funeral of the McHugh boy took place from the home of his parents, 118 and Sarah McHugh, 40 North street, and proceeded at once to St. Peter's church where at 9:45 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John J. Burke. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant and the solemn requiem by Miss May Whiteley and Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. McNulty presided at the organ. The bearers were all playmates of the deceased, Masters William and John McGlinchey, John Sullivan, William Clark, William Beahm and Joseph Hudson. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the grave, including the following: Pillow from the family; spray from playmates; spray, Mrs. McCormack; spray, Jeremiah McElhinney and family; and many others. The internment was in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. O'Brien. The internment was in charge of C. H. Molloy and Sons.

FUNERALS

GAGNON—The funeral of Simon Jeremiah Gagnon took place from his home in West Grantville on Monday morning, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in Healy's hall, St. Catherine's church, being closed for repairs. Rev. Michael E. Doherty was the celebrant. Miss Mary P. Hanley presided at the organ, and members of St. Catherine's church choir sang the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Miss Mary P. Hanley sang "Pie Jesu." The funeral mass was largely attended and besides those who attended from the immediate vicinity, there were many present from Lowell, Lawrence, Pepperell and surrounding towns. The floral tributes were varied and beautiful. The bearers were Chas. Gagnon, Pierre Pennat, D. Jacques, J. B. Savard, Alfred Bibault, and Alex. Folger. Burial was in St. Catherine's cemetery, Undertaker J. H. Healey in charge.

CORSON—The funeral of Mrs. Annie Corson took place yesterday afternoon from her home, 55 Sixth street. Rev. Vice was conducted by Rev. J. W.

Stephan, pastor of the Worthen Street M. E. church, assisted by Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., pastor of the Central M. E. church. There was singing of appropriate selections by Mrs. Horace Hanson and Mrs. Percy J. Wilson. Among the floral offerings were the following: Standing wreath, husband of deceased; large wreath on base, O. E. Warren and family of Nashua; pillow, spray and family; Mrs. F. B. Corson; Mrs. J. Layman, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman McKusik and Mr. and Mrs. J. Coggeshall. Burial was in the Edson cemetery. C. M. Young was the funeral director.

HUBBARD—The funeral of Mrs. Julia L. Hubbard took place yesterday afternoon from Dr. Flint's sanatorium, Dracut Centre. Rev. Mr. Bartlett of Dracut officiated. The body was sent to W. Storro, Mass., for burial. A. Weinbeck was the undertaker in charge.

HINCKLEY—The funeral of Albert L. Hinckley took place yesterday morning from his home, 681 Broadway. Rev. Selden W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and there was singing of "Gatherers," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Face to Face," and "The Christian's Good Night." By Mrs. W. H. Pepin and Warren T. Reid. The bearers were: Abel A. Loughton, Allan Fraser, Herbert L. Chapman and Wm. H. Lynds, members of Pentucket lodge, A. F. and A. M. Among the floral offerings were the following: wreath, inscribed "Husband," from wife of deceased; square and compass, Pentucket lodge, A. F. and A. M.; sprays, Puritan chapter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pullen, Annie and Amelia Clough of Brookline, Mrs. Millard F. Davis, Mrs. Ephraim Elliott; sheaf of wheat, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whiting; bouquet, Mrs. Benjamin Holt. Burial will take place in Union Valley, Vt., this afternoon. Wm. H. Saunders is the funeral director.

MARTIN—The funeral of Joseph Martin took place this morning from the home of his parents, Frank and Maria Martin, 4 Hall street, at 9:30 and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Services were conducted at St. Anthony's church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Pecci officiated. There were many floral tributes. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertaker McDermott.

DEATHS

BROWN—Died this morning at his home, 48 Thirteenth street, John E. Brown, aged 63 years, 3 months and 14 days. He leaves a wife, two sons, C. F. Brown, E. A. Brown, the latter of New York city; one daughter, Miss Lillian M. Brown; also one brother, E. A. Brown of New York city.

McFARLAND—Margaret McFarland, aged 54 years, died this morning at her home, 13 West Third street. She leaves her husband, Charles F. McFarland of Providence, R. I., and a brother, Joseph Breen. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

TANK EXPLODED

Causing Loss Estimated at $75,000

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 25.—Three men were burned and a loss estimated at $75,000 was sustained when a 200 gallon tank of paint exploded at the Trussed Concrete Co. plant today. The fire communicated to a section of the main building in which newly painted machinery were stored. George Kerwin, Joseph Kosa and John Pines were burned, the first named seriously. A force of 30 men escaped from the burning building.

LAFOLLETTE RE-ELECTED
MADISON, Wis., Jan. 25.—U. S. Senator LaFollette was today formally re-elected in joint session in the legislature by a big majority.

GREEK SCHOOL

OPENS NEW YEAR WITH ABOUT 100 PUPILS

The Greek school in the basement of the Greek church in Jefferson street has about 100 pupils enrolled at the present time, a substantial increase in numbers which is apparently due to growing and now there is talk of a new school building of adequate dimensions to meet all future demands.

THE PLAGUE DANGER
BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Interviewed today on the possibilities of the plague entering Europe, Privy Councillor Carl Fluegge, director of the hygienic institute, said that thorough preventive measures had been taken and that no fear was felt here.

"There is no danger," he said, "of the plague being brought into Europe over the Siberian railroad. Perhaps isolated cases will occur but that will be exceptional. Every necessary precaution has been adopted."

SENT TO PRISON

Horse Thief Given 18 Months Sentence

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 25.—Fred Nichols, a clever horse thief, known from the Canadian border to the Allegheny mountains, was last night landed at the state prison at Cranston for an 18-months' stay on a sentence given yesterday afternoon at East Greenwich by Judge Baker in the superior court.

Nichols served a term in Massachusetts and one at Westfield prison, Connecticut, but long since and he was taken from the latter institution and brought to this state under arrest.

The crime for which he was punished yesterday was committed nearly four years ago, when he was raiding stables by night and day all over southern New England and shipping the horses to Boston to be sold. He pleaded guilty to the indictment and told how he came to steal the valuable horse of Edwin A. Johnson in Warwick, July 31, 1907.

Judge Baker added a fine of $100 also, just as Nichols was being led away with his smile by the sheriffs. Nichols on one occasion stole three horses in one day in 1906 near Greenfield, Mass., and sold them all in New York. He bragged that this was one of his best days out on the road. He said also that he had more than a dozen horses in the country places between Taunton, Mass., and Cape Cod before he was nipped by the police in Connecticut.

With a smile Nichols told of the designs he had on a clergyman's rig near Barre, Mass., in 1905.

"It was an old style chaise-like ship," he declared, "but a bang-up horse. I slashed the wheel to the family pet mare and discovered the minister's wife and she screamed to heaven for help. I dusted over the high wheel and made off, but I got a $500 coat beauty that very night just the same."

Nichols calls himself a champion in his line and he says the time would be long passing at Cranston. Laurel Marcoux, another alleged horse thief, had sentence deferred. The police say he has no criminal record.

SHY SIX VOTES

No Change in New York Senatorial Contest

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The Sheehan men went into the joint legislative assembly today for the seventh ballot on United States senator, encouraged by the statement in Mr. Sheehan's favor issued in Buffalo last night by Norman Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee. The insurgents believed that Mr. Mack's declaration would have no more effect than one to the same purport put out last Sunday by Winfield A. Hupph, the democratic state chairman. The effect of the national chairman's stand was somewhat discounted by the fact that he already was regarded as favorable to Mr. Sheehan.

Seventh ballot:
Democratic—Sheehan 55, Shepard 11, Kernan 4, Littleton 3, Douglas 3, Gerard 2, O'Brien 2, Parker 1, Glynn 1, Herrick 1, Dix 1.
Republican—Dewey 79.
Total vote cast 193.
Necessary for choice 91.

ST. MARGARET'S

WORK OF PARISH BEING PUSHED ALONG

A meeting of the men of St. Margaret's parish in the Highlands will be held at the parochial residence in Stevens street tonight, and it is confidently expected that the attendance will be large. Various projects which the parish has in contemplation will be discussed at the meeting. Rev. Fr. Harrington is enthusiastic over the outlook for the success of his plans and the generous assistance thus far received from the parishioners is most encouraging. The ladies are to meet Friday evening.

FRENCH AVIATOR

TOOK MISS GRACE MacKENZIE AS HIS BRIDE

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Miss Grace MacKenzie, youngest daughter of Sir William MacKenzie, the Canadian railroad man, and Count Jacques De Lessops, the French aviator, were married at St. James' church, Spanish place, today. Canon Glida solemnized the nuptials, which were witnessed by a fashionable gathering. Count De Mora was best man and the bride's attendants included her sisters, Mrs. W. W. Beadmore and Miss Ethel MacKenzie, and Miss Mabel Magher, a cousin.

Following the ceremony, Sir William and Lady MacKenzie gave a reception for the wedding party at Claridge's. The honeymoon will be in Egypt.

Count De Lessops is a grandson of the noted engineer Ferdinand De Lesseps. He is 27 years old. A year ago he took up aviation and made some notable flights, including the crossing of the English channel and the trip from Belmont park around the statue of Liberty and return.

Miss Grace accompanied him in aerial trips at New York and Toronto but with the announcement of their engagement both forewore the perilous sport.

TO DISCONTINUE SERVICE
BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The officials of the United Fruit Co. refused today to confirm or deny the report that the steamship service to Kingston and other ports of Jamaica would soon be discontinued because of alleged inadequate docking facilities furnished by the authorities of that island.

The report was that the withdrawal of the service would affect steamers both to this country and to European ports.

LOWELL LAWYERS

AT FUNERAL OF JUDGE BOND THIS AFTERNOON

Fred N. Wier and Nathan D. Pratt of this city attended the funeral of the late Judge Bond at Waltham this afternoon as representatives of the Middlesex county bar.

There will be a month's mind mass of requiem Thursday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Peter's church for the late Michael H. McDonough. Friends are invited.

IN POLICE COURT

Offenders Fined for Assault, Larceny and Other Offences

Joseph Ciecia was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault with a knife on John Zeyno, found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $10. As a general rule a heavy fine is imposed when a defendant is found guilty of using a knife on another person, but in this particular case the court was of the opinion that the complainant was the aggressor.

According to what was brought out in the testimony offered by the government's witnesses Ciecia and Zeyno had been drinking on the evening of January 14th, and about eight o'clock entered a saloon in Central street where both ordered drinks. One of the bartenders served Zeyno with a drink but refused to give any to Ciecia, claiming that the latter was under the influence of liquor.

Ciecia then became abusive and upon refusing to leave the place was put out through the front door and soon met Ciecia. Some words were passed and Zeyno started to pummel Ciecia whereupon the latter turned on him and stabbed him two or three times in the neck with a pocket knife.

Zeyno said he had done nothing to cause the defendant to assault him, but his testimony was not consistent with that of others who claimed that he was scuffling with Ciecia and had thrown him to the ground before Ciecia drew the knife.

Michael O'Hare and Melvin Orcutt, who saw the battle, said that Zeyno seemed to be the aggressor.

Patrolman Francis H. Moore testified to finding Ciecia at his home in George street. The man was very much under the influence of liquor at the time and a search of his clothing resulted in the finding of a blood stained knife in his pocket.

Lamarche and Lane Guilty

The cases of Frederick Lamarche and John Lane charged with the larceny of three fagets from an unknown person, which have been continued from time to time during the past two weeks, were called this morning, and the court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $15.

Sent to Reformatory

Frank M. Silva was charged with the larceny of a pair of gloves and an overcoat, the property of Thomas Bohan. He admitted he stole the coat, but denied he took the gloves. He was found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Monday Silva entered the hallway of a boarding house in Webster street and taking a coat off a nail went to a wardrobe in Jackson street where he sold the garment for a dollar. The matter was reported to the police and yesterday Silva was placed under arrest. Silva belongs in Fall River and has been in Lowell but a couple of months ago and was convicted of larceny and being unable to pay the fine imposed was sent to jail. He was released last Friday.

Wife is Afraid of Husband

Thomas P. Sheehan was charged with being drunk and admitted that he had been imbibing rather freely yesterday. His wife testified that he had been abusive. The court found him guilty, imposed a fine of $2 and ordered him to furnish $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Other Offenders

Frank P. Donahue was found guilty of being drunk and sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Patrick C. Mitchell was fined $6, and one first offender was fined $2.

Larceny of a Watch

ONE MAN IS DEAD

As a Result of a Quarrel in Derby, Conn.

DERBY, Conn., Jan. 25.—Stanislaus Madura is dead and Paul Urban is held by the police in connection with the death as a result of a quarrel alleged to have occurred between the two men early today. It is alleged that remarks made by Madura while Urban was standing on the street talking to a young woman, which he was escorting from a wedding, led to a dispute, during which Urban slashed

Madura in the neck with a knife, inflicting a wound from which the latter died soon afterwards. The young woman, it is said, was the only witness of the quarrel. Urban went home afterward and when officers sought him, tried to escape by swimming in the river in the rear of his home. He was found later lying half frozen in a field. He is 23 years old and single. Madura was 39 and married.

"BIG BILL" KELIHER

An Effort to Save Him From Serving Sentence

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—In an effort to save "Big Bill" Keliher from an 18-year jail sentence for aiding and abetting George Coleman from looting the National City bank of Cambridge of a quarter of a million dollars, lawyers for "Big Bill" as he is locally known, appeared before the United States circuit court of appeals today to argue 31 errors claimed to have been made at the trial last May. Keliher had the option of taking his case to the court of appeals or to the supreme court. He chose the former and today three judges heard the arguments of his counsel, Harvey H. Pratt and Daniel Conkley, while District Attorney Asa P. French reserved the right to be heard in opposition to the appeal.

It was claimed by Keliher's attorneys that Coleman, who was the principal witness at the trial, had pleaded guilty to a charge and was serving a sentence at the time of the trial. It was also claimed that before Keliher met Coleman in 1909 the latter had taken $25,000 from the bank, although afterward the pilferings amounted to $211,000. The lawyers laid considerable stress on what was claimed to be an apparent knowledge at all times by the officers of the bank of Coleman's stealings.

MRS. CLEVELAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Frances Coleman Cleveland, widow of Grover Cleveland, was a guest of Immigration Commissioner Williams at Ellis Island yesterday afternoon. She went over on the Government ferryboat and, in spite of the entreaties of her secretaries, elected to stay on the lower deck and watch the groups of excited relatives and friends who were on their way to meet immigrants.

"I went to Ellis Island," said Mrs. Cleveland, "because I was invited and because I had never been there before. Commissioner Williams showed me everything there was to be seen from the landing of immigrants to their examination by the doctors. I also inspected the detention room. I do not intend to become particularly interested in any philanthropic work at the island."

REPUBLICANS TO CAUCUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A caucus of the republicans of the house to determine on what action to take on the proposed legislation for a congressional reapportionment in the light of the new census statistics, was today called for Thursday night, Feb. 2nd.

ONE WOMAN KILLED

A Number of Girls Injured by an Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—In an explosion of a large tank containing ammonia in the Locust laundry at Ninth and Locust streets here today, one woman was killed, 15 to 20 girls were slightly injured and 250 other employees, mostly young women, were thrown into a wild panic. Fire did not follow the explosion.

The woman killed was Annie Hall, an elderly employee, who was blown through a window into the street and was badly mangled.

The force of the explosion shattered all the window glass. The 250 or more employees were scattered over the six floors of the establishment and they made a wild rush for the stairways and fire escapes. In the crush nearly a score were cut and bruised. Ammonia fumes added to the panic. Firemen carried out of the building nearly a dozen young women who had fainted in the excitement. All were removed to hospitals.

The building was not damaged beyond the breaking of glass.

PITTSBURGH MAN

Bank Officials

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Robert Buehler, who attempted to secure funds at the bank of England Monday by threatening the lives of the officials, today was committed to an asylum as hopelessly insane, on the order of a magistrate. Buehler arrived here from the United States on January 16 and, as near as the police can determine, belonged in Pittsburgh.

LIVING IN A TOMB

Mother and Her Two Children Were Discovered

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The home in Paterson, N. J., where Mrs. Pauline Green and her two little daughters have lived since Jan. 16 is built of stone. It creeps upon its massive, rusty hinges with an uncanny sound.

When Policeman Duffy entered yesterday he found himself in a small, square room, rock walled and lighted only by one tiny window. At intervals there were oblong crevices heven in the walls. In two of the crevices were straw and rags. An open fire burned in the middle of the cold stone floor. There was a kettle on the fire and some potatoes in the kettle. The smoke stayed in the room.

A pallid child of perhaps 12 years was tending the kettle. That was Sophie Green. Another girl, two years older, sat on a broken box in a corner. That was Margaret.

"Hollerin' angels!" gasped the policeman as he saw the children. Duffy has faced death twenty times in the daily grind, but he drew back in terror from the scene that now met his eyes. For the home of Mrs. Pauline Green and her two little daughters is a tomb in the old Presbyterian cemetery.

For one hundred and fifty years the place had been the domicile of the dead. The oblong crevices have held the dust of revolutionary heroes. The flagging of the floor has been pressed by the knees of mourning women, has felt the tears of anguish.

For a week the place has been the refuge of the living. The last battle of a brave woman and her children has been fought there. The ashes of the cooking fire have been swept into the corners where lay the ashes of the dead. The dauntless spirit of life has been sheltered, fostered in the abode of death.

And yet no classic sorrow, no theme for thrilling drama lies behind the scene. It is only the old story of poverty and courage in another setting.

"The father of the children was killed five years ago in a mine in Shenandoah, Pa. The little money that he left was soon gone. The mother went to Paterson to get work. She managed for a time to earn enough to keep herself and her children from starvation."

Then there was no more work to be had. The landlord put them out. There was no money, no food, nowhere to go.

For a day and a night they wandered through the streets. Next morning they had reached the old cemetery in Oak street, which has been abandoned and when the coffins from the vaults and from the graves have been carried to other resting places.

There at least might be shelter. They walked over the snow-covered lawns and tried doors of the vaults. At last they found one that yielded. They entered, and they have lived there ever since.

Duffy the other day thought he saw smoke coming from under the doorway. Yesterday he investigated. He took the half-starved little girls to the Children's Home and went back to await the return of the mother, who was out looking for work.

JAMES MARTINE

Elected U. S. Senator From New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 25.—James E. Martine, democrat, was today elected United States senator for the full term of six years from March 4 next, to succeed John Kean, republican.

The house and senate met in joint session at noon and the balloting was quickly over, the result announced being 79 votes for Martine out of a total of 79.

One member, Assemblyman Leyden, republican, of Passaic, was absent, and Assemblyman McGrath of Hudson county, democrat, declined to vote. The vote follows:

James E. Martine, democrat, 47; James Smith, Jr., democrat, 3; Edward C. Stokes, republican, 21; John W. Griggs, republican, 5; Mahlon Pitney, republican, 1; John Kean, republican, 1; John Franklin Fort, republican, 1.

PATIENTS SCARED

Fire Threatened to Destroy the Cushing Hospital

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Fifteen patients at the Cushing hospital on Parker hill, Roxbury, were given a scare late yesterday afternoon, when a brush fire started by boys in a vacant lot adjoining the hospital burned the laundry and drying room attached to the hospital.

A number of patients who were in rooms on the lower floor of the hospital were taken upstairs. At no time were they in danger and the nurses and attendants had everything well in hand throughout the fire.

The blaze did not reach the hospital building, but the drying room and the laundry were badly burned and much of the contents of the latter building was destroyed. The damage is estimated at $1500.

Hoses attached to three pieces of apparatus were unable to climb the hill after reaching the corner of Fisher avenue and Parker street, and what hose that was used had to be carried up by the members of the companies.

It is thought boys set fire to some old shrubbery, which burned like tinder on the side of the hill. The smoke attracted the attention of William Boyer, janitor at the hospital, who ran to box 255 and sounded an alarm. Somebody else saw the smoke and gave an alarm from box 223, which acted as a second.

Within a short time engines, hose wagons, chemicals and ladder trucks began to gather at the corner of Parker hill avenue and Fisher avenue, but after the hard running the horses were able to make only a weak effort toward climbing the steep grade.

The drying room is a one-story wooden structure and the laundry a two-story frame building, about 25 feet from the hospital building.

Boyer ran back to the laundry, where he helped get out a few trunks and boxes, the property of women employed there. He was assisted by Oliver Anderson, janitor at the Charity club hospital, which is about 20 yards from the Cushing hospital.

Word was sent into the hospital to Dr. Grace Rexford, who at once summoned all the available nurses. Yesterday morning three of the patients had been operated upon. So quietly did the nurses go about their work that these patients were carried to the upper floor, in a section farthest removed from the fire, but in a position so that they could be taken out at an instant's notice, if necessary.

All the other patients were taken to the upper floors where the nurses remained with them. The only annoyance suffered by the inmates was the smoke, which drifted up from the grade at the rear of the hospital.

A number of firemen were detailed to pay special attention to the hospital buildings, while many more fought the fire by running lines of hose between the hospital building and the laundry.

In the latter building when the fire broke out four women were at work, Nellie Bowen, Celia Clark, Rose Santa and Nellie McDonough. As soon as they saw the fire coming their way they dropped their work and began to remove their trunks and boxes on the second floor of the laundry building in rooms that they occupy. With the help of Boyer and Anderson they saved nearly all of their personal effects.

District Chief Ryder gave all his attention to the buildings attached to the hospital, and the men managed to keep the flames from touching the hospital itself. They made short work of the fire that spread over the dried brush.

The contents of the drying room and laundry will probably be a total loss.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY OF THE D. A. R.

There are two candidates for the office of Massachusetts vice president general in the National Society D. A. R. Mrs. Herbert B. Davidson of Watertown and Mrs. Alvin E. Bailey of Newton. Both candidates will be presented at the regent's meeting to be held in Massachusetts D. A. R. state headquarters tomorrow at 1.30.

At this conference the candidates for president general will also be presented and discussed. It is impossible to predict the vote of Massachusetts, but it is generally understood that the state officers are supporting the candidacy of Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York.

Many of the chapter regents, however, feel that Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who has served but one year as president general, is by courtesy entitled to a second term.

The election of these officers does not take place until the continental congress at Washington in April. There has not been time since Mrs. Storey's candidacy was announced for the various state organizations to confer and declare for or against the present administration candidate.

It is expected that Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York will be in Boston some time in February as the guest of the Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Herbert E. Davidson, at present state vice regent, is chairman of a committee that has been appointed to arrange a reception and luncheon in honor of Mrs. Storey which is to be given at the Vendome.

FOR SURVEYOR

LUFKIN IS A CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—W. W. Lufkin of Essex county, who is Representative Gardner's private secretary, yesterday announced his candidacy for surveyor of the port of Boston, to succeed Jeremiah J. McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy has been surveyor of the port 12 years. His term will expire in a few weeks. The position pays $5000 a year.

Back of Mr. Lufkin are not only Senator Lodge and Representative Gardner, but a large number of prominent Massachusetts republicans identified with the national government.

"I think I have a strong chance to get the appointment," Mr. Lufkin said last night. "I have the backing of strong friends in Boston as well as in Washington, who have given me their unqualified endorsement."

The president has not taken up the matter of the Boston surveyorship yet, and by the time he takes it under consideration Mr. Lufkin's friends hope to have at the White House a list of endorsements that will overbalance those of all other candidates.

Mr. Lufkin has been in Washington several years with Mr. Gardner. He was one of the most successful workers for Senator Lodge during the senatorial campaign.

DRILL STRENGTH

Of Militia is Being Investigated

Adj.-Gen. Pearson is now endeavoring to ascertain exactly where the militia stands as to attendance at the regular ordered drills, as it was announced he would do soon after he took the position as head of Gov. Foss's military family.

Before he was inducted into office he visited the armory of different companies and later received from organization headquarters the drill reports of the different companies.

To verify those returns he sprang a surprise on the force on Monday night when officers from the Governor's staff and from the inspector-general's department visited the armories of most companies of the state force with instructions to make written report to the adjutant-general upon the actual numbers of officers and enlisted men present for drill.

The adjutant-general explained yesterday that this determination to find the actual strength of companies was not for the purpose of "rigging" company commanders, but that the adjutant-general wished to know himself exactly the strength the companies show on the average drill night.

CHARGE OF THEFT

IS MADE AGAINST A BRIGHTON WOMAN

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Charged with the larceny of $303 from William Keirstead, a New Hampshire man, Annie McBride, 27 years of age, who claims to live at 18 Winslow street, Brighton, was arrested by Patrolman Morgan at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Bowdoin square.

Keirstead, who was a farmer, sold his place and came to Boston to live. Part of the money he placed in a bank, while the remainder he kept in his possession. Yesterday afternoon he became acquainted with the McBride woman and the pair went to several picture shows and during the afternoon Keirstead lost $303. He accused the woman and she gave him a card and told him to go back to the country.

Instead he followed her about until he found Patrolman Morgan in Bowdoin square. The woman was arrested and at the station $50 was found in her possession.

The Sirolin Sentinel

Sirolin (Pronounced Si-ro-lin): The celebrated Swiss remedy for coughs and colds.

LOWELL, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1911.

Sirolin Is More Than A Remedy For Coughs and Colds

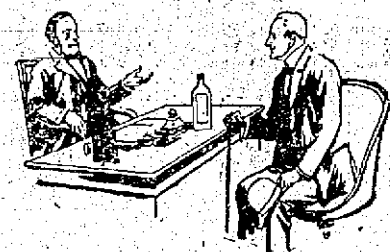

Sirolin is not only the world's standard remedy for colds, coughs, influenza, bronchitis, grippe, and other pulmonary affections, but it is tonic and reconstructive in its action, as well.

It stimulates the appetite, improves the digestion, aids the assimilation of food, nourishes the tissues, and is potential in retarding that waste of tissues and that poverty of blood which are among the most prominent features of consumption.

Acts as a Tonic

It never fails of excellent to effect upon the lining and adjacent tissues of the air passages, and also upon the entire worn-out system.

Keep a bottle of Sirolin in the house. Take it regularly in rainy, cold weather, and whenever you have been exposed. It will effectually prevent colds.

Sirolin Is a Physician's Remedy

Ask Your Doctor About It

Sirolin is well and favorably known to physicians the world over.

Sirolin is very agreeable to the palate. It is a preparation possessing all the virtues of guaiacol and creosote, without the disagreeable taste of these most valuable drugs. Sirolin is compounded with a palatable non-irritating derivative of guaiacol, the active principle of creosote. Sirolin is not only palatable but it also improves the appetite, assists digestion and aids nutrition.

All leading druggists have Sirolin

Sirolin contains no morphine, cocaine, habit-forming or constipating drug.

THE SECRET BALLOT IN NEW CHARTER

For Speaker of the House Was Rejected

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—An effort was made in the house yesterday to amend rule 8, so as to compel the use of the secret ballot in the election of a speaker. The order was offered by Representative Murphy of Boston when he thought the members were napping, but they were wide awake, and the order was defeated on a voice vote.

Rule 8 was invoked by Representative Lonsness in his fight for the secret ballot in the recent speakership election, and some parliamentarians claimed that under it the speaker must be elected by ballot, although the presiding officer at that time ruled otherwise. Rule 8 reads:

"In case of a vacancy in the office of speaker, or in case the speaker or the member named by him in accordance with the preceding rule is absent at the hour to which the house stands adjourned the senior member present shall call the house to order, and shall preside until a speaker by ballot, which shall be the first business in order."

There is considerable feeling among certain of the many candidates for the speakership of 1912 against open voting, but others believe it will prove one of the strongest cards in their favor.

The order offered yesterday by Representative McInerney of Boston requesting the railroads of the state to prohibit the presence of children under 16 years of age in smoking cars was defeated. Representative Washburn of Worcester opposed the order, first on the ground that the house should not too greatly concern itself with the details of railroad operation, and second that the board of railroad commissioners has ample authority to put such a regulation into effect if it considers it in the public interest.

Representative McInerney said he had come to the conclusion that a bill providing for the same thing would better accomplish its purpose, and he, therefore, had no objection to the defeat of the order.

The mercantile affairs committee reported a bill to authorize the proprietors of the Hingham cemetery to hold real estate to the amount of 50 acres and personal property to the amount of $100,000.

The insurance committee reported leave to withdraw on bills to permit and to require the separation of investment and life insurance.

The committee on cities reported bills to provide for the appointment of a police commissioner in Malden; to permit the use of school halls in Malden for other than school purposes.

The committee on public health recommended reference to the next general court the bill to require an improvement in the sanitary condition of the Nemasket river in the town of Plymouth.

On motion of Representative Bogus of Lynn the bill providing for the appointment of a third special justice of the police court of Lynn was recommended to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Bogus said that insufficient hearing was given the bill and that members of the Lynn bar were given no opportunity to attend the hearing.

The joint committee on rules, with four senate members dissenting, reported a new draft of the order for an investigation of the houses of correction of Worcester county at Worcester and Fitchburg. The dissenting members are President Treadway and Sena-

IN NEW CHARTER

Amendments Suggested at Com. Meeting

The full committee on charter revision met last evening in the board of trade rooms with a large attendance. William H. Wilson presided.

The draft of the proposed charter was discussed and several amendments were proposed.

The positions of superintendent of streets and superintendent of water works were added to the administrative offices, and it was voted to have the janitors of schools come under civil service protection. In fact, it was voted to have the charter protect all employees now protected by civil service rules.

It was voted to ask the mayor to request that the committee on cities give the charter hearing in Lowell, and it was also voted to invite the committee.

the Lowell delegation at the state house and the mayor to be the guests of the committee on the occasion of the hearing.

It was voted to prepare a digest of the charter for publication so that its contents might be understood at a glance.

The publicity committee announced several meetings in the campaign of education and assigned the speakers.

Tonight, in the hall of the Middlesex Social club, Middlesex street, Fred C. Weld, William N. Osgood, Dr. J. E. Lamoureux and John R. Murphy will explain the charter to the club members.

On Friday night at the Central-ville Social club rooms, John H. Beaulieu, Clovis Ouellette, Thomas Gosselin, and Dr. Lamoureux will discuss the charter. At 8.30 o'clock, Friday night, William H. Wilson will speak before an audience at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Murphy will speak at the First Unitarian Congregational church.

500 Stitches a Minute

This means more to the shoe buyer than mere speed. It means only the best material and long wear in every Goodyear Welt shoe.

For the rapid Goodyear welt machines insert more than 500 stitches a minute—quick, close and strong. Cheap material or imitation material cannot stand up under this volley of rapid stitches. Only the best material can be worked on these machines. Only the best material can get into a Goodyear Welt shoe. Long wear is assured to the buyer.

Comfort too is assured by this shoemaking method. For these same machines produce shoes that are smooth inside.

GOODYEAR WELT

A narrow strip of leather called a welt is sewed to the shoe upper and to the channelled innersole in a single seam.

But not a thread penetrates to break the inner smoothness of the shoe.

Another machine lock-stitches the heavy outer sole to this welt around the edge of the shoe. This seam too is entirely outside.

The shoe is left smooth inside. Your comfort is assured.

Economy too points to "Goodyear Welt." The most dressy shoes are now made on these inspired machines just as durable and comfortable as if hand sewed, but costing only one-third as much.

These machines are employed in the factories of all leading manufacturers who create and issue the authoritative shoe fashions for dress and business wear.

Fully five hundred different Goodyear Welts are made by these makers.

But each Goodyear Welt, wherever you find it or whatever trade name it may bear, is dependable. The style is right, the shoe is smooth inside, the best of material has been used in its making and it costs you only one-third the price the hand shoemaker used to charge. Never forget these features.

A printed list furnishes all these 500 names of shoes. Some are sold by leading retailers in every town. But get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Let it be your guide.

Your name and address brings the list and two other interesting booklets describing the sixty machines and telling "The Secret of The Shoe"—all without cost.

THE WAMESITS

Hold First Place in the League

There were two good games in the Manchester Unity league series last night. In the game between the Merrimack Valley and Wamesits, the latter team took two points while in the contest between Excelsior and Integrity, the former team won two points. In neither game did any of the bowlers knock the pins down hard enough to make a tally of 300.

Lowell and Highland councils of the Aremum league met on the afternoon of last night. Lowell winning all three points by a safe margin.

The Y. M. C. U. quintet gave the Y. M. C. U. a severe trouncing last night, winning all three points with comparative ease. The first string was a heart breaker for the Y. M. C. U. for the C. M. A. C. shot over 122 being high man. In the second string the winning aggregation missed the five century mark by the narrow margin of eight pins.

The J. P. S. team won three points from the El Toros in the minor league last night. Lowell of the winning team being high man.

In the Manufacturers' league the Bigelow team gave the Tremont & Suffolk bowlers a severe trouncing. In the second string the members of the Bigelow team put up a total of 512, every man with one exception rolling better than 100.

In the game between the Boott and Massachusetts teams of the Manufacturers' league the former team won two of the three points.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—All the party leaders have issued letters calling their supporters to "close attendance" when parliament meets on February 6th. It is the government's intention to get the veto bill disposed of before the coronation and this practically will compel the ministers to appropriate the whole time of the house until Easter to government business, a condition which will likely cause considerable grumbling among members anxious to push other legislative matters.

PLACE WHERE STRAUSS DINNER WILL BE HELD JAN. 31 AND NOTABLE GUESTS INVITED

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—It is expected that when President Taft delivers his address at the dinner to Nathan Strauss, financier and philanthropist, at the Cafe Boulevard, New York city, on the evening of Jan. 31 he will announce his views on new phases of the policies of his administration. Scores of other prominent men will be present, including ex-President Roosevelt.

GOVERNOR FOSS TWO ASSAULTED

In South End Store in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Shortly after midnight two men under the influence of liquor entered the drug store of Fred A. Ewell, Washington and Pelham streets, and assaulted both Mr. Ewell and Frank Burns of 9 Maiden street, who was in the store. Both were severely handled and some of the furnishings of the store were wrecked.

Less than an hour later, Charles McEchra, aged 22, and George Lyons, twenty men known to the police, were rounded up on Tremont street, near Hanson street, by Patrolmen King and Dale after a sharp chase of 200 yards. After the men had been locked up Mr. Ewell and Mr. Burns identified them.

John (Scout) Doyle, whom he saw four men carrying in an intoxicated condition on Washington street a short time after the assault, was found in a doorway near Albany street and was locked up also.

In court Doyle pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was remanded until Thursday. He was also charged with having held up and robbed Mrs. Margaret Feeley of 109 East Canton street, Jan. 16 and was held in $2000 for the grand jury on this charge.

Lyons pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and was also remanded until Thursday. Officer King told the court that Lyons was wanted by the superior court on a larceny charge. The warrant charges that he stole an overcoat from a clergyman in the Warren Avenue Baptist church a few weeks ago.

McEchra was held for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of drunkenness. He was also charged with having stolen $26 from Mrs. Helen G. Morse of 200 Shawmut avenue, April 8, 1908, when it is alleged, he worked in the house part of a day as a furniture mover. He was held for a hearing on this charge.

The trio was sent to Charles street jail.

PAROLE MEN

WILL BE SHIELDED IN THE FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Men who have won their paroles from federal prisons will hereafter step back into the world to begin life anew, unadversely and without the limelight of publicity.

Att'y General Wickensham and Robert V. La Dow, chairman of the parole board, have decided that publicity in such cases helps to defeat the object of the parole law.

The decision was brought about largely by the protest of a convict in one of the federal penitentiaries. His application for parole was under consideration when he saw published the names of ten men who had been paroled from Leavenworth penitentiary.

He withdrew his application with the explanation that he preferred prison to being released with much publicity. In the future when the board makes its recommendations for releases and the attorney general approves them, the paroled men will receive their liberty very quietly.

No man will be paroled at all who has not a promise of definite employment or assistance.

COL. ROOSEVELT

TO MAKE A TRIP TO ARIZONA ON MARCH 18TH

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by his wife and daughter Ethel, will visit Arizona on March 18, according to information here today. He will participate in the dedication of the irrigation dam that bears his name. He will spend the night at the dam and the following day go to Mesa and visit his son Archie, who is attending private school there.

The colonel and family will leave on March 19 for Los Angeles.

Over in England they are grooming Salter Curran for a match with Sam Langford. Curran won a great victory over Bill Lang on a foul.

Fighting Dick Nelson, the most feared welter-weight in the game, has been matched to meet Willie Moody at Philadelphia next Saturday night.

Up at Buffalo they are still talking about the Mike (Twin) Sullivan-Dick Kid contest. Sullivan is given credit for displaying wonderful form against the New York boxer.

Joe Thomas' recent return of form has been the means of securing him several good matches. Thomas takes a hard contract when he faces Leo Houck at Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 2.

A Baltimore promoter is after Digby Stanley to meet Young Britt at the Oyster City some time next month. Britt is one of the busiest little men in the ring at present.

Finding it easier than he expected to scale the light-weight figures, Paddy McFarland, the Chicago boxer, will in the future be ready to take on any of the men in the light-weight class.

It's a long lane that has no turning. For young Selger known as Iron Man, who went along without suffering a knockout. Last week he met Jeff Smith at New York, who hung the K. O. punch on him.

Billy McCarney of Philadelphia, who has handled some pretty good men in his time and who ought to be a fairly good judge of a boxer, says that Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavy-weight is very hit as good as he is represented.

Albert Delmont will be given a chance to box at New York just as soon as the matchmaker of one of the clubs there can find a suitable opponent. Delmont had to call off his meeting with Joe Coster, as he wanted more time to train.

There is some talk of another meeting between Johnny Glover and Fighting Joe Hyland. Their match at Glens Falls is reported to have been one of the best ever witnessed. Glover has an engagement with Johnny Stewart at an early date.

Ad. Wolgast has been given another setback in the eyes of the boxing followers, and this time he is not wholly to blame. Tom Jones, who handles the affairs of the light-weight champion, arrived at Philadelphia and put matters up in Philadelphia. Jack O'Brien so strong that it appears the matches arranged for all the winter will fall through. Wolgast is ready to abide by Jones' decisions, and as the latter is not at all pleased by the manner in which he was treated by O'Brien he will cancel the dates made by the matchmaker.

Hugh McIntosh's determination to sail for Australia after the Langford-Lang fight in London on February 18 has left the heavy-weight situation in the air. It was believed that he would make an attempt to match Jack Johnson against Kaufman or the winner of the Langford-Lang fight and Tommy Burns against some big fighter. But with McIntosh out of the running in England there seems to be no chance to see Johnson in action, unless arranged to visit Paris, France, where the promoters are ready to offer him a big bonus. The latest mails from England contain the statement that Lang will weigh at least 150 pounds for Langford and will have

BOXING GOSSIP

WELLESLEY GIRL

Is Bride of Blind U. S. Attorney

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 25.—Faithful to a promise she made several years ago when he left his home for Harvard college, Miss Juliette Wheeler Duxbury, one of the prettiest girls of this town, has become the wife of Raymond Gould Brown, the blind assistant to the United States district attorney of New York.

The ceremony was performed here at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Mary Duxbury, at 15 Summer street, by the Rev. W. W. Gilks, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Dover.

Less than an hour after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for New York where they will make their home.

Mrs. Brown is a daughter of a former official of the telephone company. She is a graduate of the Dover high school and Wellesley college and has been prominently identified with St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

She and Mr. Brown were playmates when they were children and just before he went to Harvard in 1903 to begin a four years' course they were recognized among their friends here as sweethearts. After Mr. Brown's graduation from the college and he had entered the Harvard Law school in 1907, it is said they became engaged.

Mrs. Brown was graduated from the Harvard Law school in 1910 and soon after went to New York to remain six months as assistant to the United States district attorney. His work has been so satisfactory that he has been asked to remain for a longer period.

He is a son of Ellisha R. Brown, president of the Stratford National and of the Stratford Savings banks and a brother of Harold Brown, treasurer of the Stratford Savings banks, and of Philip Brown, superintendent of the I. R. Williams Belt Factory.

HE TRIED SUICIDE

Man Wanted On Charge Of Forgery

SAVANNAH, Jan. 25.—William L. Moore, alias C. C. Kennedy of Boston and West Palm Beach, Fla., arrested here last Saturday, accused of forgery and bigamy and held for the Massachusetts authorities, tried to commit suicide in his cell last night by swallowing match heads.

The woman accompanying Moore, who is believed to be V. de Compil, the name she signed to a receipt for his possessions at the barracks, went to West Palm Beach to ask Moore's mother for aid. An hour after she returned the jailer found Moore ill, and applied an emetic.

BLAMES HUSBAND

WOMAN SAYS THAT HE TOOK HER JEWELRY

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Helen G. Leggett, who seeks a divorce from her husband, charged him on the witness stand yesterday with having taken jewelry belonging to her, a part of which was her engagement ring which she claimed she has not recovered.

William E. Leggett, her husband, was prominent in automobile circles of Boston for some time and also conducted a store for one of the large auto concerns at Toronto, Canada, where Mrs. Leggett claims he took her jewelry.

In addition, Mrs. Leggett charged her husband with non-support. She told Judge White that he did not support her and neither would he give her money to purchase necessary articles. "Finally, she said, 'I had to go to work myself to get clothing.'"

The couple were married in Somerville, Oct. 24, 1905, and lived there for about two years. They afterward moved to Toronto. While living there their marital troubles started.

"Things became so bad there," said Mrs. Leggett, "that I came alone to Boston and went to his father's home at Reading. Within two or three weeks he came back also, but since that time he has not contributed toward my support."

Mrs. Leggett is now in Philadelphia. It is said. The case will be reopened this morning when more evidence regarding the alleged non-support of Mrs. Leggett is expected.

JUDGE WHITE

SCORED HASTY ACTION IN DIVORCE CASE

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—That it is not good practice on the part of an attorney to bring a suit for divorce on the ground of desertion the day after the period required by law, three years, had elapsed, was the assertion of Judge Lloyd L. White in the Suffolk county divorce court yesterday afternoon.

"It shuts off all possibility and suggestions of reconciliation," said the justice.

The remarks were made during the divorce proceedings brought by Dr. Arthur S. Hudson of Huntington avenue, against his wife, Minnie L. Hudson, who, he claimed, had deserted him on Nov. 6, 1907.

Dr. Hudson stated that he had always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations but that his wife was not. He was surprised upon reaching his home one day to find her moving out with all of her effects.

Dr. Hudson produced three witnesses who substantiated his statements concerning his wife's desertion.

Judge White has reserved his decision.

BROTHER CLARKE

OLDEST MEMBER OF THE PASSIONISTS IS DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 25.—Brother Richard Clarke, said to be the oldest member of the Order of Passionists in the United States, both in point of age and length of service, died of paralysis yesterday at the Sacred Heart retreat here. Brother Clarke was 81 years of age and a native of Martinsburg, W. Va. Fifty-one years ago he entered the Order of Passionists at Pittsburgh, Pa., completing his probation a year later. For years Brother Clarke was engaged in the work of collecting funds for the upbuilding of the Catholic churches. He traveled extensively and had a wide acquaintance throughout the country, especially in the eastern states.

FOR MILLIONS

Widow Appears to Make Fight

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Lawyers are making an effort to secure an amicable settlement of the claims for the $15,000,000 estate left by the late Robert T. Pettibone of Wyoming, near here, who died last Tuesday, apparently without a will.

The estate is now claimed by a young woman of Wyoming, who says she is Pettibone's widow, for herself and her three-year-old child, and by Pettibone's sister, Mrs. Allan H. Dickson, and other relatives.

At the time of his death it was not generally known that Mr. Pettibone had been married since his first wife died, six years ago, and the filing of legal action by the young woman signing herself Mrs. Minnie Harris Pettibone caused comment. She claims she was married to Pettibone in 1907 and that they had two children, one of whom died.

He was a member of the general assembly in 1888 and was elected again at the recent election. He was 78 years old and leaves one daughter.

If the blood is poor and filled with the poisons from diseased kidneys or inactive liver, the heart is not only starved but poisoned as well. There are many conditions due to impure blood—such as dropsy, fainting spells, nervous debility or the many venereal conditions, ulcers, "lover-sores," white swellings, etc. All can be overcome and cured by

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

This supplies pure blood—by aiding digestion, increasing assimilation and imparting tone to the whole circulatory system. Its a heart tonic and a great deal more, having an alternative action on the liver and kidneys, it helps to eliminate the poisons from the blood.

To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles, thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and do not permit a dishonest dealer to insult your intelligence with the "just as good kind." The "Discovery" has 40 years of cures behind it and contains no alcohol or narcotics. Ingredients plainly printed on wrapper.

DEFECTIVE CHIMNEY

CAUSE OF A FIRE IN HOUSE IN BERKLEY AVENUE

The prompt response to an alarm from box 241 about 9:30 o'clock last night and the efficient work of the firemen after arriving on the scene prevented the destruction of the residence of Abbott Lawrence of 53 Berkley avenue, last night. The fire started in the L of the house and was caused by a defective chimney.

Mrs. Lawrence was alone in the house when she heard the crackling of flames. She ran to the home of a neighbor, who sent a telephone call to a store located near the box, and one of the employees of the store pulled in an alarm from box 241.

When the department arrived there was a lively blaze in progress, but the firemen extinguished it before much damage was done.

A Grand Demonstration Sale Of Art Squares and Rugs

OPENS TOMORROW MORNING AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

Our Entire Stock of Rugs and Art Squares Amounting to Over $5000 at Radically Reduced Prices

In order to advertise this new department and to still further demonstrate the fact that this is the best and the cheapest place for you to buy floor rugs of any kind or size.

Two months ago we opened this new department in our store and prices were advertised in our opening sale that proved the rugs shown here the very best values ever in Lowell. The response in this opening sale was both immediate and liberal and from this time on the business of the department has exceeded our expectations.

Within the past two weeks shipments of our new rugs for spring, 1911, have been received, and we take this opportunity of making the department still more favorably and better known by again advertising BED ROCK PRICES—THE VERY LOWEST EVER QUOTED ON RUGS OF REAL MERIT AND WORTH.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CLEANER STREETS

While it is true that we have made great progress in improving our streets, yet it is equally true that we are very far behind many cities neither so large nor so important as our own in the matter of keeping our streets clean. For some time past the dust on our streets has been almost suffocating, yet nothing has been done to bring relief. On many of the days on which the dust was most unbearable, it was quite feasible to water the streets; but it seems to be against the established custom to do any street watering except within the regular seasons. Yesterday, for example, the temperature was so mild that it would have been easy to water the streets and a little sprinkling would have laid the dust and brought relief to the suffering public. The street watering time table will have to be modified so as to allow proper attention to the smooth paved streets at least until the upper surface shall have worn off. Once this is gone there will not be nearly so much dust from these streets.

There is another matter to which the street department will soon have to give its attention and that is the disinfection of gutters along the principal streets or at least on the principal squares of the city. Take for example, Merrimack Square, around which there is always a large number of people. From early morning to late at night, there is a strip of sputum covered surface along the gutters that must certainly be a menace to health if allowed to remain from day to day as at present. To protect the health of the public against this danger, it would be necessary to use a disinfectant from a sprinkler. Something of the kind should be done in the interest of the public health and as a preventive against tuberculosis. In large European cities this precautionary measure is adopted with the most satisfactory results. Where large assemblies gather along sidewalks there is sure to be a good deal of expectoration along the edges or gutters of the streets. The people generally have an idea that the anti-spitting law is sufficiently observed if they do not spit on the sidewalks. Hence the majority of them spit in the gutter and anybody who visits the squares at 8.30 o'clock on fine mornings, can see the evidence of the early morning crowds that do their share of the spitting as well as those who come to the square in the evening. It is up to the street department or the board of health to adopt some method of disinfecting the gutters where this practice is carried on.

FOR THE REFORMATION OF CRIMINALS

There is a bill before the legislature, the object of which is to establish schools of instruction and manual training for the inmates of large county prisons. It is now recognized as a fact that the policy of these institutions in the past has been misdirected. The houses of correction and prisons generally have been used merely for the punishment of criminals, while there has been very little attempt made to give them any training by which they might be reformed. There is a general belief that with a change of policy many of the prisoners may be made useful citizens. Of the 27,714 commitments to reformatories and houses of correction, 16,444 were of persons who had been in the same institutions before while many of them, if has been ascertained, had also been imprisoned elsewhere. It would, therefore, appear that they are regular habitués of such institutions.

The author of the pending bill in the legislature is in favor of establishing some system of training by which those who cannot read and write will be educated at least to overcome their illiteracy, while those who are not illiterate will be offered an opportunity to learn some useful trade. It has been cited as an argument in favor of this policy that more than 200 years ago Pope Clement XI established a penal institution in Rome based upon the very principle which this bill would apply to our present institutions. Over the door of that prison was this inscription, "For the reformation and education of the criminal—that those who when idle had been injurious to the state might when better instructed and trained become useful to it."

Olive Goldsmith enunciated a principle somewhat similar when he showed that the efficacy of the law to prevent crime depended upon the certainty with which it fell upon guilt and its power to reform the criminals convicted and lodged in prison. These are old principles, no doubt, but they seem to have been slow of adoption in this country, and it is encouraging to find that a move is to be made now in the right direction for it has too often happened that a man after committing his first offense has been sent to prison, it may be for trivial cause, and returns ready for the commission of almost any crime. Our prisons should make men better, not worse, and they should, moreover, send them out into the world better equipped to earn an honest living so as to be self-reliant rather than depending upon larceny and the arts of deception in order to support themselves.

THE INVESTIGATION OF LODGE

There is a good deal of very windy talk about the election of Senator Lodge. He secured a majority, and while some men who left their own party to vote for him, may be suspected of having yielded to undue influence, yet we do not believe that the senator can be connected in any manner with their acts. Senator Lodge for eighteen years has been an active agent in helping the large corporations to secure the high tariff duties which they desired. They are all grateful to him and have all been very anxious to see him reelected. If money were needed to carry Lodge's election, they would readily furnish it; but whether they did so or not is a private matter of their own not likely to be revealed.

There is not much doubt that Senator Lodge will take his seat without any question as to the validity of his election, despite the resolution of the Montana legislature asking for an investigation and despite the windy and unsubstantial vaporings of sensational newspapers that claim to know things they dare not print. Had the opposition to Lodge united on a different candidate a man more devoted to the people's interests than to those of the republican party might have been chosen.

SEEN AND HEARD

Smoking comes high. First there is the cigarette smoking period.

The man who rolls himself a cigarette when he wants one, buys two or three sacks of alfalfa every week and a couple of packs of "rice" paper, at a cost of 25 or 30 cents a week, $13 to $15 a year.

After the cigarette period comes the pipe period. The smoker purchases four or five pipes costing a total of $5 to $10, and his tobacco costs him 50 cents a week, or $26 a year. Pipes and tobacco ran him $80 at least.

Then comes the stogie period. The smoker gets away with six or eight or ten a day, at a cost of $1.40 a week, or $72.80 a year.

After that comes the $1-cent cigar season. The man smokes six or eight a day at a cost of about $130 a year.

Then comes the time when nothing "lasts" right but a ten-center, and then the bills are $3.50 a week or $180 to $185 a year, or more.

Then after awhile comes the corn-cob pipe period, and more affairs, and the price drops from $180 a year to $10.40. "This is more or less crude but it's all right."

Tell me, little maiden with the dimpled chin,

Which of those fellows is a-going to win?

Which one do you dream of when you lie asleep?

Enshrined in that warm heart of yours which do you keep?

Which one do you think of through the long, glad day?

Which one do you pine for when he's far away?

Surely there is one of them who's captured you.

Though you entertain them by the store or two?

Tell me, little maiden with the light brown hair,

For which of all those fellows do you really care?

A WOMAN'S LAST WORD

Let's contend no more, Love,

Strive nor weep;

All be as before, Love,

Only sleep.

What so wild as words are!

I and thou

In debates birds are,

Hawk on bough.

See the creature stalking

While we speak;

Hush and hide the talking

Check on cheek.

What so false as truth is,

False to thee

Where the serpent's tooth is

Shun the tree—

Where the apple redden,

Never pry—

Lest we lose our Eúens,

Eve and I.

Be a god and hold me

With a charm;

Be a man and fold me

With thine arm.

Teach me, only teach, Love,

As I ought.

I will speak thy speech, Love,

Think thy thought—

Meet if thou require it,

Roth demands,

Laying fresh and spirit

In thy hands.

That shall be tomorrow,

Not tonight,

I must bury sorrow

Out of sight.

Must a little weep, Love,

(Foolish me)

And so fall asleep, Love,

Loved by thee.

—Robert Browning.

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it." Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

The testimonials which are constantly being published in these advertisements are guaranteed to be absolutely genuine.

At the midwinter meeting of the trustees of Colby college, Charles P. Chipman of Boston was elected librarian of the college to succeed E. W. Hall, deceased. Mr. Chipman is connected with the business department of the Baptist Missionary Publication Society and was graduated from Colby in 1896. He was formerly secretary to the college. The matter of the erection of a new dormitory to accommodate the increasing number of students was left to the finance committee. A building to house forty students is required.

Mark Twain's characters—some of the most appealing of them—are to be dressed in French garb and given to the public on the stage of Sarah Bernhardt's theatre in Paris. Five acts and nine tableaux have been constructed by Vladimir Biensstock and Michael Care out of Mark Twain's romance "The Prince and the Pauper." They will be presented at the Theatre Sarah-Bernhardt in about six weeks. M. Biensstock has already been successful as an adaptor, and he has chosen "The Prince and the Pauper" out of Mark Twain's books because its sympathetic appeal would be as great to a Frenchman as to an American. M. Biensstock has previously adapted plays of Pinero and Tolstol.

A Serbian teacher, M. Medakovich, has instituted a successful method of teaching. In his school each pupil is provided with a chocolate alphabet, and as soon as he can put his name together correctly he is allowed to eat it. Word-making is taught on the same plan. M. Medakovich's pupils on an average can read fluently in three days.

William Dean Howells has gone to Bermuda.

Miss Belle Hogan, a rich woman in Ireland, has given $50,000 to establish free scholarships at Cork university.

Here is a story which Professor Bailey of Cornell enjoys telling on himself. One day he dropped into an old book emporium in a certain western New York city and there found an edition which he wanted. Asking its price of the bookseller, he was told that it was $5. Thinking this rather steep, Professor Bailey said: "Don't you think that is a pretty high price for an old book?" "Well," said the bookseller, "it may seem so to you, but it really doesn't make any difference to me whether you buy the book or not, for there's an old fool down at the back of the store by the name of Bailey who'll take it at $5 just as soon as I offer it to him."

Judge Lindsay says in a newspaper article that for every woman who takes a bribe there are 50 men who do so, and he believes a larger percentage of women voters to possess high ideals and a keen sense of justice than of the opposite sex. "A man," says Judge Lindsay, "has a sense of justice, but he's apt to let his sense of comfort push it out of sight."

Miss Helen Taft, at nineteen, is a wholesome attractive girl, with neither a trace or pose or affectation in manner or conversation, says Harper's Bazar. She possesses a sufficient sense of humor, inherited from her father, to prevent her head being turned by the attentions she has received. Most of the intimate friends of the Taft family are wont to declare that in features "as well as in temperament Miss Helen favors her father. Though Miss Taft has always been an inveterate reader, and has won a scholarship at Bryn Mawr and all sorts of prizes at school, and although each summer she pursues a definite course of reading, she indulges in a wide range of outdoor athletics.

EXCELLENT MUSICALS

The ladies of the First Universalist church held a musical and social at the home of Mrs. W. P. Lane, Georgia avenue, Tuesday evening. Following an excellent program refreshments were served. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lane poured, and Miss Gertrude Lane, Miss Gladys Emerson, Miss Bernice Flint, Miss Rita Frucan and Miss Harriet Mansur served.

The program was as follows:
Solo, "For All Eternity," Mascheroni
Miss Grace Hortense Currier
Solo, "Love Abiding," Jordan
Willard E. Henderson
Solo, "Fidelity Fair," Powlet
Miss Florence Lowmy
Selections,
James E. Donnelly.

The accompanists were Mona Adams, David Hird and John J. Kelly.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

For years medical men have been seeking a cure for eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for one studious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in many forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist, dealing with many anti-septic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to hundreds of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped at once. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for eczema in all its forms, also for pimples, blotches, itch, tetter, scaly skin, eruptions, chloasma, psoriasis, rash, sores, scurvy, scabs, itching piles.

VETERAN CARRIER

Charles A. Holden Also a Civil War Veteran

Letter Carrier Charles A. Holden, of the local postoffice, while not the oldest carrier when point of service is considered, has an interesting record, both as a letter carrier and a soldier. That gentleman figured "in" many of the prominent battles of the Civil war and at the present time bears a bullet wound in his right arm, but despite that fact he performs his duty faithfully every day and traverses one of the downtown routes which are considered the hardest routes in the city owing to the heavy mail daily.

He is the fourth oldest carrier in point of service at the local postoffice well known by every business man in well known by every business man in Central street, know fully well that he performs his work in an efficient and painstaking manner. No matter how heavy the mail may be, rain or shine, he is on time and the people on his route can assure you that he does not vary five minutes on any trip in reaching the different offices or stores.

He was appointed a carrier on Aug. 1, 1874, and worked at the old postoffice in Merrimack street, and afterwards went to the present office when the change in location was made.

With the exception of a short space of time, when he was changed from one route to another, he has spent almost all of his nearly 37 years as a letter carrier in the business district in Central street.

Mr. Holden has a military career which any soldier might be proud of. When the war broke out he joined Company M, Second Massachusetts cavalry, and was in Gen. Philip Sheridan's cavalry division during the greater portion of the Civil war, and went through the Shenandoah Valley campaign with Sheridan.

On Feb. 22, 1864, the company of which he was a member met Mosby's guerrillas at Drainesville and he received a bullet wound in his right arm. He and a number of his fellowmen were captured and taken to Richmond, Va., where they were placed in Libby prison until their pedigrees were taken. He was then transferred to a prison across the street, the prison being an abandoned tobacco warehouse.

guard at the hospital and be ready for a call to the front in case that more troops were needed.

At the end of the war he received an honorable discharge. Several years after the war was over he worked at different things and in 1874 was appointed a letter carrier in this city and since then has performed his duties as a letter carrier in a faithful manner.

TO POPULARIZE CONSOLS

LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated that the government is considering measures to popularize consols and make them easily available to small investors by issuing to bearer bonds in denominations of five and 10 pounds. These may be purchased at postoffices where the coupons also can be cashed, free of the income tax.

This reform has long been advocated as a means of arresting the continued decline in the price of consols, which heretofore, owing to difficulties of negotiation, have been held mainly by wealthy individuals and financial institutions.

FUNERAL OF PHILLIPS

Will be Held in "Little Church
Around the Corner"

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The funeral of David Graham Phillips, who died in Bellevue hospital shortly before midnight from the effects of an assassin's bullet, will be held in the Protestant Episcopal church of the Transfiguration, affectionately known to many as "The Little Church Around the Corner." The services will be in charge of Rev. Dr. George Chouton, pastor of the church, which since its establishment has been dedicated to the use of those who toil in the fields of art and letters. The arrangements for the burial are all in the hands of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who was one of the writer's most intimate friends.

Mr. Phillips' death came so late in the night that many of his colleagues in literature and business did not hear of it until this morning. As the news reached them their personal regret was increased by their feeling, expressed almost unanimously in the brief statements which they gave out, that he had been killed at the beginning of a career that meant much for American letters. Robert W. Chambers, who had been perhaps his closest associate in New York, said:

"He was one of the best of men. He was high minded and true; one of the finest of American writers. His best work seemed yet to come—he was just finding himself and had struck a vein that promised richly for the future."

Miss Hildegarde Hawthorne, speaking of her personal acquaintance with Mr. Phillips, said:

"The desire to work out the ideas of his country and his age was always uppermost in his ambition and he was growing so rapidly toward his ideal in this direction that his friends had already allotted him a lofty place in letters. We believed him destined to lasting fame as the exponent of American life and the problems that beset it."

cession from a nearby undertaker's was carrying the body of his assassin, Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, to the railroad station in Jersey City. The casket was put aboard a train at midnight and shipped to Washington, where the young fanatic will be buried tomorrow. That Mr. Phillips' assassin was depicted as a villain, not only by the testimony of his diary and notebooks, but also by his appeals to Mayor Gaynor's secretary and other officials for protection from persons who he believed were hounding him. The entries in the diary showed that he had translated to personal abuse the author's picturesque characterization of a class in his novel of Washington life, "The Adventures of Joshua Craig," and under this misconstruction had conceived a homicidal hatred of which the victim was unaware.

Mr. Phillips was born in Madison, Ind., in 1866, was a Princeton graduate and unmarried. He was one of the Indiana group of story tellers which includes Booth Tarkington, George Ade, Meredith Nicholson, Charles Major and others. He had written twenty novels—many "best sellers" among them—and numerous magazine articles.

His father was David Graham Phillips, a banker. His mother is now living in Los Angeles, Cal. Besides Mrs. Dreyer, the sister with whom he made his home in New York, there is a second sister, Mrs. McLelland, living in Indiana, and a third, Mrs. Oliver Kinsey, living in Georgia.

SEN. BEVERIDGE

TO HAVE CHARGE OF FUNERAL OF AUTHOR PHILLIPS

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The body of David Graham Phillips, the slain novelist, probably will be laid to rest among the hills of Greenwood cemetery in Brooklyn. Beyond this no announcement was forthcoming during this forenoon from the little group of the dead writer's friends and relatives entrusted with the mission of arranging his funeral.

Mrs. Caroline Prevost, who stood at her brother's bedside as the author breathed his last shortly before midnight, and Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Phillips' close friend, visited the cemetery this morning with the intention of selecting the spot for the grave. The body was taken from Bellevue hospital to an undertaker's establishment on Fourth avenue and will be transferred later to the National Arts club, the writer's former home. George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia, and Samuel Rhyne, associates of Phillips during his lifetime, are assisting Senator Beveridge in arranging for the funeral. The time and place of holding services were expected to be announced this afternoon. From what could be learned of the ideas of the dead writer's friends and relatives on the matter, it seemed probable that a private funeral would be decided upon and that the first idea of holding public church services might be abandoned.

The body of Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, the poet, musician who slew Phillips, which was borne to the railroad station in Jersey City as the novelist was breathing his last, will be buried in Washington today. What is regarded as an explanation for his crime—or the explanation that might be given by a man obsessed—is found in extracts from his diary, made public today by Goldsborough's uncle, J. Powers Burr, of this city.

"Fitzhugh had all the eccentricities of genius," Mr. Burr said. "The entire family is musical, and the development of music seemed to have been strongest in the boy. He was far from being practical. He was most courteous in his ideas about women, and we are of the opinion that he became incensed with Mr. Phillips because of his treatment of some of his women characters in his books. We think he brooded over this until he began to look upon Mr. Phillips as an enemy and decided to kill him. We can explain his mad action in no other way."

Phillips died game, sustained by his splendid willpower to the last. He knew that the end was at hand, yet buoyed his courage with the oft-repeated declaration that he would not die. As the final moment approached, however, he realized that death was beckoning.

"I could fight two wounds, but not six. I felt that the odds are too great against me," were his last words, whispered to Dr. Eugene Fuller.

SENATE PASSES BILL

To Provide for Less Expensive
Federal Suits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congress is making it less expensive to conduct a lawsuit in the federal courts. This is somewhat in line with President Taft's insistence upon reform in judicial procedure, although it does not go as far as the president would like. The agitation against excessive fees in the federal courts began many years ago. The senate has just enacted a bill to cut off many of those fees, the house judiciary committee has made a favorable report thereon, and the bill now awaits action by the popular legislative branch.

It is pretty well understood among lawyers that considerable injustice is done because of these charges, and that sometimes litigants are kept from going to law because of them. Only the federal courts are meant in this connection. Congress has no authority over the state tribunals. It is asserted that powerful corporations have sometimes made it a practice to fight litigants through such instrumentalities, knowing that the expense would be a bar.

Representative Clayton of Alabama, in reporting favorably the senate bill referred to, cited instances of what it costs at present for clerks' fees to fight a lawsuit through all the courts to the United States supreme court. He showed that when a person starts a lawsuit in a federal court, he generally gets it under way by having it referred to a commissioner, a referee in bankruptcy, or an examiner or master in chancery for the purpose of having the testimony taken. From that point the case travels to the trial court, and thence, step by step, and it goes that far the litigants have to pay for the record five different times.

Although the work is an exact duplicate. It works out like this: 1.—The stenographer's transcript of the testimony to be used in the hearing on the merits. This is at the rate of 16 cents a folio for the original and five cents a folio for copies, exclusive of per diem for attendance by the commissioner, at $3; by the master in chancery at $20.

2.—A certified copy of the record, including another transcript of testimony, to the circuit court of appeals. 3.—The printing of the record in the circuit court of appeals, in addition to cost of copying original papers on file for printer's use.

4.—A certified copy of the record from the circuit court of appeals to the supreme court.

5.—The printing of the record in the supreme court.

Among the cases cited by Mr. Clayton was one from Seattle, in which the fees paid the various clerks of the courts, up to and into the supreme court, amounted to $5159.58. This, of course, was exclusive of the fees paid the lawyers on each side and exclusive of a number of other court fees, such as the marshal's fees, etc.

In this case the fees in getting from the examiner to the trial court were $32.60. Then the master in chancery took $595.80 more. The clerk of the circuit court, for preparing and certifying the record on appeal to the circuit court of appeals collected $402.90. In the circuit court of appeals the clerk charged $149.50 for printing 30 copies of the record, and $538.60 more for certifying the record on appeal to the supreme court.

In the supreme court the clerk took first, as the clerk's fee $387.60; then he charged $1012.50 for printing the record, and for good measure he also levied an attorney's docket fee of $20, or a total of $1420 for his share.

There is no escape for the litigant. Both the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court have rules providing that if the clerk does not get his money in advance he shall not print the record, and if the record is not printed after a certain length of time the case is dismissed.

The pending bill provides that the unnecessary reprinting and duplicating of the record be omitted, so that one printing will do all the way through a case. It also cuts off some of the other graft of the clerks by dispensing with a lot of transcribing for which the clerks have been paid fat fees regarded as totally unnecessary.

PROPOSED CANAL

Merrimock River

Vice President O. L. Friess, of the Atlantic Deepwater Waterways Association, of New Hampshire, who has been energetically pushing a project for the extension of the Atlantic deeper waterway from Boston to Maine, and who secured the adoption by the Providence convention of a resolution approving his project, is still at work. In a letter to the Monitor and Statesman, of Concord, New Hampshire, he gives an explanation of the effect of such an extension as follows:

I was pleased to read the letter in your paper on October 25, 1910, on the revival of the American commercial marine. It is gospel truth. The people do not realize that we are building the Panama canal with no American ships to use it.

I am equally surprised at the indifference of the people of New Hampshire to the improvement of our waterways, while the rest of the country are doing their utmost to secure cheap transportation by waterways. They do not realize that we pay three times more for transportation every year than we pay to run the government. They do not realize that New England paid last year $70,000,000 to get $30,000,000 worth of coal to use at their firesides and their mills, and New Hampshire paid her own of it. Transportation affects the price of everything, anything anybody buys, sells, eats, wears or uses in any way, water, air and sunshine excepted. Some people use their energy to secure parcels post and low express rates which might bring their seed cheaper, but are indifferent to the transportation of their products. Water transportation is from one-sixth to one-tenth of rail transportation. The first problem of the world is still the great problem of the world, how to feed the people. It is our duty to provide transportation of food stuffs, as well as to produce it. The improvement of our waterways alone solve the problem.

We need these waterways not only for foodstuffs, but to secure our raw material for our mills and to send our finished products to market. We should find out the best possible means to transport the products of the people and then do all in our power to secure these means. That is what other sections of our country are doing. Today there is a meeting of the United States engineers at Boston relative to securing 25 feet draught for the proposed canal from Narragansett bay to Boston. This canal will give cheap transportation to Brockton and other towns and cities on the canal. This is to be a part of the interstate canal from Maine to Texas. The waterway convention at Providence, Aug. 31, 1910, endorsed the extension of this canal to Maine. The canal would be from Boston to the Merrimack river, 27 miles; thence, miles to the tide-water of the Piscataqua river at Exeter, down Exeter river, Great bay and Piscataqua river to Maine. This canal would give the Merrimack river in Massachusetts three choices of routes to get to the sea without breaking cargo. The valley of the Merrimack river in New Hampshire could secure the choice of two routes to get to the sea, by the river, or cut a sea barge canal to Exeter and save breaking cargo and thus save from 25 cents to 40 cents a ton on freight. It would give water transportation to Concord. Manchester would become a seaport like the city whose name it bears in England. She would be a distributing point for New Hampshire and Vermont, and it might be a "free port" like Hamburg and Bremen, which are from 60 to 100 miles from the sea. The rest of New England is securing cheap transportation. New Hampshire must secure the same, or be greatly handicapped in maintaining her industrial position among the other states.

BUILDING PERMITS

WERE ISSUED BY INSPECTOR
DOW TODAY

The figures given out by Inspector Dow of the lands and buildings department, relative to the number of permits issued from his office for new buildings, additions and alterations show a good increase over the previous year. The totals were given in The Sun, yesterday. Today there were issued at the office of the inspector, a permit for a building at 30 Dover St. The petitioner was W. L. Caveno. Another was a permit for an addition to a store at 23 Cady street. This permit was given to John H. Hayden. The John Dennis Machine Co. was granted a permit to build a storage building of brick on the westerly side of Sanderson street. Fiscal Francis was granted a permit for additions and alterations in the building numbered 474 Moody street.

WATER SALE

LAST week a sprinkler pipe froze on us, and then burst. We did not have a large amount of goods damaged, but there were several thousand dollars worth in striking distance of the flood. These goods were only slightly wet for the most part, just the edges. However, the insurance company allowed us liberal damages and we give you the benefit. Here are some of the "wet" goods which you will find in Bargainland at bargain prices.

ICE HOCKEY GAINING STRONG FOOTHOLD

TO the Canadians belong two of the most virile sports of modern times—lacrosse and hockey. Uncle Sam has his baseball, England its cricket and Scotland its golf, but to the Canadians must be accorded maternal interest in the first mentioned sports. Uncle Sam does not believe for one minute that his national pastime is an improved form of rounders played by Britons years ago, nor do the people of the Dominion countenance the idea that ice hockey is merely an advanced form of shinny.

Lacrosse by reason of its conflict with baseball does not appear destined to take hold in the United States and as a matter of fact the base hit and the bunt are making greater inroads every year into the Dominion's ice hockey, on the other hand, is making steady advancement in this country. The absence of a really spectacular game to fill in between the close and the opening of the baseball season has been a long felt want, and the establishment of artificial ice rinks in New York, Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, St. Paul and Chicago has paved the way for the introduction of ice hockey and its gradual adoption as one of the most popular of the winter sports.

Weather conditions in this country have militated against ice hockey outdoors, and except in the northern portions of the states the game has been more or less intermittent. The great necessity for the steady growth of hockey has been artificial rinks, and since the life appears to have set in prospects are bright that in a few years all of the big cities will possess one or more artificial rinks.

So inarticulate is the sport in Canada that the leading professionals are paid more in proportion for their services than the diamond heroes on this side of the water. The majority of them are under contract, and compensation for their services is fully as keen as for those of Tajo, Wagner or Ty Cobb.

The game is played by teams of seven men on each side, and while the rules in different associations vary slightly, the main points are similar wherever the sport is found. Under the rules of the American Amateur Hockey league in New York the dimension of the playing area must be not less than 112 by 53 feet, the sides of the rink constituting the side lines and imaginary lines at the two ends forming the goal lines.

The goals are placed in the middle of each goal line, one at each end. The goal is composed of two upright posts, each four feet in height, which are firmly fixed in the ice six feet apart and joined by a strong netting, which is hung at an angle forming a cage. This is all the setting needed for the game, there being no markings such as are found on the gridiron, no foul lines as on the baseball field and no penalty area as in Association football. It is all simple, a sheet of ice with goals at each end, and the arena is ready.

Players on skates armed with hockey sticks, a vulcanized rubber puck and the necessary number of officials make the setting complete. No special restriction is placed on the skaters except that they must not be pointed or sharpened in a manner likely to be dangerous to other players, the referees being the judge of these points.

Sticks Resemble Hurling Clubs.

Hockey sticks resemble the hurling club used in Ireland's national game but are not as heavy. The sticks are flat on the sides, shaped like the old fashioned shiny stick, but being much wider in the blade, the length of which is limited to thirteen inches and the width to three inches. The puck is a disk of rubber one inch in thickness and three inches in diameter.

MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR BASEBALL RULES

Checker, Golf, Poker and Croquet Players Would Change National Pastime

The solons of football have so altered the game that a player who has been away for some years would only recognize his old pastime by the appearance of the ball and the markings of the gridiron. If the two major baseball leagues adopted all the suggestions advanced by rabid fans they would make the revivers of the football code look like pikers. There does not seem to be a single city, town or hamlet which does not contain at least one man who thinks he has an idea that would benefit the game. Those communities where the winning teams foregathered are satisfied with the present rules. So is the veteran baseball bug of any region. He is a true conservative and resents any talk of change. It is the men who regard baseball as a pastime instead of the sacred science, which it is who wish to alter the rules. Suggestions which originate in their fertile brains are first tried out on their friend and then put into literary form and mailed to some innocent newspaper.

The checker player thinks it would be a fine idea if the runner, having completed the circuit of the bases, should have the privilege of a king the moment he touches the home plate and be allowed to run back in the other direction, thus scoring indefinitely until captured.

The golf player suggests that battling be encouraged by the construction of bunkers in the outfield, into which either the fielders or the ball might fall, thus giving the hitter a better chance of reaching first on a high fly. The poker player believes that the game would be improved if more of the element of bluff were introduced. For instance, if the umpire called a man out on a close decision the runner should be allowed to stand pat and be permitted five minutes in which to bluff the arbitrator out of his opinion. This man also believes that it is wrong to force a runner off third base. He should be allowed to come in when he wishes.

The croquet player wishes hoops used instead of cushions, the entomologist desires to equip the fielders with butterfly nets, and the cricket player thinks the game should consist of seventy-two full innings, with an intermission after every twelfth inning to allow tea and muffins to be served.

Other changes that have been suggested are that the runner be allowed to steal first; that he shall be entitled to four strikes; that he may take his base on three balls; that the foul strike rule be abolished; that the pitcher's box be moved back; that a man be allowed to bat for the pitcher, the latter still remaining in the game, and that the manager be allowed to take players out and send them back into the game whenever he thinks it best.

Next season will probably bring the same old game with the same old rules and the same old crowds containing the same old klickers. The true fan is a curious animal. He can always find plenty to criticize in existing conditions, but if any one else ventures to speak of beneficial changes the fan is the first to cry him down.

ENGLISH COACHING REVIVAL.

Following Lead of Vanderbilt, Wealthy Will Drive.

Thanks largely to the initiative and enthusiasm of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, there is a marked revival of the fine old pastime of coaching in London. After three seasons' experience of the Brighton road and its many attractions the noted American whip has decided to continue running the Venture coach down from London to Brighton next season.

Preparations are already well advanced for putting several fresh coaches on the road in the season, to begin on May day next year, for members of the Four-in-hand club and Coaching club are determined to let the world see what can be done with good horsemanship. Lord Beaconsfield has made arrangements to bring back to the scene of its famous trips of 1888 the Old Times, and it is hoped this famous coach will repeat its past exploits, when the late James Selby drove it to Brighton and back, a distance of 103 miles, in 7 hours 50 minutes. The Hon. P. S. Wyndham is qualified to take the place of his brother on the box when he wants the exhilaration of a spin. This last summer the Old Times ran daily for a couple of months between Brighton and Arundel.

Among other aristocrats interested in the revival of coaching Lord Charles Reresford and Lord Penrhyn will also be occasionally seen as whips next season. Don Miguel Martinez de Irujo, who was second to W. H. Moore in the first coaching Marathon of 1909, is sending more of his Argentine bred hackneys to England, and he will once more be seen on the road. The Chester and Shrewsbury coach is also likely to be put on again. Other revivals of a like nature are under consideration, and American visitors to Britain next summer are likely to have a wide choice of trips in coaches handled by aristocratic whips.

THREE VIEWS OF WILLIE HOPPE.

WILLIE HOPPE'S STRONG HOLD ON HIS BILLIARD TITLES

No One In Sight Capable of Taking Away "Boy Wonder's" Balk Line Honors.

By TOMMY CLARK.

HOW long will Willie Hoppe retain his billiard honors? This question is now uppermost in the minds of the cue enthusiasts. Finding a suitable opponent for the world's 18.1 and 18.2 balk line champion is just as hard as looking around for a man capable of relieving Jack Johnson of his pugilistic honors. Hoppe has defeated every cue artist of note during the last year, and with no one in sight able to make the holder of the two titles extend himself it looks as if it will be many years before he is dethroned.

The youthful master of the cue began the 1910 season with no titles dangling to his belt, but closed it the champion at both 18.1 and 18.2 balk line and in so doing incidentally placed to his credit the world's record for 18.1 with a high run of 155 and an average of 33.6-15 for 500 points. Till last year the best average was 31, made by Frank Ives in 1897, while the high run of 149 was made by the same player.

Calvin Demarest was the champion 18.2 with the opening of the year, George Sutton holding the title at the more difficult style of 18.1. Hoppe was without a title through differences with the firm that controls billiards in this country, which placed him outside of the professional game. This matter was adjusted, and exports predicted that in due time he would gather to himself the crown at both 18.2 and 18.1.

In the meantime Demarest, was defeated for the 18.2 championship by Harry Cline of Philadelphia in Chicago Feb. 3 by 1,500 to 1,357. Hoppe got his opportunity at Sutton for the 18.1 title in Chicago on March 16, winning 500 to 228. He grabbed Cline's laurels from him at the 18.2 balk line in New York on May 25, the score being 500 to 394, thus making him the champion of both styles of play.

George Slosson met Hoppe in a championship match for the 18.1 title in New York on Dec. 1 and 2, the latter easily taking the veteran into camp by 1,500 points to 471. It was on the first night of this play that Hoppe made his record of 33.1-3 average.

In a match with Ora Morningstar in Pittsburgh on Feb. 3, 4 and 5 for 1,500 points Hoppe made a world's record at 18.2 in averaging 31.4 to an inning, lowering the previous mark of 27 average. Some authorities dispute this record.

While Hoppe has won matches all over the world and played before the nobility abroad, nothing pleases him more than the fact that he has been entertained by the president of the United States and has grasped the hand of the general Mr. Taft. An added distinction is that Hoppe is the first man who ever showed the official family in the White House the mysteries of the cue and the ivory.

It was on New Year's eve that President Taft gathered together his family and the cabinet members and their wives and invited Willie Hoppe to play billiards for them.

"I had played in many championships where large sums were involved as well as the championship," said Hoppe recently, "but I never before experienced the nervousness which I felt when giving the exhibition before the president."

Mr. Taft, however, made the "boy wonder," as Hoppe is known, feel at home by saying:

"My young man, just consider me an ordinary citizen tonight, for I want you to feel at ease and not get nervous."

As soon as Hoppe got his favorite cue in hand and started the ivory balls rolling he says the nervousness vanished, and never did the youth play more brilliantly than in the game with his manager, Burton Bank, when he ran 109 points, 15.3 balk line. Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Colonel Roosevelt, was Hoppe's next opponent, and, although the Ohio statesman plays a good game, he proved an easy victim for the champion.

But it was Hoppe's exhibition of fancy shots which pleased President Taft most. He closely followed the geometrical problems which Hoppe solved with his deft touch and was not satisfied until he tried several himself. It was after he had found how really difficult they were that Mr. Taft expressed his astonishment.

Miss Helen Taft and Mrs. Longworth also tried several of the fancy shots and seemed unwilling to believe that the ivory balls, which seemed to do Hoppe's every bidding, rolled aimlessly about when they tried to send them down the side rail in a single procession.

In speaking of the game of billiards recently Hoppe declared that the bridge is the most important part of the sport.

Every man starting to learn the game, he says, should first study his bridge and learn to use it so that the bridge hand never will become cramped.

In telling of the proper uses of the bridge and strokes Hoppe said:

"I have often been asked why such a small minority of the vast army of persons who find amusement and recreation playing different styles of billiards ever attain proficiency at the game. The answer is simple. They start wrong. And, once having acquired an incorrect style, it is a difficult thing to unlearn bad habits and begin right."

"There are three things one must learn to play even an average game of billiards, making a correct bridge for all shots, holding the hand properly on the table with knuckles elevated and thumb extended. The cue, slipping easily between the hand and thumb, finds a solid resting place. This bridge I use most for the balk line runs when the balls are close together and a delicate stroke is needed. A few minutes' practice will serve to show how simple and effective in this manner of holding the cue. It gives perfect freedom of action and prevents a cramped movement."

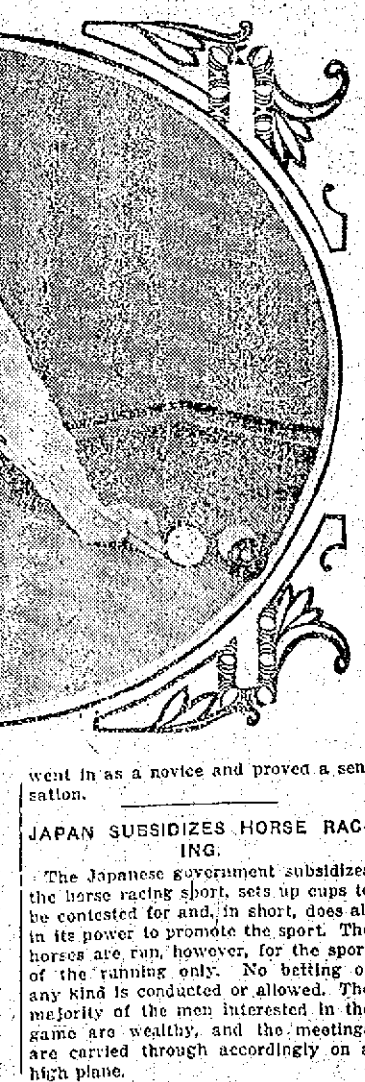

"Then there is the draw stroke bridge. It is made with the hand lying flat on the table, with the index finger around the cue shaft and touching the thumb in a very firm manner, so as to prevent the cue from taking an irregular stroke, which is oftentimes caused by the executing hand. It will give the hand a firm setting and hold the cue in position for a terrific drive or a very heavy drawn shot strike, used for gathering the balls into position in most of the round the table shots."

"In addition is the bridge I use for close drawn shots when the balls are so near together that a broader bridge is impossible. Only a few inches of space are required, yet a strong, firm resting 'groove' for the cue is attained."

"While all of the bridges I have mentioned are regularly used by the advanced player, the third and fourth will serve the needs of the beginner. Never allow the bridge hand to become cramped. Never start a shot through or over the bridge hand. The whole game of billiards depends upon ease of movement."

JACK COOMBS NOT A NOVICE.

It is amusing to read some of the speculative junk about Pitcher Jack Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics. What is the use of talking about him as if he were a novice? Before the season of 1910 he did good work. If you will just take the trouble to recall that Coombs beat Boston in a twenty-two or twenty-three inning game not long after he was discovered in the wilds of Maine you have the answer as to whether he has the goods and nerve. He always was a slayer, and that counts in baseball. The case of "Babe" Adams of Pittsburgh was different. He went in as a novice and proved a sensation.

JAPAN SUBSIDIZES HORSE RACING.

The Japanese government subsidizes the horse racing sport, sets up cups to be contested for and, in short, does all in its power to promote the sport. The horses are run, however, for the sport of the running only. No betting of any kind is conducted or allowed. The majority of the men interested in the game are wealthy, and the meetings are carried through accordingly on a high plane.

DRACUT A BUSY PLACE

Great Enthusiasm Over the Proposed Public Hall

The little town of Dracut is rapidly progressing and its population is largely increasing, both in Navy Yard and Collinsville, especially in the latter place, since Rev. Fr. Walsh has taken up his permanent residence there as pastor of St. Mary's church. People from Lowell and vicinity are seen frequently in the Collinsville district, looking over lots for building purposes, and a boom in building is expected for the early part of spring, for many people have expressed ideas of establishing themselves in that part of the town. There are several hundred families in the village at the present time, and Rev. Fr. Walsh estimates the number of his parishioners to be about 400.

No wonder people are flocking in this district, a church in the midst of the village, good street car facilities, stores of all descriptions, a nice large school, pure air, and a very healthful place to live. And last but not the least, the Beaver Brook mills employing several hundred people are running full time, and in some departments two shifts are kept busy day and night. There is great enthusiasm all over the town over the new public hall question. One meeting was held two weeks ago to discuss the idea of building a public hall in Collinsville and a similar one will be held tomorrow evening at Hall's dining room. Rev. Fr. Walsh will preside and several speakers will address the assembly. Several of the leading men of the village have promised their support, both morally and financially. The townspeople are very confident in their enterprise and they have two sites in view for the erection of the new building.

The Third Wedding.
A wedding was celebrated today in St. Mary's church. This is the third since the opening of the parish. The contracting couple were Mr. Patrick Dempsey and Miss Julia Coakley. The ceremony was performed at one o'clock by Rev. Fr. Walsh. Mr. John Dunn was best man, while Miss Norah McNamara acted as bridesmaid. A dinner was served this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McNamara in Mill street, where a reception will also be held this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey will go on a wedding tour and will reside in Norwood, Mass.

Navy Yard
Beginning this week, the Merrimack Woolens mills in Navy Yard will curtail their working hours to four days a week. For some time past the help was employed five days a week, but Mr. George E. Morrison, superintendent of the plant, has announced this week the new schedule.

The new state road extending from the city line in Lakeview avenue to Pleasant street has been completed. Its cost was $4000, the state and the town of Dracut meeting half way to cover expenses.

Skating is very good on the Beaver brook, the ice being about 12 inches thick. Every night the stretch of ice between the Parker avenue bridge and the Merrimack Woolens mills is the scene of jolly good times, for large crowds gather at that spot and enjoy skating till a late hour.

Personal Items
Mr. Edouard Souland of 1161 Lakeview ave., has returned from a three months' trip to Montreal, Que.
Mr. M. Bottomley, overseer of the finishing department of the Beaver Brook mills, has resigned his position, and it is being filled by Mr. James H. Lawler, formerly overseer of the finishing department of the Middlesex mills of Lowell.

Mr. John Cullin of Collinsville, who suffered a bad accident recently by being struck by an electric car, has fully recovered from his injuries and has returned to his work.

Mr. George F. Hilland, town assessor of Dracut, has resigned his position, and the vacancy created by his resignation has not as yet been filled.

A social and dance will be given tomorrow evening at Schofield's hall, on the Long pond road. The affair will be conducted by a number of boys of the Navy Yard and promises to be a great event.

FUNERALS
FITTON—The funeral of the late Arthur Fitton took place this morning from the residence of the deceased's grandfather, Mr. Joseph Charroux, 610 Chelmsford street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the family. The cortege proceeded to Notre Dame de Lourdes church, where a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Magnan, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Mr. H. A. Racicot rendered the Gregorian chant, Miss Alma Alexander presiding at the organ. The bearers were Joseph Florence, William Charroux, Sylvia and Leo L'Heureux, Percy and Joseph Whills. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery. Rev. Fr. Edouard Chaput, O. M. I., of Tewksbury recited the committal prayers at the grave.

Among the floral tributes were: pillow on stand with inscription "Arthur," Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Fitton and sons; lyre on base with inscription "Nephew," Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Charroux; wreath on base, schoolmates; wreath on base, Mr. and Mrs. Lynch; casket afar, Martha Brothers and employees; casket on base, Mrs. Walsh; spray of pinks, Henry Reynolds; spray of pinks, Mary Reynolds; spray of pinks, Mrs. Walsh; spray of roses, Mr. Stackpole and Mrs. Perkins; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. A. Threw Out the Notes in the Kelly Case BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Without deciding on the validity of the notes, Judge Hitchcock, in the superior court today decided in favor of Mrs. Mary C. Leach, of Exeter, N. H., executrix of the will of George Green Kelly, of Lowell, ruling that notes against the estate made out to John T. Green and amounting to $15,750, had no value because there had been no delivery by Kelly. In the original petition Mrs. Leach alleged that the signatures of the notes were forgeries. Judge Hitchcock, after hearing the evidence for two days, ignored the forgery charge, but threw out the notes because they were found in an envelope among Kelly's possessions. He ordered the notes returned to Mrs. Leach. P. W. and S. E. Qua of Lowell appeared for Mrs. Leach.

THE ESTIMATES

Of the Expenses of the Various City Departments

The estimates for the different departments for the year 1911, have been submitted to the mayor, and some of them were published in The Sun yesterday. Most of the estimates show an increase over the expenses of last year, but departments always allow for a cut down and they generally get it.

The expense account to the assessors department, salaries for 1910, was $12,238.31, and the department's estimate for the current year is $13,550. Other expenses for this department for the past year were $12,238.69 as against an estimate for this year of $13,521.40. The totals for this department are as follows: expense, 1910, $1637.75, and the estimate for 1911 is $1690. This is the tax list expense. The total for the auditor's department is $1268.95 as compared with $1290, as an estimate for 1911; salaries, $1820; other expenses, $1105.35; receipts, $160; total expense, $3153.25.

Accompanying his report the auditor adds the following lines: "There has been a demand for more annual reports which cannot be met without a larger appropriation to pay for printing the same."

Buildings Department

A partial report of this department has already appeared in The Sun relative to expense and estimates. The work of this department for the year has been very creditable, and Mr. Dowling is being congratulated by those concerned and interested in public buildings' additions and improvements. The total expenditures of this department for the year 1910 are $28,738.28. The revenue to the general treasury for the year 1910 is $102, and the estimated revenue for 1911 is $150.

City Clerk's Department

Expenses of the city clerk's department for the year 1910, including salaries, were $1831.02, and the estimate for this department for 1911 is $1900. It is stated in this report that the sum of $4029.20 was received and paid the county treasurer for dog licenses issued from Dec. 1, 1909, to Dec. 1, 1910. This amount will be returned to the city treasurer.

City Messenger

For salary and labor in the department of city messenger for 1910 the expense was $10,000, and the estimate for 1911 is $10,600. Under the head of other expenses (fuel, lighting, police, etc.), $7999.56 for 1910 as against $8000 for 1911. Total appropriation for $1910, $18,000; total expenses, $17,999.56.

City Treasurer

City treasurer—for salaries $5528 for 1910; estimate for 1911, $5000; other expenses for 1910, $2819.68; estimate for 1911, $2890. It is stated in the city treasurer's report that the salary of the fish warden is $40.

City Library

In the report of the city library the following is noted with considerable interest: "It will be necessary to ask the special consideration of the city council at this time to the necessity which exists for an additional tier to the book stack of the library. An estimate of the cost of this addition has been requested of the makers of the stack with the intention of including it in the above statement. We are not, however, able to include this estimate as it has not been received, but will be submitted later. The total expenditures of the department were $15,482.13, and the estimate for 1911 is $16,500.

Fire Department

The permanent and call men have requested the board of engineers to ask for an increase of pay. The permanent men want an increase of twenty-five cents per day, and the call men want an increase of $50 per year, making an increase of $10,402.50 for permanent men, and an increase of $3,500 for call men. Total increase $13,902.50. The story of this proposed increase appeared exclusively in The Sun a few days ago.

Salaries and wages in this department totaled for the year 1910, $138,639.04, and the estimate for 1911 is $140,044.75. Under the head of other expenses for 1910 is $29,570.23, and the estimate for 1911 is $30,745.

Another item in the report of this department has to do with an appropriation for underground wires. This was a $3000 appropriation, and the money has not yet been expended. It is stated in the report the underground wires will be laid in the spring.

Disastrous Fire in Lawrence This Afternoon

Storehouse of the Plymouth Fibre Mills Gutted—Firemen Had Great Difficulty in Preventing Blaze From Spreading to Surrounding Property

LAWRENCE, Jan. 25.—Fire which broke out from some unknown cause in the brick storehouse of the Plymouth Fibre mills on Marston street this afternoon caused heavy damage. The structure was gutted and finished goods to the value of $60,000, according to Manager Read, were consumed. The property was partially insured. The firemen had great difficulty in preventing the blaze from spreading to surrounding mill property.

A LIVELY BLAZE In the Woods Off Wood Street

A lively blaze was discovered this afternoon in the woods off Wood street. An alarm from box 371 was rung in at 3:10 o'clock, summoning a portion of the department to the scene of the fire. At the arrival of the firemen the flames were making great headway, so much, that it took a half hour of hard labor to extinguish the blaze.

CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, instead of impairing the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community, have failed and been discarded, this has gained triumphs by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

While it is a fraud on the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure, still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only as a general thing, but almost invariably cures the maladies for which it is employed.

As time has passed, facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant, to the palace of European Kings. Throughout the entire country, in every State, City and hamlet almost every household contains a bottle of Cherry Pectoral. It is known as the best remedy extant for diseases of the Throat and Lungs, and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensively used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Alms Houses, Public Institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their attending Physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of the lungs. Also in milder cases, and for children, it is safe, pleasant and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials we receive have been from parents who have found it efficacious in cases particularly incident to childhood.

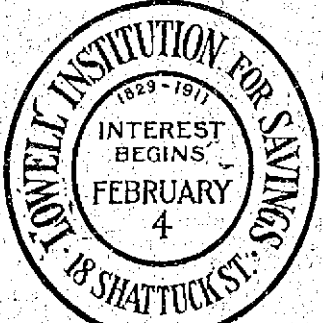

There has long existed an urgent want of some reliable remedy for family use, which could be depended on to cure the first symptoms of disease upon the lungs and throat, and which should at the same time be so harmless that the ignorant and careless could use it with safety. This compound has been invented to meet that demand, and how well it accomplishes the end intended may be seen by its use. This preparation is not offered to the public as a cure-all, nor is any hope held out to the afflicted which such do not warrant. But such proof as we have is here frankly given, with the trust that it will lead the inquiring in the right way, and become an instrument to arrest the scourge which sweeps like desolation over all lands. If this has been done, or even partially accomplished, we would respectfully submit, whether it is not an attainment worthy the highest dream of philanthropy; and to what extent it has been realized we must also leave to the public decision.

The Cherry Pectoral is manufactured by a practical Chemist, and every ounce of it is under his own eye, with inviolable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration.

We have endeavored here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should command itself to their confidence—a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which has been tried by the countless trials proved itself to be a remedy of great value in the treatment of the afflicted with a chemical accuracy of uniform strength to afford Physicians a new agent on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do.

6 O'CLOCK BURNED TO DEATH Woman Lost Her Life and Baby Was Overcome

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A woman was burned to death and her seven months' old baby was overcome by smoke in a fire today which burned out the apartments of Michael E. Landrigan on West 65th street. The body of Mrs. Landrigan was stumbled over by the firemen after they had extinguished the blaze.

Mr. Landrigan, who had fled to the street with his unconscious child in his arms, was uninjured except for a cut on his head. The police are investigating the cause of the fire, which is believed to have been due to an overturned lamp. At the hospital to which the baby was taken it was said that the little one was expected to recover.

DOUBLE FUNERAL Victims of Drowning Accident Laid at Rest

The funeral of Nicholas McNulty, one of the little boys who lost their lives in the Concord river Sunday, took place this morning from the home of his parents, 118 Lawrence street, at 8:30 o'clock, and was held at St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was rendered by Miss May E. Whiteley and as the body was borne from the church "De Profundis" was sung by Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Josephine McNulty presided at the organ, and the choir was under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly.

There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings, showing the sympathy for the bereaved family. Among the many floral offerings the following were the most prominent: large sprays of roses on bases of roses, pink, lilac and ferns, with the inscription "Our Nicholas," from the aunt of the deceased, the Misses Bridget and Rose McNulty; spray of pink, roses and ferns from Room 5, Colburn school; Miss Frances L. Donovan, teacher; spray of roses, pink and ferns from the classmates of Room 5, Colburn school; Miss Conway, teacher; spray of white pink and ferns, tied with white ribbon from the playmates; spray of pink, roses and ferns tied with ribbon from Master William Holland; spray of pink, roses, lilacs and ferns tied with ribbon from Miss Conaway, his teacher in the Colburn school; spray of roses, pink and ferns, John Paulus Corrigan; spray of pink, lilac and ferns, Miss Nellie McLaughlin; spray of roses, pink and ferns tied with ribbon, Miss Alice McBride; spray of roses, pink and ferns tied with white ribbon, from his classmates; spray of pink, roses and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah McGlinchey and family; spray of roses, pink and ferns tied with white ribbon, Miss Elizabeth Neville; spray of pink, roses and ferns tied with white ribbon from the playmates, Wilfred and Mabel Pfeiffer. There were several other sprays from friends.

The hearse was Edward Pronovost, Raymond Kilroy, John Kilroy, Harry Nevine, William Boland and John MacSee.

The interment took place in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, where the funeral was very largely attended and was under the direction of Higgins Bros., undertakers.

The McHugh funeral. As the line of carriages which composed the McNulty funeral procession left St. Peter's church, another line drew near, headed by the hearse containing the remains of little Pauline McGlinchey, the child of the Colburn school, who was killed in Sunday's drowning accident. Many who attended the service in connection with the first funeral remained for the second and both were impressively sad. The funeral of the McHugh boy took place from the home of his parents, Hugh and Sarah McHugh, 10 North street and proceeded at once to St. Peter's church where at 9:15 o'clock high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John J. Burns. The choir rendered the Gregorian chant and the solos were sung by Miss May Whiteley and Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mrs. McKennedy presided at the organ. The hearse was all played by the deceased, Mrs. William and John McGlinchey, John Sullivan, William Clark, William Bech and Joseph Hudson. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the grave including the following: Pillow from the family; spray from playmates; spray, Mrs. McKennedy; spray, Jeremiah McGlinchey and family; and many others. The interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery where the communal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. O'Brien. The interment was in charge of C. H. Molloy and Sons.

FUNERALS
GAGNON.—The funeral of Sinal Jeremiah Gagnon took place from his late home in West Grantville on Monday morning, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in Healy's hall, St. Catherine's church being closed for repairs. Rev. Michael Doherty was the celebrant. Miss Mary J. Hanley presided at the organ, and members of St. Catherine's church, choir sang the Gregorian chant. At the offertory Miss Mary J. Hanley sang "Pie Jesu." The funeral mass was largely attended, and besides those who attended from the immediate vicinity, there were many present from Lowell, Lawrence, Pepperell and surrounding towns. The floral tributes were varied and beautiful. The hearse was Mrs. Glas, Gagnon, Florio, Penault, D. Jacques, J. B. Savard, Alfred Bibeault and Alex. Polier. Burial was in St. Catherine's cemetery, Undertaker J. H. Healey, in charge.

CORSON.—The funeral of Mrs. Annie Corson took place yesterday afternoon from her home, 65 Sixth street. Services were conducted by Rev. J. W.

Stephan, pastor of the Worthen Street M. E. church, assisted by Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., pastor of the Central M. E. church. There was singing of appropriate selections by Mrs. Horace Hanson and Mrs. Percy J. Wilson. Among the floral offerings were the following: Standing wreath, husband of deceased, large wreath on base, O. E. Warren and family of Nashua; pillow, inscribed "Grandma," Mrs. F. B. Corson and family; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman McKusik and Mr. and Mrs. J. Coggeshall. Burial was in the Edison cemetery. C. M. Young was the funeral director.

HUBBARD.—The funeral of Mrs. Julia L. Hubbard took place yesterday afternoon from Dr. Flint's sanatorium, Dracut, Centre. Rev. Mr. Bartlett of Dracut officiated. The body was sent to W. Abner, Mass., for burial. J. A. Weinbeck was the undertaker in charge.

HINCIDLEY.—The funeral of Albert L. Hincidley took place yesterday morning from his home, 661 Broadway, Rev. Selden W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and there was singing of "Gathering Home," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Face to Face," and "The Christian's Good Night," by Mrs. W. H. Popin and Warren T. Reid. The bearers were: Abel A. Laughton, Allan Fraser, Herbert L. Chapman and Wm. H. Lynds, members of Pentucket lodge, A. F. and A. M. Among the floral offerings were the following: wreath, inscribed "Husband," from wife of deceased; square and compass, Pentucket lodge, A. F. and A. M.; sprays, Puritan chapter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pullen, Annie and Amelia Clough of Brookline, Mrs. Millard F. Davis, Mrs. Ephraim Elliott, sheaf of wheat, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Whiting, bouquet, Mrs. Benjamin Holt. Burial will take place in Union Village, Vt., this afternoon. Wm. H. Saunders is the funeral director.

MARTIN.—The funeral of Joseph Martin took place this morning from the home of his parents, Frank and Maria Martin, 4 Hall street, at 9:30 and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Services were conducted at St. Anthony's church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Pecci officiated. There were many floral tributes. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertaker McDermott.

DEATHS

McFARLAND.—Margaret McFarland, aged 54 years, died this morning at her home, 18 West Third street. She leaves her husband, Charles F. McFarland, of Providence, R. I., and a brother, Joseph Brown. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

TANK EXPLODED
Causing Loss Estimated at $75,000

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 25.—Three men were burned and a loss estimated at $75,000 was sustained when a 200 gallon tank of paint exploded at the Trussed Concrete Co. plant today. The fire communicated to a section of the main building in which newly painted metal lat patterns and electrical machinery were stored. George Korlva, Joseph Kosta and John Fusco were burned, the first named seriously. A force of 90 men escaped from the burning building.

LAFOLLETTE RE-ELECTED

THE PLAGUE DANGER
BERLIN, Jan. 25.—Interviewed today on the possibilities of the plague entering Europe, Privy Councillor Carl Plueger, director of the hygienic institute, said that thorough preventive measures had been taken and that no fear was felt here.

"There is no danger," he said, "of the plague being brought into Europe over the Siberian railroad. Perhaps isolated cases will occur but that will be exceptional. Every necessary precaution has been adopted."

SENT TO PRISON Horse Thief Given 18 Months Sentence

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 25.—Fred Nichols, a clever horse thief, known from the Canadian border to the Allegheny mountains, was last night landed at the state prison at Cranston for an 18-months' stay on a sentence given yesterday afternoon at East Greenwich by Judge Baker in the superior court.

Nichols served a term in Massachusetts and one at Westfield prison, Connecticut, not long since, and he was taken from the latter institution and brought to this state under arrest.

The crime for which he was punished yesterday was committed nearly four years ago, when he was raiding stables by night and day all over southern New England and shipping the horses to Boston to be sold. He pleaded guilty to the indictment and then told how he came to steal the valuable horse of Edwin A. Johnson in Warwick, July 31, 1907.

Judge Baker added a fine of $100 also. Just as Nichols was being led away with his smile by the sheriff, Nichols on one occasion stole three horses in one day in 1906 near Greenwich, Mass., and sold them all in New York. He bragged that this was one of his best days out on the road. He said also that he got more than a dozen horses in the country places between Taunton, Mass., and Cape Cod before he was nipped by the police in Connecticut.

With a smile Nichols told of the designs he had on a clergyman's rig near Barre, Mass., in 1905. "It was an old style chaise-like ship," he declared, "but a bang-up horse. As I slashed the whip to the family pet mare I discovered the minister's wife was all bundled up in the carriage, and when she screamed to heaven for help I dashed over the high wheel and made off, but I got a $300 cob beauty that very night just like the same."

Nichols calls himself a champion in his line and he says the time won't be long passing at Cranston.

Laurel Maroon, another alleged horse thief, had sentence deferred. The police say he has no criminal record.

SHY SIX VOTES No Change in New York Senatorial Contest

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The Sheehan men went into the joint legislative assembly today for the seventh ballot on United States senator, encouraged by the state chairman, Mr. Sheehan's favor issued in Buffalo last night by Norman Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee. "The insurgents" believed that Mr. Mack's declaration would have no more effect than one to the same purpose put out last Sunday by Winfield A. Huppel, the democratic state chairman. The effect of the national chairman's stand was somewhat discounted by the fact that he already was regarded as favorable to Mr. Sheehan.

Seventh ballot:
Democrats—Sheehan 25, Shepard 11, Kernan 4, Littleton 3, Douglas 3, Gernard 2, O'Brien 2, Parker 1, Glynn 1, Herrick 1, Dole 1.
Republicans—Depew 73.
Total vote cast 123.
Necessary for choice 61.

ST. MARGARET'S WORK OF PARISH BEING PUSHED ALONG

A meeting of the men of St. Margaret's parish, the highlands, was held at the parochial residence in town street tonight, and it is confidently expected that the attendance will be large. Various projects which the parish has in contemplation will be discussed at the meeting. Rev. Fr. Harkins is enthusiastic over the outlook for the success of his plans and the generous assistance thus far received from the parishioners is most encouraging. The ladies are to meet Friday evening.

FRENCH AVIATOR TOOK MISS GRACE MacKENZIE AS HIS BRIDE

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Miss Grace MacKenzie, youngest daughter of Sir William MacKenzie, the Canadian railroad man, and Count Jacques De Lesseps, the French aviator, were married at St. James' church, Spanish place, today. Canon Gliden solemnized the nuptials, which were witnessed by a fashionable gathering. The Count de Lesseps was best man and the bride's attendants included her sisters, Mrs. W. W. Beadmore and Miss Ethel MacKenzie, and Miss Mabel Magher, a cousin.

Following the ceremony, Sir William and Lady MacKenzie gave a reception for the wedding party at Claridge's. The honeymoon will be in Egypt. Count de Lesseps is a grandson of the noted engineer Ferdinand De Lesseps. He is 27 years of age. A year ago he took up aviation and made some notable flights, including the crossing of the English channel and the trip from Belmont park around the statue of Liberty and return.

Miss Grace accompanied him in aerial trips at New York and Toronto but with the announcement of their engagement both forsook the perilous sport.

TO DISCONTINUE SERVICE
BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The officials of the United Fruit Co. refused today to confirm or deny the report that the company's service to Kingston and other ports of Jamaica would soon be discontinued because of alleged inadequate docking facilities furnished by the authorities of the island. The report was that the withdrawal of the service would affect steamers both to this country and to European ports.

LOWELL LAWYERS AT FUNERAL OF JUDGE BOND THIS AFTERNOON

Fred N. Wier and Nathan D. Pratt of this city attended the funeral of the late Judge Bond at Waltham this afternoon as representatives of the Middlesex county bar.

There will be a month's stand mass of requiem Thursday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Peter's church for the late Michael H. McDonough. Friends are invited.

IN POLICE COURT Offenders Fined for Assault, Larceny and Other Offences

Joseph Clesia was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault with a knife on John Zeyno, found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $10 as a general rule a heavy fine is imposed when a defendant is found guilty of using a knife on another person, but in this particular case the court was of the opinion that the complainant was the aggressor.

According to what was brought out in the testimony offered by the government witnesses, Clesia and Zeyno had been drinking on the evening of January 14th, and about eight o'clock entered a saloon in Central street where both ordered drinks. One of the bartenders served Zeyno with a drink but refused to give any to Clesia, claiming that the latter was under the influence of liquor.

Clesia then became abusive and upon refusing to leave the place was put out through the back door. Zeyno went out, through the front door and soon met Clesia. Some words were passed and Zeyno started to pummel Clesia whereupon the latter turned on him and stabbed him two or three times in the neck with a pocket knife. Zeyno said he had done nothing to cause the defendant to assault him, but his testimony was not consistent with that of others who claimed that he was scuffling with Clesia and had thrown him to the ground, before Clesia drew the knife.

Michael O'Hare and Melvin Orcutt, who saw the battle, said that Zeyno seemed to be the aggressor.

Patrolman Francis H. Moore testified to finding Clesia at his home in George street. The man was very much under the influence of liquor at the time and a search of his clothing resulted in the finding of a blood stained knife in his pocket.

Lamarche and Lane Guilty
The cases of Frederick Lamarche and John Lane, charged with the larceny of three faucets from an unknown person, which have been continued from time to time during the past two weeks, were called this morning, and the court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $15.

Frank M. Silva was charged with the larceny of a pair of gloves and an overcoat, the property of Thomas Bohan. He admitted he stole the coat, but denied he took the gloves. He was found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Monday, Silva entered the hallway of a boarding house in Webster street and taking a coat off a nail went to a wardrobe in Jackson street where he sold the garment for a dollar. The matter was reported to the police and yesterday Silva was placed under arrest. Silva belongs in Fall River and has been in Lowell but a short time. He was before the court a couple of months ago and was convicted of larceny and being unable to pay the fine imposed was sent to jail. He was released last Friday.

Wife is Afraid of Husband
Thomas P. Sheehan was charged with being drunk and admitted that he had been drinking freely yesterday. His wife testified that he had been abusive. The court found him guilty, imposed a fine of $2 and ordered him to furnish $100 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Other Offenders
Frank P. Donahue was found guilty of being drunk and sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Patrick C. Mitchell was fined $5, and one first offender was fined $2.

Larceny of a Watch

ONE MAN IS DEAD As a Result of a Quarrel in Derby, Conn.

DERBY, Conn., Jan. 25.—Stanislaus Madura is dead and Paul Urban is held by the police in connection with the death as a result of a quarrel alleged to have occurred between the two men early today. It is alleged that remarks made by Madura while Urban was standing on the street talking to a young woman whom he was escorting from a wedding, led to a dispute, during which Urban slashed Madura in the neck with a knife, inflicting a wound from which the latter soon afterwards died. The young woman, it is said, was the only witness of the quarrel. Urban went home afterward and when officers sought him, tried to escape by swimming a canal in the rear of his home. He was found later lying half frozen in a field. He is 23 years old and single, puts, during which Urban slashed Madura was 49 and married.

"BIG BILL" KELIHER An Effort to Save Him From Serving Sentence

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—In an effort to save "Big Bill" Keliher from an 18-year jail sentence for looting and abetting George Coleman from looting the National City bank of Cambridge of a quarter of a million dollars, lawyers for "Big Bill" as he is locally known, appeared before the United States circuit court of appeals today to argue 31 errors claimed to have been made at the trial last May. Keliher had the option of taking his case to the court of appeals or to the supreme court. He chose the former and today three judges heard the arguments of the counsel, Harvey L. Pratt and Daniel Conkley, while District Attorney Asa P. French reserved the right to be heard in opposition to the appeal.

It was claimed by Keliher's attorneys that Coleman, who was the principal witness at the trial, had pleaded guilty to a charge and was serving a sentence at the time of the trial. It was also claimed that before Keliher and Coleman in 1909 the latter had taken $25,000 from the bank, although afterward the pilferings amounted to $211,000. The lawyers laid considerable stress on what was claimed to be an apparent knowledge at all times by the officers of the bank of Coleman's stealings.

MRS. CLEVELAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Frances Roosevelt Cleveland, widow of Grover Cleveland, was a guest of Immigration Commissioner Williams at Ellis island yesterday afternoon. She went over on the Government ferryboat and, in spite of the entreaties of her escorts, came to stay on the lower deck and watch the groups of excited relatives and friends who were on their way to meet immigrants.

"I went to Ellis Island," said Mrs. Cleveland, "because I was invited and because I had never been there before. Commissioner Williams showed me everything there was to be seen from the landing of immigrants to their examination by the doctors. I also inspected the detention room. I do not intend to become particularly interested in any philanthropic work at the island."

REPUBLICANS TO CAUCUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A caucus of the republicans of the house to determine on what action to take on the proposed legislation for a congressional reapportionment in the light of the new census statistics, was today called for Thursday night, Feb. 2nd.

ONE WOMAN KILLED A Number of Girls Injured by an Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—In an explosion of a large tank containing ammonia in the Locust laundry at Ninth and Locust streets today, one woman was killed, 16 to 20 girls were slightly injured and 250 other employees, mostly young women, were thrown into a wild panic. Fire did not follow the explosion.

The woman killed was Annie Hall, an elderly employe, who was blown through a window into the street and was badly mangled. The building was not damaged beyond the breaking of glass.

PITTSBURG MAN Crazed in London Threatened Bank Officials

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Robert Buchler, who attempted to secure funds at the bank of England Monday by threatening the lives of the officials, today was committed to an asylum as hopelessly insane, on the order of a magistrate. Buchler arrived here from the United States on January 16 and, as near as the police can determine, belonged in Pittsburgh.

LIVING IN A TOMB Mother and Her Two Children Were Discovered

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The home in Paterson, N. J., where Mrs. Pauline Green and her two little daughters have lived since Jan. 15 is built of stone. It cracks upon its massive, rusty hinges with an uncanny sound. When Policeman Duffy entered yesterday he found himself in a small, square room, rock walled and lighted only by one tiny window high in the wall. In two of the crevices were straw and rags. An open fire burned in the middle of the cold stone floor. There was a kettle on the fire and some potatoes in the kettle. The smoke stayed in the room.

A pallid child of perhaps 12 years was tending the kettle. That was Sophie Green. Another girl, two years older, sat on a broken box in a corner. That was Margaret. "Hooray! angels!" gasped the policeman as he saw the children. Duffy has faded death twenty times in the daily grind, but he drew back in terror from the scene that now met his eyes. For the home of Mrs. Pauline Green and her two little daughters is a tomb in the old residential cemetery.

For over a hundred and fifty years the place had been the domicile of the dead. The oblong crevices have held the dust of revolutionary heroes. Thin slaggings of the floor have been pressed by the knees of mourning women, has felt the tears of children.

For a week the place has been the refuge of the living. The last battle of a brave woman and her children has been fought here. The ashes of the cooking fire have been swept into the corners where lay the ashes of the dead. The dauntless spirit of life has been sheltered, fostered in the abode of death.

And yet no classic sorrow, no theme for thrilling drama lies behind the scene. It is only the old story of poverty and courage in another setting. The father of the children was killed five years ago in a mine in Shenandoah, Pa. The little money that he left was soon gone. The mother went to Paterson to get work. She managed for a time to earn enough to keep herself and her children from starvation, if not from hunger.

Then there was no more work to be had. The landlord put the mother and her children out on the street. There was no money, no food, nowhere to go. For a day and a night they wandered through the streets. Next morning

JAMES MARTINE Elected U. S. Senator From New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 25.—James E. Martine, democrat, was today elected United States senator for the full term of six years from March 4 next, to succeed John Kean, republican.

The house and senate met in joint session at noon and the balloting was quickly over, the result announced being 47 votes for Martine out of a total of 79.

PATIENTS SCARED

Fire Threatened to Destroy the Cushing Hospital

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Fifteen patients at the Cushing hospital on Parker Hill, Roxbury, were given a scare late yesterday afternoon when a brush fire started by boys in a vacant lot adjoining the hospital burned the laundry and drying room attached to the hospital.

A number of patients who were in rooms on the lower floor of the hospital were taken upstairs. At no time were they in danger and the nurses and attendants had everything well in hand throughout the fire.

The blaze did not reach the hospital building, but the drying room and the laundry were badly burned and much of the contents of the latter building was destroyed. The damage is estimated at $1500.

Horses attached to three pieces of apparatus were unable to climb the hill after reaching the corner of Fisher avenue and Parker street, and what horse that was used had to be carried up by the members of the companies.

It is thought boys set fire to some old shrubbery, which burned like tinder on the side of the hill. The smoke attracted the attention of William Boyer, janitor at the hospital, who ran to box 255 and sounded an alarm. Somebody else saw the smoke and gave an alarm from box 323, which acted as a second.

Within a short time engines, hose wagons, chemicals and ladder trucks began to arrive at the corner of Parker Hill avenue and Fisher avenue, but after the hard running the horses were able to make only a weak effort toward climbing the steep grade.

The drying room is a one-story wooden structure and the laundry a two-story frame building, about 35 feet from the hospital building.

Boyer ran back to the laundry, which he helped to get out a few trunks and boxes, the property of women employed there. He was assisted by Oliver Anderson, janitor at the Charity club hospital, which is about 20 yards from the Cushing hospital.

Word was sent into the hospital to Dr. Grace Reardon, who at once summoned all the available nurses. Yesterday morning three of the patients had been operated upon. So quietly did the nurses go about their work that these patients were carried to the upper floor, in a section farthest removed from the fire, in a position so that they could be taken out at an instant's notice, if necessary.

All the other patients were taken to the upper floors where the nurses remained with them. The only annoyance suffered by the inmates was the smoke, which drifted up from the grade at the rear of the hospital.

A number of firemen were detailed to pay special attention to the hospital buildings, while many more fought the fire by running lines of hose between the hospital building and the laundry.

In the latter building when the fire broke out four women were at work. Nellie Bowen, Celia Clark, Rose Seanta and Nellie McDonough. As soon as they saw the fire coming their way they dropped their work and began to remove their trunks and boxes on the second floor of the laundry building in rooms that they occupy. With the help of Boyer and Anderson they saved nearly all of their personal effects.

District Chief Ryder gave all his attention to the buildings attached to the hospital, and the men managed to keep the flames from touching the hospital itself. They made short work of the fire that spread over the dried brush.

The contents of the drying room and laundry will probably be a total loss.

TWO CANDIDATES

FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENCY OF THE D. A. R.

There are two candidates for the office of Massachusetts vice president general in the National Society D. A. R. Mrs. Herbert B. Davidson of Watertown and Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey of

FREE BOOK ON PILES

TELLS HOW TO CURE THEM WITH INTERNAL MEDICINE

Do you know the cause of piles? Is it internal or external? Will salves, suppositories or cutting remove the cause? How can one be cured permanently? Do you know how Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause and cure? All these questions answered fully in a booklet mailed free by Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y., or at Carter & Sherburne's, Lowell, Mass., and druggists everywhere, who sell the successful remedy, Hem-Roid, under guarantee, at $1.00 per large bottle.

Newton. Both candidates will be presented at the regent's meeting to be held in Massachusetts D. A. R. state headquarters tomorrow at 1.30.

At this conference the candidates for president general will also be presented and discussed. It is impossible to predict the vote of Massachusetts, but it is generally understood that the state officers are supporting the candidacy of Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York.

Many of the chapter regents, however, feel that Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who has served but one year as president general, is by courtesy entitled to a second term.

The election of these officers does not take place until the continental congress at Washington in April. There has not been time since Mrs. Storey's candidacy was announced for the various state organizations to confer and declare for or against the present administration candidate.

It is expected that Mrs. William Cummings Storey of New York will be in Boston some time in February as the guest of the Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Herbert B. Davidson, at present state vice regent, is chairman of a committee that has been appointed to arrange a reception and luncheon in honor of Mrs. Storey, which is to be given at the Vendome.

FOR SURVEYOR

LUFKIN IS A CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—W. W. Lufkin of Essex county, who is Representative Gardner's private secretary, yesterday announced his candidacy for surveyor of the port of Boston, to succeed Jeremiah J. McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy has been surveyor of the port 12 years. His term will expire in a few weeks. The position pays $5000 a year.

Each of Mr. Lufkin's are not only Senator Lodge's Representative Gardner, but a large number of prominent Massachusetts republicans unidentified with the national government.

"I think I have a strong chance to get the appointment," Mr. Lufkin said last night. "I have the backing of strong friends in Boston as well as in Washington, who have given me their unqualified endorsement."

The president has not taken up the matter of the Boston surveyorship yet, and by the time he takes it under consideration Mr. Lufkin's friends hope to have at the White House a list of endorsements that will overbalance those of all other candidates.

Mr. Lufkin has been in Washington several years with Mr. Gardner. He was one of the most successful workers for Senator Lodge during the senatorial campaign.

DRILL STRENGTH

Of Militia is Being Investigated

Adj. Gen. Pearson is now endeavoring to ascertain exactly where the regular ordered drills are being held. He would do so soon after he took the position as the head of Gov. Foss's military family.

Before he was inducted into office he visited the armories of different companies and later received from organization headquarters the drill reports of the different companies.

To verify these returns he springs a surprise on the force on Monday night when officers from the Governor's staff and from the inspector-general's department visited the armories of most companies of the state force with instructions to make written reports to the adjutant-general upon the actual number of officers and enlisted men present for drill.

The adjutant-general explained yesterday that this determination to find the actual strength of companies was not for the purpose of "rigging" company commanders, but that the adjutant-general wished to know himself exactly the strength of the companies show on the average drill night.

CHARGE OF THEFT

IS MADE AGAINST A BRIGHTON WOMAN

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Charged with the larceny of $208, William Keirstead, a New Hampshire man, Annie McBride, 27 years of age, who claims to live at 15 Winslow street, Brighton, was arrested yesterday afternoon in Bowdoin square.

Keirstead, who was a farmer, sold his place and came to Boston to live. Part of the money he placed in a bank, while the remainder he kept in his possession. Yesterday afternoon he became acquainted with the McBride woman and the pair went to several picture shows and during the afternoon Keirstead lost $208. He accused the woman and she gave him $250 and told him to go back to the country. Instead he followed her about until he found Patrolman Morgan in Bowdoin square. The woman was arrested and the station $50 was found in her possession.

The Sirolin Sentinel

Sirolin (Pronounced Si-ro-lin): The celebrated Swiss remedy for coughs and colds.

LOWELL, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1911.

Sirolin Is More Than A Remedy For Coughs and Colds

Sirolin is not only the world's standard remedy for colds, coughs, influenza, bronchitis, grippe, and other pulmonary affections, but it is tonic and reconstructive in its action, as well.

It stimulates the appetite, improves the digestion, aids the assimilation of food, nourishes the tissues, and is potential in retarding that waste of tissues and that poverty of blood which are among the most prominent features of consumption.

Acts as a Tonic

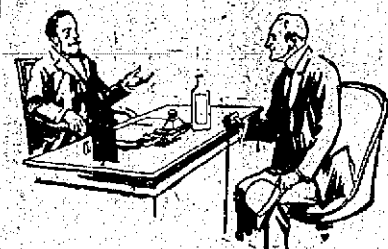

It never fails of excellent tonic effect upon the lining and adjacent tissues of the air passages, and also upon the entire worn-out system.

Keep a bottle of Sirolin in the house. Take it regularly in rainy, cold weather, and whenever you have been exposed. It will effectively prevent colds.

Sirolin contains no morphine, cocaine, habit-forming or constipating drug.

THE SECRET BALLOT IN NEW CHARTER

For Speaker of the House Was Rejected

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—An effort was made in the house yesterday to amend rule 8, so as to compel the use of the secret ballot in the election of a speaker. The order was offered by Representative Murphy of Boston when he thought the members were napping, but they were wide awake, and the order was defeated on a voice vote.

Rule 8 was invoked by Representative Lomasney in his fight for the secret ballot in the recent speaker's election, and some parliamentary conditions, whether there is discrimination among the members in the matter of food or privileges, and if evils are found to have existed and to have been reported to the officials, whether they have been remedied with reasonable diligence.

"Said committee shall have authority to send for persons and papers; to travel within the commonwealth; and shall report to the general court on or before the first day of April, 1911, its findings and recommendations."

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Inspectors Patterson and Glavey left Boston last night for Savannah, Ga., to bring back William L. Moore.

Moore's home is said to be in New York city. The warrants which the police have obtained for Moore's arrest allege that on May 11, 1910, he forged a check for $25 and uttered the same on Michael J. Dowd, a Howard street liquor dealer; also another check for $20 on David J. Fox a few days later, and July 23 a check for $20 on Dr. John A. McCormack.

Three years earlier, according to the police, he was charged with forging and uttering a check for $30 on Browning, King & Co. in payment for an overcoat. In this case he purchased the overcoat and had it sent to his room at the Parker House. When the coat was delivered he tendered in payment a check for $30, which it is charged, was worthless.

Moore's method was to call in people in this city with whom he had become acquainted at Palm Beach during the winter seasons.

The police say that Sept. 2, 1908, Moore married Geneva G. Felt at Burlington, Ia., and on April 2, 1906, while in Boston, he was married to Miss Caroline P. Hegmann, who after having been divorced from his first wife.

Moore has been known under the names of M. G. Clarke and C. C. Kennedy.

500 Stitches a Minute

This means more to the shoe buyer than mere speed. It means only the best material and long wear in every Goodyear Welt shoe.

For the rapid Goodyear welting machines insert more than 500 stitches a minute—quick, close and strong. Cheap material or imitation material cannot stand up under this volley of rapid stitches. Only the best material can be worked on these machines. Only the best material can get into a Goodyear Welt shoe. Long wear is assured to the buyer.

Comfort too is assured by this shoemaking method. For these same machines produce shoes that are smooth inside.

GOODYEAR WELT

A narrow strip of leather called a welt is sewed to the shoe upper and to the channelled innersole in a single seam.

But not a thread penetrates to break the inner smoothness of the shoe.

Another machine lock-stitches the heavy outer sole to this welt around the edge of the shoe. This seam too is entirely outside.

The shoe is left smooth inside. Your comfort is assured.

Economy too points to "Goodyear Welt." The most dressy shoes are now made on these improved machines just as durable and comfortable as if hand sewed, but costing only one-third as much.

United Shoe Machinery Co. Boston, Mass.

But each Goodyear Welt, wherever you find it or whatever trade name it may bear, is dependable. The style is right, the shoe is smooth inside, the best of material has been used in its making and it costs you only one-third the price the hand shoemaker used to charge. Never forget these features.

A printed list furnishes all these 500 names of shoes. Some are sold by leading retailers in every town. But get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Let it be your guide.

Your name and address brings the list and two other interesting booklets describing the sixty machines and telling "The Secret of The Shoe"—all without cost.

NIGHT EDITION

U. S. SENATE

Has Taken a Hand in the Schenk Case

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 25.—The last day of the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with poisoning her husband, John O. Schenk, opened at 9 o'clock and before night it is expected that the case will be in the hands of the jury. The jurors are practically worn out under the strain and for this reason it is expected a verdict will be reached quickly.

S. G. Boyce, senior counsel for the defense, was in the midst of his argument when adjournment arrived last night, resumed this morning and it is expected that he will engage the time of the court until noon. Mr. Boyce had reached a point last night where he was to take up the testimony of Daniel S. Phillips, the piano salesman who swore to various alleged clandestine meetings with Mrs. Schenk and, as the courtroom clock pointed to the hour, Mr. Boyce addressed Judge L. S. Jordan and announced that he needed to summon all his physical strength to do justice to that part of the evidence and he therefore asked that he be permitted to continue today.

For the first time since Judge Jordan issued his decree barring women from the courtroom while the trial was in progress he related this morning and permitted a woman news writer to sit with the other reporters, who, at a point of vantage in the clock tower yesterday, it is stated, a number of society women took up positions where they could see all that was going on in the room but Judge Jordan did not notice them. He was busy listening to the address of J. P. O'Brien and there were times when his handkerchief came from his pocket and he surreptitiously sought to wipe away the tell-tale tears, as did many others in the audience, through Mr. O'Brien's eloquent pleading.

Attorney Boyce represented the defense at this morning's session. He attacked Jan Phillips, who, he declared, had wormed his way into the confidence of Mrs. Schenk only to betray her. A sensation developed today when it became known that the United States senate through its investigation of criminal law administration had taken a hand in the case of Mrs. Schenk. It has been maintained by the defense that "third degree" methods have been used by the authorities for the purpose of extorting alleged confessions or testimony against the defendant. One of these was in relation to the woman herself, when the prosecution last Saturday morning made the claim that it had her confession in part, which the defense contended was an invention. As the result of the publication of this statement of the prosecution and the retort of J. P. O'Brien, the latter early Sunday received a telegram from Louis J. Carnody of the committee of the senate to investigate the administration of the criminal law in which he asks whether "there is anything to show third degree methods used by the prosecution to force this alleged statement from your client. Am watching this case very closely and will appreciate anything you may do to help me."

Attorney O'Brien last night sent the following reply:

"Unable to answer telegram until now. Would not advise investigation until after verdict."

Prosecutor Handlan refused to discuss the matter, merely saying in reply that he had not been compelled at any time to resort to "third degree" methods in the preparation and conduct of the case.

Mr. Boyce declared that if Dr. Myers, who testified to having sold lead poison to Mrs. Schenk, had been honest he would have gone to the hospital and told him that he had sold lead poison to her. Mr. Schenk, after of lead and asked an investigation when he learned that Schenk had been poisoned.

Mr. Boyce, who had assisted the testimony of Eleanor Ziegler, the defendant nurse, characterized her as a witness who was employed for the sole purpose of squirming her way into the affections of Mrs. Schenk and playing the part of a female Judas Iscariot.

Prosecutor Handlan began his address for the state at 11 o'clock and, looking into the tear-dimmed eyes of Mrs. Schenk, launched at once into the subject.

The defendant had retained her unusually calm demeanor during the greater part of the morning, but gradually gave way and bowing her head sobbed very audibly.

The courtroom was surrounded by a great crowd when the prosecutor began his address, in the hope that there might still be one vacant seat in the courtroom. But all were occupied, so the crowd was driven back.

Mr. Handlan said that the state had not put John Schenk on the stand because the state law does not permit a husband to testify against his wife, the later ruling of the court notwithstanding.

It was argued by the prosecutor that Mrs. Schenk took her husband home from one hospital because her opportunity of poisoning him was being taken from her and she attempted to take him home from another hospital for the same reason. She was only prevented from carrying out her plan, he said, by her arrest.

PRES. TAFT'S MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Taft today spent most of his time in preparing the special message which he will forward to congress tomorrow with the Canadian reciprocity treaty, urging the adoption of the treaty and his reasons therefor. Ambassador Bryce of England and Secretary Knox were with the president today in consultation over the matter.

WAKEFIELD FIRE FOOD ON STRING

Caused a Loss of $20,000 Was Served to Imprisoned Persons

WESTFIELD, Jan. 25.—The H. B. Smith Co.'s radiator plant here was completely destroyed by fire early today, causing a loss estimated at $20,000, partly covered by insurance. As a result of the blaze 550 men will be out of work for several weeks until a new building is erected. The fire started from an explosion of gas in the core room.

IS AFTER CROOKS
LONDON, Jan. 25.—Supl. Forest of Scotland Yard is making great preparations to deal with known crooks and other objectionable characters from the continent and America who are expected to be on hand for the coronation of King George.

A special branch of the police is being organized to watch the ports and every hotel will have its special detective. All undesirable aliens will be picked up and jailed for three months or until the coronation ceremony is ended, when they will be deported.

WHIST PARTY
PAWUCKETVILLE SOCIAL CLUB SCORED A VICTORY

The members of the Citizens Americans club were badly defeated last night by the members of the Pawucketville Social club, in a whist tournament. The score was 427 to 350 in favor of the latter club. Another similar meet will take place next Tuesday at the Pawucketville Social club rooms. The whist tournament, organized among the members of the Pawucketville Social club some time ago, came to a close last night. The prizes awarded the winners Tuesday evening at the club rooms in Moody street.

Mr. Alfred Gervais, former editor of "La Verite," will resume the publication of "La Bette," a weekly humorous sheet. Its first number will be published Friday, Feb. 2.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Gains were general at the opening of the stock market today. Six thousand shares of United States Steel sold at 78 1/2, 1 3/4, as against last night's closing price of 78 1/2. Western Maryland, S. P. and Union Pacific advanced 1/4 each and most of the other active issues improved fractionally. Several large blocks of the new city bonds sold at 101 1/2, compared with yesterday's closing at 101 1/2. Toledo Steel & Western pf was the weak spot in the list, declining two points. The market was unsettled in the early trading, alternately advancing and receding on a fractional range. Opening gains were cancelled but there was a subsequent rally led by United States Steel which went to 78 1/2. American Smelting and American Copper improved a point. At 11 o'clock the market was on the down grade again with the leading stocks ruling under yesterday's closing. Transactions in the new city bonds aggregated $1,608,000 in the first hour at 101 1/2.

The professional element professed disappointment at the failure of the market to make a more favorable response to yesterday's bond offering and sought an active list. Reading was a caller of steel shares in the face of yesterday's intimations of a possible advance in the steel products. Harriman issues declined with the revival of the rumor that S. P. is soon to engage in extensive financing abroad. Similar reports were without much effect on New York Central. St. Paul was the strongest of the standard railway shares on the belief that the regular dividend would be declared tomorrow. Bonds were irregular.

Cessation of selling altered the downward movement but no effort was made to effect a rally and the market remained dull at the low level. The market was virtually unchanged in the early afternoon and showed extreme dullness. Prices held close to the lowest point of the day. The market closed weak. Stocks weakened further on the announcement that only a regular dividend had been declared on Norfolk & Western. That stock sagged two points below yesterday's closing and a number of other representative issues were off a point or more. One block of $500,000 of another of $300,000 of the new city 4 1/2's were sold at 101 1/2 and 101 1/4 respectively.

WELLESLEY GIRL

Is Bride of Blind U. S. Attorney

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 25.—Faithful to a promise she made several years ago when he left his home for Harvard college, Miss Juliette Wheeler Duxbury, one of the prettiest girls of this town, has become the wife of Raymond Gould Brown, the blind assistant to the United States district attorney of New York.

The ceremony was performed here at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Mary Duxbury, at 16 Sumner street, by the Rev. W. Webb Gillis, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Dover.

Less than an hour after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for New York where they will make their home.

Mrs. Brown is a daughter of a former official of the telephone company. She is a graduate of the Dover high school and Wellesley college and has been prominently identified with St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

She and Mr. Brown were playmates when they were children and just before he went to Harvard in 1892 to begin a four year's course they were recognized among their friends here as sweethearts. After Mr. Brown's graduation from the college and he had entered the Harvard Law school in 1907, it is said they became engaged.

Mr. Brown was graduated from the Harvard Law school in 1910 and soon after went to New York to remain six months as assistant to the United States district attorney. His work has been so satisfactory that he has been asked to remain for a longer period.

He is a son of Elsie R. Brown, president of the Stratford National and of the Stratford Savings bank and a brother of Harold Brown, treasurer of the Stratford Savings bank, and of Philip Brown, superintendent of the I. B. Williams Belt Factory.

FOR MILLIONS

Widow Appears to Make Fight

WILKESBARE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Lawyers are making an effort to secure an amicable settlement of the claims for the $15,000,000 estate left by the late Robert T. Pettibone of Wyoming, near here, who died last Tuesday, apparently without a will.

The estate is now claimed by a young woman of Wyoming, who says she is Pettibone's widow, for herself and her three-year-old child, and by Pettibone's sister, Mrs. Allan H. Dickson, and other relatives.

At the time of his death it was not generally known that Mr. Pettibone had been married since his first wife died, six years ago, and the filing of legal action by the young woman signing herself Mrs. Minnie Harris Pettibone caused comment. She claims she was married to Pettibone in 1907 and that they had two children, one of whom died.

The license to sell ice cream, etc., on the Lord's day, of Louis Koutsares, at 103 Gorham street, was surrendered and cancelled.

The same action was taken with the common victualer's license of John Moses, 21 Suffolk street.

A billiard and pool license was granted to William Condrot, of 77 East Merrimack street.

HILLSIDE CHURCH

ANNUAL MEETING WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

The members of the Hillside Congregational church held their annual roll call meeting last night in the church.

The meeting was larger than usual and the reports submitted were most encouraging and showed all departments to be in a thriving condition.

The reports submitted and those reading them were as follows: Church treasurer, Silas R. Coburn; parish society, Mrs. Alice Shore; Y. P. S. C. society, Miss Laura Tucker; Sunday school, Mrs. Flora Gunther; cradle roll, Mrs. S. R. Coburn; missionary society, William Ryder; home department, Mrs. Paul Scott.

The officers elected are as follows: Clerk, Walter F. Garland; treasurer, Silas R. Coburn; superintendent of the general assembly, Harry Moxley; superintendent of primary department, Miss Blanche Ecklund; Jeaneess, Mrs. Mary Thomson.

The moderator of the meeting was Rev. F. E. Carver, pastor of the church, and Walter F. Garland served as clerk.

INJURIES FATAL

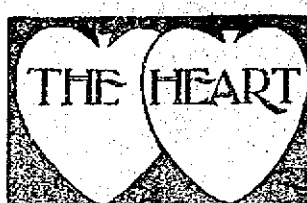

Young Man Passed Away in Hospital

Frederick N. Webster, the young man who was injured in the railroad accident on the Boston & Maine tracks off Dutton street Monday night, died yesterday afternoon at the Lowell hospital, death having been due to the shock he received as a result of being crushed between a dummy engine and a freight car.

The deceased was 33 years of age and had lived in Lowell for 20 years. He was born in Morell, Prince Edward Island. His home was at 21 Wilbur street. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Harry and Albert Webster; three daughters Eva, Dora, and Alice Webster; a brother, Robert, of Lowell, and a sister, Lillian, of Boston, and a brother, Russell, and parents, in Morell, P. E. I.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Wamsleet lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U.

WM. O. SEYMOUR DEAD
RIDGEFIELD, Conn., Jan. 25.—William O. Seymour, a member of the state railroad commission, died at his home here last night. He was a member of the general assembly in 1885 and was elected again at the recent election. He was 78 years old and leaves one daughter.

If the blood is poor and filled with the poisons from diseased kidneys or inactive liver, the heart is not only starved but poisoned as well. There are many conditions due to impure blood—such as dropsy, fainting spells, nervous debility or the many scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc. All can be overcome and cured by

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

This supplies pure blood—by aiding digestion, increasing assimilation and imparting tone to the whole circulatory system. Its a heart tonic and a great deal more, having an alterative action on the liver and kidneys, it helps to eliminate the poisons from the blood.

To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles, thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and do not permit a dishonest dealer to insult your intelligence with the "just as good kind." The "Discovery" has 40 years of cures behind it and contains no alcohol or narcotics. Ingredients plainly printed on wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of wrapping and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the French cloth-bound book. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEFECTIVE CHIMNEY

CAUSE OF A FIRE IN HOUSE IN BERKLEY AVENUE

The prompt response to an alarm from box 241 about 9:30 o'clock last night and the efficient work of the firemen after arriving on the scene prevented the destruction of the residence of Abbott Lawrence of 53 Berkley avenue, last night. The fire started in the L of the house and was caused by a defective chimney.

Mrs. Lawrence was alone in the house when she heard the crackling of flames. She ran to the home of a neighbor who sent a telephone call to a store located near the box, and one of the employees of the store pulled in an alarm from box 241.

When the department arrived there was a lively blaze in progress, but the firemen extinguished it before much damage was done.

HE TRIED SUICIDE

Man Wanted On Charge Of Forgery

SAVANNAH, Jan. 25.—William J. Moore, alias C. Kennedy of Boston and West Palm Beach, Fla., arrested here last Saturday accused of forgery and bigamy and held for the Massachusetts authorities, tried to commit suicide in his cell last night by swallowing match heads.

The woman accompanying Moore, who is believed to be V. de Compin, the name she signed to a receipt for his possessions at the barracks, went to West Palm Beach to ask Moore's mother for aid. An hour after she returned the jailer found Moore ill, and applied an emetic.

BLAMES HUSBAND

WOMAN SAYS THAT HE TOOK HER JEWELRY

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Helen G. Leggett, who made a divorce from her husband, charged him on the witness stand yesterday with having taken jewelry belonging to her, a part of which was her engagement ring which she claimed she has not recovered.

William B. Leggett, her husband, was prominent in automobile circles of Boston for some time and also conducted a store for one of the large auto concerns at Foxboro, Canada, where Mrs. Leggett claims he took her jewelry.

In addition, Mrs. Leggett charged her husband with non-support. She told Judge White that he did not support her and neither would he give her money to purchase necessary articles. Finally, she said, "I had to go to work myself to get clothing."

The couple were married in Somerville, Oct. 24, 1905, and lived there for about two years. They afterward moved to Toronto. While living there their marital troubles started.

"Things became so bad there," said Mrs. Leggett, "that I came alone to Boston and went to his father's home at Reading. Within two or three weeks he came back also, but since that time he has not contributed toward my support."

Mr. Leggett is now in Philadelphia. It is said. The case will be reopened this morning when more evidence regarding the alleged non-support of Mrs. Leggett is expected.

JUDGE WHITE

SCORED HASTY ACTION IN DIVORCE CASE

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—That it is not good practice on the part of an attorney to bring a suit for divorce on the ground of desertion the day after the period required by law, three years, had elapsed, was the assertion of Judge Lloyd L. White in the Suffolk county divorce court yesterday afternoon.

"It shuts off all possibility and suggestions of reconciliation," said the justice.

The remarks were made during the divorce proceedings brought by Dr. Arthur S. Hudson of Huntington avenue, against his wife, Minnie L. Hudson, who, he claimed, had deserted him on Nov. 6, 1907.

Dr. Hudson testified that he had always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations but that his wife was not. He was surprised upon reaching his home one day to find her moving out with all of her effects.

Dr. Hudson produced three witnesses who substantiated his statements concerning his wife's desertion.

Judge White has reserved his decision.

BROTHER CLARKE

OLDEST MEMBER OF THE PASSIONISTS IS DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 25.—Brother Richard Clarke, said to be the oldest member of the Order of Passionists in the United States, both in point of age and length of service, died of paralysis yesterday at the Sacred Heart retreat here. Brother Clarke was 81 years of age and a native of Martinsburg, W. Va. Fifty-one years ago he entered the Order of Passionists at Pittsburgh, Pa., completing his probation a year later. For years Brother Clarke was engaged in the work of collecting funds for the upbuilding of the Catholic churches. He traveled extensively and had a wide acquaintance throughout the country, especially in the eastern states.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CLEANER STREETS

While it is true that we have made great progress in improving our streets, yet it is equally true that we are very far behind many cities neither so large nor so important as our own in the matter of keeping our streets clean. For some time past the dust on our streets has been almost suffocating, yet nothing has been done to bring relief. On many of the days on which the dust was most unbearable, it was quite feasible to water the streets; but it seems to be against the established custom to do any street watering except within the regular seasons. Yesterday, for example, the temperature was so mild that it would have been easy to water the streets and a little sprinkling would have laid the dust and brought relief to the suffering public. The street watering time table will have to be modified so as to allow proper attention to the smooth paved streets at least until the upper surface shall have worn off. Once this is gone there will not be nearly so much dust from these streets.

There is another matter to which the street department will soon have to give its attention and that is the disinfection of gutters along the principal streets or at least on the principal squares of the city. Take for example, Merrimack square, around which there is always a large number of people. From early morning to late at night, there is a strip of sputum covered surface along the gutters that must certainly be a menace to health if allowed to remain from day to day as at present. To protect the health of the public against this danger, it would be necessary to use a disinfectant from a sprinkler. Something of the kind should be done in the interest of the public health and as a preventive against tuberculosis. In large European cities this precautionary measure is adopted with the most satisfactory results. Where large assemblies gather along sidewalks there is sure to be a good deal of expectoration along the edges or gutters of the streets. The people generally have an idea that the anti-spitting law is sufficiently observed if they do not spit on the sidewalks. Hence the majority of them spit in the gutter and anybody who visits the squares at 8.30 o'clock on fine mornings can see the evidence of the early morning crowds that do their share of the spitting as well as those who come to the square in the evening. It is up to the street department or the board of health to adopt some method of disinfecting the gutters where this practice is carried on.

FOR THE REFORMATION OF CRIMINALS

There is a bill before the legislature, the object of which is to establish schools of instruction and manual training for the inmates of large county prisons. It is now recognized as a fact that the policy of these institutions in the past has been misdirected. The houses of correction and prisons generally have been used merely for the punishment of criminals, while there has been very little attempt made to give them any training by which they might be reformed. There is a general belief that with a change of policy many of the prisoners may be made useful citizens. Of the 27,714 commitments to reformatories and houses of correction, 16,444 were of persons who had been in the same institutions before while many of them, it has been ascertained, had also been imprisoned elsewhere. It would, therefore, appear that they are regular habitués of such institutions.

The author of the pending bill in the legislature is in favor of establishing some system of training by which those who cannot read and write will be educated at least to overcome their illiteracy, while those who are not illiterate will be offered an opportunity to learn some useful trade. It has been cited as an argument in favor of this policy that more than 200 years ago Pope Clement XI established a penal institution in Rome based upon the very principle which this bill would apply to our present institutions. Over the door of that prison was this inscription, "For the reformation and education of the criminal—that those who when idle had been injurious to the state might when better instructed and trained become useful to it."

Oliver Goldsmith enunciated a principle somewhat similar when he showed that the efficacy of the law to prevent crime depended upon the certainty with which it fell upon guilt and its power to reform the criminals convicted and lodged in prison. These are old principles, no doubt, but they seem to have been slow of adoption in this country, and it is encouraging to find that a move is to be made now in the right direction for it has too often happened that a man after committing his first offense has been sent to prison, it may be for trivial cause, and returns ready for the commission of almost any crime. Our prisons should make men better, not worse, and they should, moreover, send them out into the world better equipped to earn an honest living so as to be self-reliant rather than depending upon larceny and the arts of deception in order to support themselves.

THE INVESTIGATION OF LODGE

There is a good deal of very windy talk about the election of Senator Lodge. He secured a majority, and while some men who left their own party to vote for him, may be suspected of having yielded to undue influence, yet we do not believe that the senator can be connected in any manner with their acts. Senator Lodge for eighteen years has been an active agent in helping the large corporations to secure the high tariff duties which they desired. They are all grateful to him and have all been very anxious to see him reelected. If money were needed to carry Lodge's election, they would readily furnish it; but whether they did so or not is a private matter of their own not likely to be revealed.

There is not much doubt that Senator Lodge will take his seat without any question as to the validity of his election, despite the windy and unsubstantial vapors of sensational newspapers that claim to know things they dare not print. Had the opposition to Lodge united on a different candidate a man more devoted to the people's interests than to those of the republican party might have been chosen.

SEEN AND HEARD

Smoking comes high. First there is the cigarette smoking period. The man who rolls himself a cigarette when he wants one buys two or three sacks of alfalfa every week and a couple of packs of "rice" paper at a cost of 25 or 30 cents a week, $13 to $15 a year. After the cigarette period comes the pipe period. The smoker purchases four or five pipes costing a total of $5 to $10, and his tobacco costs him 50 cents a week, or $26 a year. Pipes and tobacco run him $80 at least. Then comes the stogie period. The smoker gets away with six or eight or ten a day, at a cost of $1.40 a week, or $72.80 a year. After that comes the 5-cent cigar season. The man smokes six or eight a day at a cost of about $30 a year. Then comes the time when nothing "tastes" right but a ten-center, and then the bills are $2.50 a week or $130 to $150 a year, or more. Then after awhile comes the corn-cob pipe period, and more alfalfa, and the price drops from $130 a year to $10.40. "This is more or less crude but it's all right."

Tell me, little maiden with the dimpled chin, Which of all those fellows is a-going to win? Which one do you dream of when you lie asleep? Enchanted in that warm heart of yours which do you keep? Which one do you think of through the long, glad day? Which one do you pine for when he's far away? Surely there is one of them who's captured you. Though you entertain them by the score or two? Tell me, little maiden with the light brown hair, For which of all those fellows do you really care?

A WOMAN'S LAST WORD

Let's contend no more, Love,
I'll be as before, Love,
Only sleep.

What so wild as words are!
I and thou
In debate as birds are,
Hawk on hough.

See the creature stalking
While we speak;
Hush and hide the talking
Check on cheek.

What so false as truth is,
False to thee!
Where the serpent's tooth is
Shun the tree.

Where the apple reddens,
Never pry—
Lest we lose our Eden,
Eve and I.

Be a god and hold me
With a charm;
Be a man and fold me
With thine arm.

Teach me, only teach, Love,
As I ought
I will speak thy speech, Love,
Think thy thought.

Meet if thou require it,
Both demands
Laying flesh and spirit
In thy hands.

That shall be tomorrow,
Not tonight;
I must bury sorrow
Out of sight.

Must a little weep, Love,
(Foolish me.)
And so fall asleep, Love,
Loved by thee.

—Robert Browning.

She's somewhere in the sunlight strong,
Her tears are in the falling rain,
She calls me in the wind's soft song,
And with the flowers she comes again.

You bird is but her messenger,
The moon is but her silver car;
Yea! sun and moon are sent by her,
And every wishful waiting star.

—Richard Le Gallienne.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

At the midwinter meeting of the trustees of Colby college, Charles F. Chipman of Boston was elected. Mr. Chipman, who was elected to succeed E. W. Hall, deceased. Mr. Chipman is connected with the business department of the Baptist Missionary Publication Missions and was graduated from Colby in 1906. He was formerly secretary to the college. The matter of the erection of a new dormitory to accommodate the increasing number of students was left to the finance committee. A building to house forty students is required.

Mark Twain's characters—some of the most appealing of them—are to be dressed in French garb and given to the public on the stage of Sarah Bernhardt's theatre in Paris. Five acts and nine tableaux have been constructed by Vladimir Benstock and Michael Care out of Mark Twain's romance "The Prince and the Pauper." They will be presented at the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt in about six weeks. M. Benstock has already been successful as an adapter, and he has chosen "The Prince and the Pauper" out of Mark Twain's books because its sympathetic appeal would be as great to a Frenchman as to an American. M. Benstock has previously adapted plays of Placido and Tolstol.

A Serbian teacher, M. Medakovich, has instituted a successful method of teaching. In his school each pupil is provided with a chocolate alphabet, and as soon as he can put his name together correctly he is allowed to eat it. Wordmaking is taught on the same plan. M. Medakovich's pupils on an average can read fluently in three days.

William Dean Howells has gone to Bermuda.

Miss Belle Homan, a rich woman in Ireland, has given $50,000 to establish free scholarships at Cork university.

Here is a story which Professor Bailey of Cornell enjoys telling on himself. "One day he dropped into an old book emporium in a certain western New York city and there found an edition which he wanted. Asking its price of the bookseller, he was told that it was $5. Thinking this rather steep, Professor Bailey said: 'Don't you think that is a pretty high price for an old book?' 'Well,' said the bookseller, 'it may seem so to you, but it really doesn't make any difference to me whether you buy the book or not, for there's an old fool down at Ithaca by the name of Bailey who'll take it at $5 just as soon as I offer it to him.'"

Judge Lindsay says in a newspaper article that for every woman voter who takes a bribe there are 50 men who do so, and he believes a larger percentage of women voters to possess high ideals and a keen sense of justice than of the opposite sex. "A man," says Judge Lindsay, "has a sense of justice, but he's apt to let his sense of comfort push it out of sight."

Miss Helen Taft, at nineteen, is a wholesome, attractive girl, with never a trace of pose or affectation in manner or conversation, says Harper's Bazar. She possesses a sufficient sense of humor, inherited from her father, to prevent her head being turned by the attentions she has received. Most of the intimate friends of the Taft family are wont to declare that in features as well as in temperament Miss Helen favors her father. Though Miss Taft has always been an inveterate reader, and has won a scholarship at Bryn Mawr and all sorts of prizes at school, and although each summer she pursues a definite course of reading, she indulges in a wide range of outdoor athletics.

EXCELLENT MUSICALS

The ladies of the First Universalist church held a musicale and social at the home of Mrs. W. F. Lane, Georgia avenue, Tyler park, last evening. Following an excellent program, refreshments were served. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lane nipped and Miss Gertrude Lane, Miss Gladys Emerson, Miss Bernice Flint, Miss Rita Trueman and Miss Harriet Mansur served. The program was as follows: Solo, "For All Eternity," Mascheroni; Miss Grace Hortense Currier; Solo, "Love Abiding," Jordan; Willard R. Henderson; Solo, "Fidelity Fair," Powlet; Miss Florence Lowney; Selections, James E. Donnelly. The accompanists were Mena Adams, David Hird and John J. Kelly.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

For years medical men have been seeking a cure for eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for one studious chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in many forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist experimented with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to hundreds of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped at once. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest soon after Cadum is applied. Cadum is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for eczema in all its forms, also for pimples, blotches, itchy, tender, scaly skin, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, rash, sores, scurvy, scabs, itching piles.

The best chance you ever had to buy a fine overcoat for a third or more marked off its price.

It happens because we have had the most successful overcoat business in our history; because lots have been sold down or closed out—so that today our stock of medium priced overcoats was practically cleared up.

In order therefore to make a fair showing of coats at popular prices, we have taken all of the small lines of

High Priced Overcoats and Marked Them Down to $15 and $10

This is in many respects the most remarkable offering of overcoats that we ever have made, and you will note by quantities and styles that there are but very few overcoats of a kind.

70 FANCY OVERCOATS, twenty-two styles. The smartest and best selling coats we had. Two or three only of a number. Long swell garments, with regulation or convertible collars. Sold for $20, $22, $25 and $28—all grouped today $15

Charles A. Holden Also a Civil War Veteran

Letter Carrier Charles A. Holden, of the local postoffice, while not the oldest carrier when point of service is considered, has an interesting record, both as a letter carrier and a soldier. That gentleman figured in many of the prominent battles of the Civil war and at the present time bears a bullet wound in his right arm, but despite that fact he performs his duty faithfully every day and traverses one of the roughest routes in the city owing to the heavy mail daily.

He is the fourth oldest carrier in point of service at the local postoffice well known by every business man in Lowell known by every business man in Central street, know fully well that he performs his work in an efficient and painstaking manner. No matter how heavy the mail may be, rain or shine, he is on time and the people on his route can assure you that he does not vary five minutes on any trip in reaching the different offices or stores.

He was appointed a carrier on Aug. 1, 1874, and worked at the old postoffice in Merrimack street and afterwards went to the present office when the change in location was made.

With the exception of a short space of time, when he was changed from one route to another, he has spent almost all of his nearly 37 years as a letter carrier in the business district in Central street.

His duty in Baltimore was to get us guard at the hospital and be ready for a call to the front in case that more troops were needed.

At the end of the war he received an honorable discharge. Several years after the war was over he worked at different things and in 1874 was appointed a letter carrier in this city and since then has performed his duties as a letter carrier in a faithful manner.

TO POPULARIZE CONSOLS
LONDON, Jan. 25.—It is stated that the government is considering measures to popularize consols, and make them easily available to small investors by issuing to bearer bonds in denominations of five and 10 pounds. These may be purchased at postoffices where the coupons also can be cashed, free of the income tax.

This reform has long been advocated as a means of arresting the continued decline in the price of consols, which heretofore, owing to difficulties of negotiations, have been held mainly by wealthy individuals and financial institutions.

FUNERAL OF PHILLIPS

Will be Held in "Little Church
Around the Corner"

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The funeral of David Graham Phillips, who died in Bellevue hospital shortly before midnight from the effects of an assassin's bullet, will be held in the Protestant Episcopal church of the Transfiguration, affectionately known to many as "The little church around the corner."

The services will be in charge of Rev. Dr. George Chouton, pastor of the church, which since its establishment has been dedicated to the use of those who toil in the fields of art and letters. The arrangements for the burial are all in the hands of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who was one of the writer's most intimate friends.

Mr. Phillips' death came so late in the night that many of his colleagues in literature and business did not hear of it until this morning. As the news reached them their personal regret was increased by their feeling, expressed almost unanimously in the brief statements which they gave out, that he had been killed at the beginning of a career that meant much for American letters.

Robert W. Chambers, who had been perhaps his closest associate in New York, said:

"He was one of the best of men. He was high minded and true; one of the finest of American writers. His best work seemed yet to come—he was just finding himself and had struck a vein that promised richly for the future."

Miss Hildegarde Hawthorne, speaking of her personal acquaintance with Mr. Phillips, said:

"The desire to work out the ideas of his country and his age was always uppermost in his mind and he was growing so rapidly toward his ideal in this direction that his friends had already allotted him a lofty place in letters. We believed him destined to lasting fame as the exponent of American life and the problems that beset it."

While Mr. Phillips was breathing his last in his hospital room a silent procession from a nearby undertaker's was carrying the body of his assassin, Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, to the railroad station in Jersey City. The casket was put aboard a train at midnight and shipped to Washington, where the young fanatic will be buried tomorrow.

That Mr. Phillips' assailant was a young fanatic who had been demonstrated conclusively, not only by the testimony of his diary and notebooks, but also by his appeals to Mayor Gaynor's secretary and other officials for protection from persons who he believed were hounding him. The optician in the diary showed that he had translated to personal abuse the author's picturesque characterization of a class in his novel of Washington life, "The Adventures of Joshua Craig," and under this misconstruction had conceived a homicidal hatred of which the victim was unaware.

Mr. Phillips was born in Madison, Ind., in 1885, was a Princeton graduate, and unmarried. He was one of the Indiana group of story tellers which includes Booth Tarkington, George Ade, Meredith Nicholson, Charles Major and others. He had written twenty novels—many "best sellers" among them—and numerous magazine articles.

His father was David Graham Phillips, a banker. His mother is now living in Los Angeles, Cal. Besides Mrs. Frevert, the sister with whom he made his home in New York, there is a second sister, Mrs. McLelland, living in Indiana, and a third, Mrs. Oliver Kinsey, living in Georgia.

SEN. BEVERIDGE

TO HAVE CHARGE OF FUNERAL OF AUTHOR PHILLIPS

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The body of David Graham Phillips, the slain novelist, probably will be laid to rest among the hills of Greenwood cemetery, in Brooklyn. Beyond this no announcement was forthcoming during this forenoon from the little group of the dead writer's friends and relatives entrusted with the mission of arranging his funeral.

Mrs. Caroline Frevert, who stood at her brother's bedside as the author breathed his last shortly before midnight, and Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Phillips' close friend, visited the cemetery this morning with the intention of selecting the spot for the grave. The body was taken from Bellevue hospital to an undertaker's establishment on Fourth avenue and will be transferred later to the National Arts club, the writer's former home. George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia, and Samuel Bytho, associates of Phillips during his lifetime, are assisting Senator Beveridge in arranging for the funeral. The time and place of holding services were expected to be announced this afternoon. From what could be learned of the ideas of the dead writer's friends and relatives on the matter, it seemed probable that a private funeral would be decided upon and that the first idea of holding public church services might be abandoned.

The body of Fitzhugh C. Goldsborough, the poet musician, who slew Phillips, which was borne to the railroad station in Jersey City as the novelist was breathing his last, will be buried in Washington today. What is regarded as an explanation for his crime, the explanation that might be given by a man obsessed—is found in extracts from his diary, made public by the district attorney, and a statement made today by Goldsborough's uncle, T. Powers Farr, of this city.

"Fitzhugh had all the eccentricities of genius," Mr. Farr said. "The entire family is musical, and the development of music seemed to have been strongest in the boy. He was far from being practical. He was most courtly in his ideas about women, and we are of the opinion that he became incensed with Mr. Phillips because of his treatment of some of his women characters in his books. We think he brooded over this until he began to look upon Mr. Phillips as an enemy and decided to kill him. We can explain his mad action in no other way."

Phillips died game, sustained by his splendid willpower, to the last. He knew that the end was at hand, yet buoyed his courage with the oft-repeated declaration that he would not die. As the final moment approached, however, he realized that death was beckoning.

"I could fight two wounds, but not six. I fear that the odds are too great against me," were his last words, whispered to Dr. Eugene Fuller.

SENATE PASSES BILL

To Provide for Less Expensive Federal Suits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congress is making it less expensive to conduct a lawsuit in the federal courts. This is somewhat in line with President Taft's insistence upon reform in judicial procedure, although it does not go as far as the president would like. The agitation against excessive fees in the federal courts began many years ago. The senate has just enacted a bill to cut off many of these fees, the house judiciary committee has made a favorable report thereon, and the bill now awaits action by the popular legislative branch.

It is pretty well understood among lawyers that considerable injustice is done because of these charges, and that sometimes litigants are kept from going to law because of them. Only the federal courts are meant in this connection. Congress has no authority over the state tribunals. It is asserted that powerful corporations have sometimes made it a practice to fight litigants through such instrumentalities, knowing that the expense would be a bar.

Representative Clayton of Alabama, in reporting favorably the senate bill, referred to, cited instances of what it costs at present for clerks' fees to fight a lawsuit through all the courts to the United States supreme court.

He showed that when a person starts a lawsuit in a federal court, he generally gets it under way by having it referred to a commissioner, a referee in bankruptcy, or an examiner or master in chancery for the purpose of having the testimony taken. From that point the case travels to the trial court, and thence, step by step, and if it goes that far the litigants have to pay for the record five different times, even though the work is an exact duplicate. It works out like this:

1.—The stenographer's transcript of the testimony to be used in the hearing on the case. This is at the rate of 15 cents a folio for the original and five cents a folio for copies, exclusive of per diem for attendance by the commissioner, at $3; by the master in chancery at $20.

2.—A certified copy of the record, including another transcript of testimony, to the circuit court of appeals.

3.—The printing of the record in the circuit court of appeals, in addition to cost of copying original papers on file for printer's use.

4.—A certified copy of the record from the circuit court of appeals to the supreme court.

5.—The printing of the record in the supreme court.

Among the cases cited by Mr. Clayton was one from Seattle, in which the fees paid the various clerks of the courts, up to and into the supreme court, amounted to $519.50. This, of course, was exclusive of the fees paid the lawyers on each side and exclusive of a number of other court fees, such as the marshal's fees, etc.

In this case the fees in getting from the examiner to the trial court were $392.60. Then the master in chancery took $595.80 more. The clerk of the circuit court, for preparing and certifying the record on appeal to the circuit court of appeals collected $402.90. In the circuit court of appeals the clerk charged $1469.50 for printing 30 copies of the record, and $683.60 more for certifying the record on appeal to the supreme court.

In the supreme court the clerk took first, as the clerk's fee $587.60; then he charged $1012.50 for printing the record, and for good measure he also levied an attorney's docket fee of $20, or a total of $1820.10 for his share.

There is no escape for the litigant. Both the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court have rules providing that if the clerk does not get his money in advance he shall not print the record, and if the record is not printed after a certain length of time the case is dismissed.

The pending bill provides that the unnecessary reprinting and duplicating of the record be omitted, so that one printing will do all the way through a case. It also cuts off some of the other graft of the clerks by dispensing with a lot of transcribing for which the clerks have been paid fat fees regarded as totally unnecessary.

PROPOSED CANAL

Will Take in Part of the Merrimock River

Vice President O. L. Frisbee, of the Atlantic Deepwater Waterways Association, of New Hampshire, who has been energetically pushing a project for the extension of the Atlantic deeper waterway from Boston to Maine, and who secured the adoption by the Providence convention of a resolution approving his project, is still at work. In a letter to the Monitor and Statesman, of Concord, New Hampshire, he gives an explanation of the effect of such an extension as follows:

I was pleased to read the letter in your paper on October 25, 1910, on the revival of the American commercial marine. It is gospel truth. The people do not realize that we are building the Panama canal with no American ships to use it.

I am equally surprised at the indifference of the people of New Hampshire to the improvement of our waterways, while the rest of the country are doing their utmost to secure cheap transportation by waterways. They do not realize that we pay three times more for transportation every year than we pay to run the government. They do not realize that New England paid last year $70,000,000 to get $30,000,000 worth of coal to use at their fireplaces and their mills, and New Hampshire paid her part of it. Transportation affects the price of everything, anything anybody buys, sells, eats, wears or uses in any way, water, air and sunshine excepted. Some people use their energy to secure parcels post and low express rates which might bring their seed cheaper, but are indifferent to the transportation of their products. Water transportation is from one-sixth to one-tenth of rail transportation. The first problem of the world is still the great problem of the world, how to feed the people. It is our duty to provide transportation of food stuffs, as well as to produce it. The improvement of our waterways alone solve the problem.

We need these waterways not only for foodstuffs, but to secure our raw material for our mills and to send our finished products to market. We should find out the best possible means to transport the products of the people and then do all in our power to secure these means. That is what other sections of our country are doing. Today, there is a meeting of the United States engineers at Boston relative to securing 25 feet draught for the proposed canal from Narragansett bay to Boston. This canal will give cheap transportation to Brockton and other towns and cities on the canal. This is to be a part of the interstate canal from Maine to Texas.

The waterway convention at Providence, Aug. 31, 1910, endorsed the extension of this canal to Maine. The canal would be from Boston to the Merrimack river, 27 miles; thence, nine miles to the tide-water of the Piscataqua river at Exeter, down Exeter river, Great bay and Piscataqua river to Maine. This canal would give the Merrimack river in Massachusetts three choices of routes to get to the sea without breaking cargo. The valley of the Merrimack river in New Hampshire could secure the choice of two routes to get to the sea by the river, or cut a sea-barge canal to Exeter and save breaking cargo and thus save from 25 cents to 40 cents a ton on freight. It would give water transportation to Concord. Manchester would become a seaport like the city whose name it bears in England. She would be a distributing point for New Hampshire and Vermont, and it might be a "free port" like Hamburg and Bremen, which are from 50 to 100 miles from the sea. The rest of New England is securing cheap transportation. New Hampshire must secure the same or be greatly handicapped in maintaining her industrial position among the other states.

BUILDING PERMITS

WERE ISSUED BY INSPECTOR DOW TODAY

The figures given out by Inspector Dow of the lands and buildings department, relative to the number of permits issued from his office for new buildings, additions and alterations show a good increase over the previous year. The totals were given in The Sun, yesterday. Today there were issued at the office of the inspector a permit for a building at 30 Doyce St. The petitioner was W. L. Caverno. Another was a permit for an addition to a store at 28 Gady street. This permit was given to John H. Hayden. The John Dennis Machine Co. was granted a permit to build a storage building of brick on the westerly side of Saunders street. Pascal Harolds was granted a permit for additions and alterations in the building numbered 474 Moody street.

IN LIVELY SESSION

The Lawrence Board of Aldermen Shows Activity

LAWRENCE, Jan. 25.—Replete with many important matters, the regular session of the aldermen last night was the most interesting for some time.

The identity of the new central bridge commission was disclosed, the mayor announcing that he had appointed Attorney John J. Donovan, Ex-Congressman Joseph J. Flynn, Former Asst. Supl. of Streets John O. Battershill, John A. Brackett and Otto L. Parham.

An order was adopted authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee of six to consider the advisability of building a new city hall. Alderman M. A. Scanlon, opposed the passage of the measure, maintaining that in view of the probability that a new city hall will be adopted that it would be inefficient to plan to construct a new building until it is known whether there will be a single or double board government.

By a vote of four to two, with Aldermen Jordan and Scanlon, remonstrating on the ground that the city, on account of its financial status, could not afford to raise the salaries of its officials at this time, the ordinance providing for an increase in the remuneration of the city solicitor from $300 to $1300 a year was given final passage in concurrence.

A resolution, introduced by Alderman Hennessey, was passed establishing the salary of the superintendent of the city extension at $1000 a year.

An order presented by Alderman Callahan and calling for the appointment of a committee of five to confer and co-operate with the county commissioners respecting the construction of the proposed new bridge across the Merrimack river at the foot of the Wood mill, was adopted.

The order pertaining to the advisability of covering the old filter at an estimated cost of $55,000 was referred to the water board to determine whether or that commission advocates the covering of the old filter or the construction of a new one. The report is expected next Monday night. In special session to receive the report and act upon it. Incidentally, since there will be a regular session of the common council, it is predicted that an attempt will be made to go into joint convention to proceed with the election of a city treasurer.

As recommended by the special committee, it was voted to establish the office of purchasing agent and the city solicitor was instructed to draw up an ordinance relating to and providing for its creation.

After complaining about the impending danger of having the roof of the old high school building collapse at any time, it was voted on motion of Alderman Scanlon, to raise the old structure and remove the debris, the expense to be charged to the incidental department.

The authority of Expert Auditor Fred Cherrington in employing two assistants at a salary of $25 a day was questioned by Alderman Scanlon, who wanted to have some light thrown on the accounting that is being carried on by the Boston Library bureau. Alderman Scanlon appealed to the mayor to discharge the two men who are assisting the expert accountant and receiving $25 a day from the city for their services.

That it would be more practicable and economical to buy crushed stone and use that material in building new sidewalks, was the contention of Alderman Scanlon. He claimed that it was costing the city an average of $1.70 a day to haul cinders given gratis by the mill corporations, whereas, he said, that it would entail an expense of $1.10 to purchase a load of crushed stone, which he considers cleaner, firmer and more desirable material for use on sidewalks.

Some discussion occurred regarding making provisions to furnish work for the vast army of unemployed citizens in the city. The rushing of the ward five trunk sewer work was advocated as a possible means of placing more men to work, while it was also suggested that by extending the Shattuck pond sewer in South Lawrence, that there would be positions available for many laborers. No action was taken in regard to the problem, the board deeming it proper to await the action of the committee on sewers, which is scheduled to meet today.

The recommendation of the special public utility committee that all bills paid last year be printed in a supplementary auditor's report, was adopted. The committee was empowered to call for bids to ascertain the cost of the publicity.

An attempt to elect a city messenger resulted in a deadlock, 3 to 3.

THE ANCIENTS

ARE THINKING OF INVADING CITY OF LONDON

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company is thinking of chartering a steamer and going to London next year to join in the 375th anniversary of the Honorable Artillery company of London.

But, set as they are on the proposed invasion of the "light little isle," these are times of peace, and even the Ancients can't go to London without an invitation. And there's the rub.

When the Honorable Artillery company of London was so lavishly entertained by the Ancients in their visit to this city in 1896 the members of the London company were so impressed with the elaborate entertaining they were given they hesitated to return the compliment, fearful they could not approach the local standard.

But as one of the members of the Ancients said last night: "The entertainment isn't what's bothering us. Just let us get the invitation. We'll take care of the entertainment."

CAPTAIN PEARY

MAY BE HONORED BY FRENCH GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

PARIS, Jan. 25.—In connection with Explorer Charcot's appeal, that France honor Capt. Robert E. Peary, Baron Hudot, secretary of the Geographical society, states that the society has paid no official homage to the American because of a rigid rule which compels the presentation of proof before official recognition of a scientific achievement can be made.

The secretary added that a majority of the members of the society personally were convinced that Peary reached the North pole and "if Peary wishes to bring proof the society will receive it with open arms."

WELL KNOWN TEACHER DEAD

LITTLE, Mich., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Edward H. Canfield, widely known as a teacher of music and one of the founders of the New York Philharmonic society, is dead at her home here. The body will be taken to Syracuse, N. Y., for burial.

COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The census bureau's cotton report issued today shows the supply for the four months' period ending Dec. 31, 1910, to have been 11,832,520 bales, made up of 1,040,040 bales of stock at the beginning of the period; 10,792,504 bales ginned; and 60,974 bales imported. The distribution was: Exports 4,515,940 bales; consumption 1,576,442 bales; stocks at close of December, 5,520,138 bales.

Segregation of stock at close of December was: Held by manufacturers, 1,366,436; in independent warehouses, 3,227,210; held elsewhere, 1,126,492 bales.

OIL STEAMER ASHORE

SALEM, Jan. 25.—The oil steamer Ligonier from Port Arthur, Texas, for this port, went ashore here at the Salem Wharves side of Beverly harbor while attempting to dock today. For several hours three tugs attempted to release the oil steamer without success, and it is believed that it will not be floated until high tide tonight. The grounding of the steamer caused no damage. The Ligonier is owned by the Gulf Refining Co. of Beverly and Port Arthur, Texas.

CABINET'S PLAN

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The cabinet has decided to present to parliament soon a bill relating to religious and other associations.

MISSING GIRL

Said to Have Been Seen In Ware

WARE, Jan. 25.—Three persons seen yesterday are positive that Miss Florence E. Whittier, the missing Ipswich girl, who dropped out of sight in Boston on Friday, January 13, came to Ware on the following Sunday, but up to last night it had been found impossible to locate her here or to trace her beyond this place.

Two of the people who say they are sure that Florence came here on an electric car arriving at 12.30 a week ago Sunday afternoon are Fred A. Barnes of Spencer and William Kellher, conductor of the electric car which carried Barnes, his wife and two children from West Brookfield to Ware.

The identification of the girl by Barnes and Kellher is confirmed by Edward Green, conductor of the electric car on which the girl rode from Brookfield to West Brookfield on that Sunday. Unless all the several people, who are positive the girl they saw a week ago Sunday are mistaken, she was Miss Whittier.

The descriptions of the different people are all similar as to her clothing, which was just what the missing girl wore, and all of them remarked the green book bag which she carried. Several of those who saw her say she had a strained, worried sort of look on her face.

The girl's movements on Jan. 15 are traced plainly enough right here to Ware. Harry B. Power, conductor of the car out of Worcester at 9.30 that morning recalls her distinctly and remembers her dazed manner when he asked her fare on the third collection.

Frank E. Walker, proprietor of a lunch room in Spencer, recalls the girl as having left the car from Worcester and entered this place, where she asked the fare to Brookfield. He saw her board the 11 o'clock car for Brookfield.

Eugene Browning, a Spencer news dealer, saw the girl get off the car from Worcester that morning. He sold her a paper and saw her board the electric car for Brookfield. The conductor who ran that car to the power station at Brookfield, Charles Rice, said today that he has no recollection of the girl on that trip but he had a number of passengers and she might have been aboard for all he knows.

Rice was relieved at Brookfield by conductor Edward Green who went as far as West Brookfield. He distinctly remembers the girl and gives a minute description of her appearance even to the green book bag she carried under her arm.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

FOR REUNION OF ST. PETER'S PARISH

A large number of the members of St. Peter's parish met last night and made plans for the reunion of members of the parish to be held Feb. 14th.

Officers were elected for the affair as follows: Chairman of the general committee, Frank J. Campbell; secretary, Wm. F. Sadler; general manager, Fred H. Bourke; floor director, J. Henry Gill; bridge, chairman of the reception committee, John J. Coughlin.

Several committees were also named: All of the clergy and members with the parish were present and spoke, and Rev. Dr. Kellher referred particularly to the enthusiasm evinced in the affairs of the parish by its members. Rev. J. J. McGuinness was designated as chairman of the entertainment committee. A sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Campbell, Bourke and Gilbride will attempt to raise music.

Mrs. Henry B. Bourke will be matron of the candy table, while the lemonade table will be attended to by members of the choir, with Mrs. J. W. McKennedy as matron. The dining room will be in charge of Mrs. McQuade and Mrs. Burns.

A meeting of the ladies will be held next Tuesday evening. Last night's meeting was very large and the enthusiasm manifested augurs well for the success of the reunion.

MAN WAS DROWNED

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Henry D. Quast's rowboat, caught in a choppy sea near Spinnaker Cove, Sandy Hook beach, filled with water and turned over yesterday, drowning Edward Erickson and Mr. Quast into the deep channel.

Erickson was drowned and Quast, who is paralyzed on one side, managed to hang to the keel. Gilbert Layton saved Quast after he had held to the boat an hour.

Unsuccessful attempts were made to get the body of Erickson.

NORMAN E. MACK

Says Democrats Should Support Sheehan

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, last night issued a statement in which he takes the stand that William F. Sheehan, being nominated for senator, until the time could not, as chairman of the democratic national committee, have a choice, but as soon as the caucus had made the selection the candidate agreed upon became the candidate of the democratic party and entitled to the support of every democrat in the state.

"The democratic legislators at Albany met in caucus and they, by the most emphatic majority nominated the Hon. William F. Sheehan as the party's candidate for senator. Until the time could not, as chairman of the democratic national committee, have a choice, but as soon as the caucus had made the selection the candidate agreed upon became the candidate of the democratic party and entitled to the support of every democrat in the state."

Referring to the nomination of William F. Sheehan, Mack said: "There is no possible way in any fair party procedure to deny New York the influence in party affairs to which its members entitle it, so that the argument against Tammany hall's influence at Albany is not a just argument."

COFFEE SALOONS

THE LATEST THINGS PROPOSED IN LYNN

LYNN, Jan. 25.—The advisability of establishing coffee saloons for the purpose of attracting men who have no place for recreation in the evening was discussed last night at a meeting of representatives of the various men's clubs and clubs of the city.

It was unanimously decided to refer the matter to the committee on civic affairs of the Interchurch union for investigation.

STRIKE ABOUT ENDED

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 25.—With the raising of the passenger, freight and express embargo on the Southern Pacific railroad in Mexico yesterday, the head office of the company here announced that the strike of the engineers is considered an incident of the past. The officials insist that no concessions have been or will be made.

MARSHALL BLACKMAN

SEN. LODGE

MAKES ATTACK ON THE FOREIGN TRUST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Advocating the passage of the ocean mail subsidy bill, Senator Lodge in a speech yesterday charged that the transportation of American goods to foreign ports is under the control of a trust among foreign steamship owners.

"It declared that this combination controls business both on the Pacific and in the South American trade and it had power to fix freight rates."

"Having such power it can fix the prices at which our goods are sold," he said. "It discriminates against American importers and exporters. It violates every problem of our interstate commerce law in regard to the transportation of freight on our railroads, it grants rebates and discriminates in favor of certain shippers."

Mr. Lodge expressed the belief that if enacted into law, the Gallinger bill would put the combination out of business in so far as it affects South America.

"As a result of permitting it to continue," said the senator, "we are paying millions of dollars a year more for carrying our goods than our other nations. This is the cost of our indifference in allowing ourselves to be discriminated against by this foreign combination."

THE WAMESITS

Hold First Place in the League

There were two good games in the Manchester Unity league series last night. In the game between the Merrimack Valley and Wamesits lodges, the latter team took two points while in the contest between Excelsior and Integrity lodges, the former team won two points. In neither game did any of the bowlers knock the pins down hard enough to make a tally of 300.

Lowell and Highland councils of the Arcanum league met on the alleys last night, Lowell winning all three points by a safe margin.

The C. M. A. C. quintet gave the Y. M. C. U. a severe trouncing last night, winning all three points with comparative ease. The first string was a heart breaker for the Y. M. C. U. for the C. M. A. C. shot over the 500 mark. Gendron with a single of 122 being the winning aggregation missed the five century mark by the narrow margin of eight pins.

The J. P. S. team won three points from the El Toros in the Minor league last night. Lafleur of the winning team being high man.

In the Manufacturers' league the Bigelow team gave the Tremont & Suffolk bowlers a severe trouncing. In the second string the members of the Bigelow team put up a total of 512, every man with one exception rolling better than 100.

In the game between the Boott and Massachusetts teams of the Manufacturers league the former team won two of the three points.

THE VETO BILL

To be Disposed of Before Coronation

LONDON, Jan. 25.—All the party leaders have issued letters calling their supporters to close attendance when parliament meets on February 6th. It is the government's intention to get the veto bill disposed of before the coronation and this practically will compel the ministers to appropriate the whole time of the house until Easter to government business, a condition which will likely cause considerable grumbling among members anxious to push other legislative matters.

Has Many Candidates In South End Store in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—Shortly after midnight two men under the influence of liquor entered the drug store of Fred Ewell, Washington and Falmouth streets, and assaulted both Mr. Ewell and Frank Burns of 9 Malden street, who was in the store. Both were severely handled and some of the furnishings of the store were wrecked. Less than an hour later, Charles McEchern, aged 22, and George Lyons, two men known to the police, were rounded up on Tremont street, near Hanson street, by Patrolman King and Dale after a sharp chase of 200 yards. After the men had been locked up Mr. Ewell and Mr. Burns identified them.

John (Scotty) Boyle, whom he saw four men carrying in an intoxicated condition on Washington street a short time after the assault, was found in a doorway near Albany street and was locked up also.

In court Boyle pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was remanded until Thursday. He was also charged with having held up and robbed Mrs. Margaret Feeley of 105 East Canton street, Jan. 16 and was held in $2000 for the grand jury on this charge.

Lyons pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and was also remanded until tomorrow. Officer King told the court that Lyons was wanted by the superior court on a charge of larceny. The war was charged that he stole an overcoat from a clergyman in the Warren avenue Baptist church a few weeks ago.

McEchern was held for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of drunkenness. He was also charged with having stolen $24 from Mrs. Helen G. Morse of 290 Shawmut avenue, April 8, 1905, when, it is alleged, he worked in the house part of a day as a furniture mover. He was held for a hearing on this charge.

The trio was sent to Charles street jail.

NEW POSTAL CARD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A new domestic postal card is being issued by the postoffice department, designed primarily for index or library purposes. The size is smaller than previous issues. The card is white with red printing. The stamp is a profile head of Abraham Lincoln looking to the left. The new card will be issued in sheets of 18 when desired in that form for printing purposes. The sheets are two cards wide by nine cards long. To be valid for postage the cards must be cut to regulation size.

BOXING GOSSIP

Packey McFarland and Jake Barasa of St. Joseph, Mo., have been matched to fight ten rounds at Kansas City, Feb. 6.

Dave Desher will take on a cracker-jack little man Thursday night when he faces Young Ahearn at New York in a 10-round bout.

Over in England they are grooming Salor Curran for a match with Sam Langford. Curran won a great victory over Bill Lang on a foul.

Fighting Dick Nelson, the most feared welter-weight in the game, has been matched to meet Willie Moody at Philadelphia next Saturday night.

Up at Buffalo they are still talking about the Mike (Twin) Sullivan-Dickie Kid contest. Sullivan is given credit for displaying wonderful form against the New York boxer.

Joe Thomas' recent return of form has been the means of securing him plenty of backlogs. Langford will carry about 165 pounds, but as he is well known on the other side he will doubtless receive plenty of support. In short the English papers say that the Langford-Lang fight will be a heavy betting affair with the quotation being even money and take your pick. American sporting men will not be surprised if Langford scores a quick knockout, that is if he does his level best.

Harlem Tommy Murphy, according to word received from Fishkill Landing, N. Y., yesterday, has pulled off his bout with Knockout Brown at the Empire A. C. of Harlem. The men were matched to box a lightweight tonight, but Murphy declares that he has been suffering from the grip and cannot get himself in proper condition to meet so dangerous an opponent as Brown. Murphy was beaten several months ago by Brown and demanded a return match. Brown therefore will have to take matters easily until he tackles Alf Wolgast in Philadelphia on February 8.

Over in Jersey Frankie Burns was putting on the finishing touches yesterday for his bout with Diggs Stanley at the National Sporting club Friday night. Burns is the personification of confidence. He weighed 110 pounds yesterday and said he never felt stronger. He realizes that the English bantam champion is a past master in the art of self defense, but declares that he will fight hard enough to offset this sterling quality. Stanley sends word from Philadelphia that he is down to weight and will be in perfect condition. He has never been hit by Burns, but that does not lessen his belief that he will win on points.

"I understand that Abe Attell has been doing some talking," said Packy McFarland yesterday. "If he thinks he has a chance with me in a ten round bout I'll take him on whenever he is ready. I'll make 133 pounds at 3 o'clock for him, and if I don't knock him out I'll admit I don't know anything about myself."

An exchange publishes the following: "Pa Coulon, father of Bantam Johnny, is one of the few fathers who encourage their boys sufficiently in the boxing game to manage their affairs. Jim Nell was another, but Jim was not as astute as Pa Coulon. Frankie's dad had such an abiding faith in him a few years ago that he would have matched him to fight a heavyweight. This is a little cheap, against Jeffries and then but he could win. Coulon is a smart matchmaker, always looking for his percentage. Neither of them was any more interested than Martin Flaherty's paternal ancestor, however. The Flahertys lived in Lowell, Mass., and the old gentleman had a flag pole erected in the yard. Whenever Martin boxed, he always wired home the ring. Interested neighbors watched the flag pole. If Martin won, he went the Stars and Stripes, a signal for them to crowd about with congratulations. If Martin lost, there was no flag. And it wasn't healthy to approach the Flaherty's house unless the flag was flying."

There is some talk of another meeting between Johnny Glover and Fightin' Joe Hyland. Their match at Glens Falls is reported to have been one of the best ever witnessed. Glover has an engagement with Johnny Stewart at an early date.

Ad. Wolgast has been given another setback in the eyes of the boxing followers, and this time he is not wholly to blame. Tom Jones, who handles the affairs of the light-weight champion, arrived at Philadelphia and put matters up to Philadelphia Jack O'Brien so strong that it appears the matches arranged for the Cadillac boxer will fall through. Wolgast is ready to abide by Jones' decisions, and as the latter is well pleased by the manner in which he was treated by O'Brien he will cancel the dates made by the matchmaker.

Hugh McIntosh's determination to sail for Australia after the Langford-Lang fight in London on February 13 has left the heavyweight situation in the air. It was believed that he would make an attempt to match Jack Johnson against Kaufman or the winner of the Langford-Lang affair, and it was also thought that he would pit Tommy Burns against some big light-weight. But with McIntosh out of the running in England there seems to be no chance to see Johnson in action unless he agrees to visit Paris, France, where the promoters are ready to offer him a big bonus. The latest mail from England contains the statement that Lang will weigh at least 190 pounds for Langford and will have where they will begin work at a place near Los Angeles and then play numerous exhibition games. The Boston Americans will travel in a special train from the Hub to California and back, covering nearly 9,000 miles before the championship season begins.

In addition to the Brooklyns, and Pittsburgh's Cincinnati Reds, managed by Clark Griffith, will bolt out their limbs at Hot Springs. Manager Dolan will put the Philadelphia Nationals through a course of sprouts at Birmingham, Ala., and the world's champion Athletics will round into old form at Savannah, Ga. Both Quaker teams will make an early start for these places so that they can play many games after they start.

After the Detroit pitchers have worked out a bit at Hot Springs they will join the other Tigers at Monroe, La. The Clevelanders will go to Alexandria, La. Manager McGuire having sent out a notice to report there the first week in March.

The St. Louis Browns will be the fourth team to visit Hot Springs and will work on the same field with the Cincinnati players. The St. Louis Cardinals, on the other hand, will report at West Baden on March 15, but after remaining there ten days they will go to their own ball yard in the Mount city. The Washington pitchers will join Manager McAleer at Hot Springs for a short stay before going to Atlanta, Ga., to meet the other members of the team.

It is estimated that the spring training of all the major league teams will cost $200,000. The clubs hope to gather in enough money from exhibition games to pay a part of these expenses. The players will draw no salary until April 15, as stipulated in their contracts, and those who fail to visit the training quarters can be fined to the extent of $100 each. Advances money, however, can be drawn by those who respond to the call of each manager, for it is usually the case that ball players have empty pockets after the long winter lull.

It is figured that nearly 500 players will begin practice at the major league camps this year. Of this number at least a 100 will have to be dropped when the proper time limit arrives. The remainder will draw about $1,000,000 in salaries, averaging $2500 to a man. A club that manages to get through the season with less than $100,000 expenses will be regarded as a success. This includes salaries, railroad fares, hotel bills, rent, taxes and assessments, also an outlay for the new talent.

Manager Chase evidently has the right idea about handling the Highlanders' pitchers. In a letter to President Farrell, Chase says he intends to work the pitchers in regular rotation, and declares that the team will be well fixed with six slappers, Ford, Quinn, Vaughn, Elsner, Colwell and Wamp. Chase believes that by using four of these men in turn he will get the best results and that whenever one of them shows signs of slowness he will have an able substitute with whom to round out the combination.

It is freely admitted that Ford's success last year was wholly due to the fact that he did not nicker out of his regular turn. He positively refused to go into the box unless he was absolutely fit and ready, with the result that he was always at his best. Under this method of procedure Ford knew exactly when he was expected to pitch and consequently nerved himself for the task. Chase maintains that if the other pitchers are worked in a similar manner they will prove vastly more effective and in this belief he is supported by many close students of the game. It is a matter of record that managers of all successful teams have handled their pitchers with clocklike regularity and have employed a system of work that has developed unexpected skill. It is argued that a pitcher can easily work twice a week, but that he cannot be expected to do himself justice if he is suddenly called upon to enter the box at a time when he is hardly ready for a grueling test.

DIAMOND NOTES

Every major league club is making preparations for the usual spring training trip and within the next six weeks sixteen big ball teams will be lining up at various resorts in the south. It has been announced already that the Giants will train at Marlin, Tex., and that on February 11 the first batch of McGraw's men will leave here for the training camp, while the others will start south from St. Louis on February 20. The Highlanders, who will get into fighting trim at Athens, Ga., will report to Manager Chase there about March 1, and the Brooklyns will lumber up at Hot Springs, Ark., where Manager Dahlen will be the first to take the baths, early next week, together with several of his pitchers.

The Chicago Cubs will arrive in New Orleans on March 1 for several weeks of hard work and the Chicago White Sox instead of making the usual journey to California will prepare for the American league race at Mineral Wells, Tex. The Pittsburghs after a sojourn at West Baden will line up on their own grounds at Hot Springs, Ark., on March 17, preparatory to the usual exhibition tour through western cities.

The Boston Nationals, under Fred Tompkins, will themselves at Augusta, Ga., and the Boston Americans, led by President John I. Taylor and Manager Donovan, will visit the Pacific coast.

HOUCK KNOCKED OUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Willie Houck, the Philadelphia featherweight, was knocked out in the seventh round of a 10-round bout by Young Dyson of Boston, at the Brown gymnasium here last night.

It was a fast fight. Continual pounding about the stomach and kidneys weakened Houck and a left hook to the stomach put him down for the full count.

HARD HITTING WELTERWEIGHT TO MEET HARRY LEWIS

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Willie Lewis, the hard hitting welterweight of this city, will soon join the American colony of fighters in gay Paree. Willie has been matched to meet Harry Lewis, March 4, in a finish fight. He has been guaranteed $3000, with the privilege of accepting 80 per cent. of the gross receipts. Willie made a great reputation while in Paris a year ago. He met and defeated several welterweight middleweights and two heavies, while in the Parisian city. When in good condition he is one of the best welterweights in the world, but Willie is not overfond of training and many times has appeared in the ring in poor condition. He was severely concussed by the critics for his poor showing in his battle with the Dixie Kid held in this city recently. The hard panning seems to have done him some good. Since then Lewis has been putting some new tricks in his foundation and is now in great shape.
